(H) Varallo Sesia, marzo 1934 (dep.: 12 agosto 1847)

Nel corso dei lavori di sistemazione dell'ospedale dalla SS. Trinità, scavando presso le fondamenta del fabbricato alcuni operai dell'Impresa Fornaroli di Abbiategrasso urtarono col loro piccone una cassetta di piombo dalla quale uscirono diverse monete d'oro e d'argento. Segnalate una moneta AV da 10 lire 1833, dell'epoca di Carlo Alberto di Savoia, insieme ad altre monete AR da 5, 2 e 1 lire, oltre ad altri spezzati.

Una pergamena contenuta al suo interno spiegava che la cassetta era stata murata dal conte Benedetto Carelli in occasione della posa della prima pietra per la costruzione dell'ospedale in questione, avvenuta solennemente il 12 agosto 1847.

(H) Vercelli, dal territorio, n.s. (ante 1906) (dep.: c. 1370 (per MEC 12, p. 684) o c. 1380 (per MARCHISIO 1906))

Ripostiglio di incerta consistenza, contenente monete, smalti e altri oggetti coevi non meglio noti, proveniente da una località imprecisata del Vercellese orientale. Il Marchisio (MARCHISIO 1906, p. 108) avrebbe visionato 17 AV + 76 AR da un venditore, ipotizzando che i materiali venissero da qualche vecchia chiesa o cappella.

Composizione:

- monete AV

- Firenze, 6 fiorini (maestro per l'oro Francesco Bartolini di Bartolino, 1360-61);
- Genova, 5 genovini (Simone Boccanegra, 1339-44 e/o 1356-63;
- Venezia, 6 ducati (3 Andrea Dandolo, 1343-51; 1 Giovanni Gradenigo, 1355-56; 1 Marco Cornaro, 1365-68; 1 Andrea Contarini, 1368-82);

- monete AR

- Milano, 76 grossi pegioni (per MARCHISIO 1906, doppi grossi e grossi) con stelle e rosette (Galeazzo II Visconti, 1354-78; Bernabò Visconti, 1354-85), emissione databile tra il 1355 c. e la metà degli anni Sessanta del XIV secolo.

(SF) Vercelli, Palazzo Centoris, scavi 2011-12 (dep.: n.s.)

Diverse monete di età medievale da scavi.

- US 154: denaro a nome di henricus, zecca di Pavia (illustrato);

- dalla lente di livellamento US 164 – posta al di sopra dello strato US 165, affiorante al di sotto di 164 e 166 – vengono un frammento di pietra ollare e ben tre monete; una di esse è riconoscibile in un denaro comunale della zecca di Bergamo a nome di Federico II di Svevia (illustrato);
- US 202: formato da due matrici diverse, ma unificato al sommo da una cima compatta a causa della frequentazione, restituisce una moneta, un esemplare che nella decorazione del campo ricorda monete coniate dalla zecca podestarile del Comune di Mantova;
- nell'area ora ricompresa dal vano T1, a E del tramezzo 170, si accumula l'US 171 già richiamata, microsequenza di lenti millimetriche di terriccio eterogeneo solo parzialmente conservata per via delle azioni successive e dunque scavata in un'unica soluzione; dalla sua porzione superiore (terriccio bruno limoso), viene una moneta non meglio identificata e ceramica acroma; mentre da quella inferiore un frammento di ceramica con vetrina sparsa solo esterna che potrebbe suggerire un avvio della sequenza stratigrafica tra 170 e 151 fin dal Duecento;
- US 108: 6 monete, non identificabili; tra esse, forse 1 denaro di Asti e 1 grosso a nome di Federico II di Svevia;
- in T1 si stese l'US 102, strato di terriccio limo sabbioso dallo scheletro eterogeneo, da cui – tra l'altro – ceramica graffita marrone-lionata e 5 monete; di queste ultime, dopo la pulitura sono leggibili: 1) un grosso da 5 soldi di Galeazzo Maria Sforza, zecca di Milano; 2) un quarto di Besso Ferrero Fieschi (1559-1584) giudicato successivo al 1575, quando sul diritto comparve il titolo di marchese di Masserano e Crevacuore (illustrato); 3) un cd. quarto (ma probabilmente terlina) di Margherita Paleologa e del figlio Guglielmo Gonzaga, zecca di Casale Monferrato (illustrato).

Bibl.: PANERO, PISTAN 2014 (ma descrizioni delle monete approssimative e pezzi non sempre riconosciuti correttamente); ODDONE 2022, n. 8 (cita per la possibile presenza di monete di Asti).

Discovery of the find: fortuitous discovery, unknow circumstances; discovery during archaeological Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: urban settlement (oppidum, colony, town)

(SF) Vercelli, via Duomo, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

Da scavo stratigrafico, rinvenimenti sporadici di monete di età romana e medievale.

- riempimento 51.14

- una moneta dell'imperatore Aureliano (270-275), in associazione con pietra ollare, acroma romana e frammenti di laterizi romani. Il conio (diametro 20.8 mm) corrisponde al tipo di antoniniano con al diritto l'effigie dell'imperatore radiato e volto a destra (si intravedono ancora, a sx, le lettere IMPAV[REL]IA[NVS] e, al rovescio, le figure stanti del Sole o Giove (volto a sx) che pone un globo all'imperatore (volto a dx);

- US 14.7

- strato di limo sabbioso bruno con un denaro di Federico II imperatore e re d'Italia (1220-1250, diametro 14.6 mm). Al diritto, nel campo entro cerchio a trattini obliqui, FE / RIC / N, con legenda all'intorno ritagliata, ma ricostruibile come [+] AVCV[STVSCE], con C ed S coricate rispettivamente verso destra e verso sinistra ed A senza trattino orizzontale; al rovescio + IN[P]EPA[TOP] e, nel campo, P · A / P · A / I, con A senza trattino (CNI 4, p. 494 n. 17). Illustrata in PISTAN 2020, tav. 7 (p. 56);

- US 10.4

- moneta (diametro 22 mm) molto rovinata su ambo i lati, ma nella parte superiore di uno di essi si conserva abbastanza bene una corona: la base di quest'ultima, ad arco di cerchio con fascia interna concentrica cava, corrisponde bene, ad esempio, a una moneta di Carlo VII di Francia (serie coniata dal 1436 al 1461: DUMAS 1988, tav. XXVIII, 20-1-3 e p. 380, 20-1-3); la corona del confronto ha 5 punte come quella qui rinvenuta, ma in quel caso terminano con dei gigli anziché con un pomello. Stessa analogia della fascia inferiore della corona in uno scudo d'oro di Carlo VI (1380-1420: BOMPAIRE, DUMAS 2000, p. 215, fig. 45). Le lettere che si intravedono al centro del campo invece ricordano quelle visibili nella stessa posizione (e anche qui sovrastate da una corona, seppur diversa) in monete di Filippo il Bello (es. FOR/TIS o REGA/LIS: BOMPAIRE, DUMAS 2000, p. 606, figg. 139-140);

- US 10.4, sezione 1

- dalla ripulitura, sesino AR di Filippo Maria Visconti (1412-1447) ben conservato (diametro 18.2 mm): al diritto mostra la biscia entro cornice circolare puntinata, con all'esterno + (tra due anelli) FILIPVS + MARIA; al rovescio, croce con foglie di cardo entro cornice analoga, circondata dalla legenda [+ D]VX + MEDIOLANI [...], con la N specchiata (tipo CNI 5, p. 136 n. 176). Illustrata in PISTAN 2020, tav. 9 (p. 58).

Bibl.: PISTAN 2020 (cita i materiali con schedatura imprecisa e bibliografia obsoleta, illustrando solo il denaro di Pavia e il sesino di Milano).

(H) Minervino Murge, ex tenuta Corsi, 18 febbraio 1992 (dep.: III sec. a.C.)

Nel corso delle esplorazioni archeologiche condotte fin dai primi mesi del 1992 presso la ex tenuta Corsi, ai piedi del moderno centro abitato di Minervino Murge, sono emersi un sepolcreto integro di età arcaica, lembi di necropoli del IV-III sec. a.C. e i resti di un edificio della stessa epoca. Il fabbricato, composto di più vani, comprendeva alcuni ambienti di servizio e uno interpretato come magazzino delle derrate, per via della presenza di alcuni dolii.

Sotto il battuto pavimentale di quest'ultimo, a una profondità di circa 20 cm, il 18 febbraio 1992 è stata rinvenuta una brocchetta a decorazione lineare, non integra, contenente 16 stateri in argento: 6 di Suessa, 3 di Teanum Sidicinum, 5 di Nucera Alfaterna, 1 di Arpi e 1 di Corinto.

Considerando che la brocchetta fu trovata rotta, è probabile che il ripostiglio non fosse integro, e che dunque i materiali recuperati costituiscano solo una parte di quelli effettivamente occultati.

(H) Francavilla Fontana, contrada Cistonara, 21 settembre 1926 (dep.: III sec. a.C.)

Il tesoretto che si presenta in questa sede fu rinvenuto a Francavilla Fontana (BR) il 21 settembre del 1926, in contrada Cistonara, nella proprietà del sig. Cosimo Magrì. Le informazioni relative al ritrovamento le ricaviamo da una relazione dal custode Egidio Bernini il quale, su disposizione del Soprintendente, si recò in loco, proprio per recuperare il gruzzolo: il bambino Magrì Cosimo di Cosimo di anni 5 e di De Fazio Immacolata, stava trastullandosi nei pressi della sua abitazione in "Contrada Cistonara".... e muoveva qualche po' di terreno attorno ad una lastra di pietra molto pesante che ivi trovavasi al piano di campagna. Ad un tratto, da sotto la pietra, vide uscir fuori qualche moneta che portò subito al padre, il quale, recatosi sul posto della scoperta e sollevata la lastra, ne estraeva molte altre che in tutto potevano essere 120 circa.

Ripostiglio con 148 AV:

- 1 hystamenon AV Basilio II e Costantino VIII/Costantinopoli;
- 147 tari AV arabo-longobardi di Salerno (976-999; per MEC 14, forse anche Amalfi) ad imitazione del quarto di dīnār del califfo arabo al-Mu'izz, Gisulfo I, Pandolfo padre e figlio, Mansone III, Giovanni.

Il ripostiglio fu recuperato nel 1965, nel corso della campagna di scavi effettuata dalla Missione Belga a Ordona tra il 1965 e il 1966. Era custodito all'interno di un vaso di argilla rinvenuto in frammenti, occultato non molto in profondità nello strato di riempimento dell'entrata sud dell'anfiteatro romano.

Il suo occultamento fu datato dagli scopritori tra il 976 e il 999, e tale cronologia fu considerata il terminus ante quem per la distruzione completa dell'anfiteatro, con la colmata mediante detriti dei varchi e delle rampe di accesso.

(H) Cursi, 1884 (dep.: post 1556)

Nel 1884 furono ritrovate svariate monete d'oro in un giardinetto adiacente alla dimora di Achille De Donno in occasione di alcuni lavori di posa delle fondamenta per una nuova costruzione presso altre fondazioni più antiche di cui nessuno fino ad allora conosceva l'esistenza. A circa 75 cm sotto terra gli operai incaricati dello sterro si imbattono in una “pignata di Cutrofiano” (recipiente in creta) ancora sigillata.

Le monete vennero inizialmente spartite tra gli operai, per essere poi recuperate parzialmente in seguito una volta che il De Donno venne a conoscenza della scoperta.

Furono rintracciate 112 AV e 2 AR, ma si ipotizzò che il ripostiglio ammontasse inizialmente a 373 esemplari. Le monete recuperate datano dal 1388 al 1556. La più antica è di Sigismondo re d'Ungheria, mentre l'ultima è da ascrivere a Carlo V d'Austria. La maggior concentrazione degli esemplari è relativa al secondo quarto del XVI secolo

Composizione (descrizione sommaria):

- 1 es. Sigismondo re d'Ungheria, 1388;
- 1 es. Ferrante II di Napoli;
- 1 es. Ludovico II di Saluzzo, zecca di Carmagola;
- 1 es. Luigi XIII re di Francia;
- 2 es. Isabella e Ferdinando il Cattolico di Spagna e di Napoli;
- 1 es. Ladislao d'Ungheria;
- 1 es. Alfonso I d'Este, zecca di Ferrara;
- 1 es. Salisburgo città dell'Arciducato d'Austria;
- 49 es. Carlo V re di Napoli e imperatore
- 1 es. papa Leone X, 1516, zecca di Bologna;
- 1 es. Giulia Varano duchessa di Camerino, 1523-35;
- 42 es. doge Andrea Gritti, zecca di Venezia, 1523-38;
- 1 es. Francesco II Gonzaga, zecca di Mantova, 1524-40;
- 1 es. Ferdinando d'Austria; 1530;
- 2 es. Alessandro de' Medici, zecca di Firenze, 1531-37;
- 3 es. papa Paolo III, 1534-49;
- 2 es. doge Pietro Lanzo, zecca di Venezia, 1539-49;

- 1 es. Francesco III Gonzaga, zecca di Mantova, 1540-50.

Le monete recuperate furono assegnate per lo studio al duca Sigismondo Castromediano, che nel 1885 pubblicò un opuscolo con una sintetica ma imprecisa descrizione dei materiali.

Cons.: Disperso. Gli esemplari recuperati sarebbero stati in seguito consegnati al Museo Nazionale della Magna Grecia di Taranto, ma una ricognizione realizzata in tempi recenti non ha permesso di rintracciarli.

(SF) Martano, fraz. Apigliano, scavi 1997-2009 (dep.: n.s.)

Nel corso degli scavi condotti tra il 1997 e il 2009, complessivamente 91 monete databili dal X al XVI secolo, rinvenute sia all'interno di sepolture o in stretta connessione con contesti funerari dell'area cimiteriale (57 esemplari) che in settori diversi dell'insediamento (34 esemplari).

Oltre ad alcune monete in cattivo stato di conservazione, in alcuni casi frammentate, solo genericamente attribuibili ad età medievale, si registra un nutrito gruppo di denari tornesi emessi, nel Principato di Acaia e nel Despotato d'Epiro, da Guglielmo di Villehardouin, Filippo di Taranto, Filippo di Savoia e Matilde di Hainaut tra la seconda metà del XIII ed il primo ventennio del secolo successivo. Con l'eccezione di pochi esemplari frutto di recupero di superficie, la maggior parte di essi proviene da strati di crollo, o dal terreno immediatamente sottostante il livello di superficie, pertinenti all'area della chiesa con annesso cimitero, presumibilmente dedicata a San Nicola, la cui struttura si è delineata grazie ai resti messi in luce nel corso dell'indagine.

I denari tornesi si affiancano a denari di età sveva ed angioina, emessi nelle zecche di Brindisi e Napoli da Federico II, Carlo I d'Angiò e Carlo II d'Angiò (rispettivamente: tre denari databili tra il 1236 ed il 1243; un denaro del 1266-1278; due denari del 1290-1298) recuperati in strati di superficie.

Più in dettaglio:

- denari tornesi: Guglielmo di Villehardouin: Clarentia, 1246-1278; Filippo di Taranto: tre denari battuti a Naupactos nel 1294-1313 e uno a Clarentia nel 1307-1313; Filippo di Savoia: Clarentia, 1301-1307; Matilde di Hainaut: Clarentia, 1316-1321;
- forte concentrazione di esemplari ascrivibili al XIII ed al XIV secolo: redici monete medievali non identificabili; un denaro veneziano, di incerta attribuzione, datato tra il 1172 ed il 1205; otto monete emesse in età sveva (Federico II: due denari della zecca di Verona del 1218-1250, un denaro battuto a Brindisi nel 1249) ed angioina (Carlo I d'Angiò: quattro denari della zecca di Brindisi conati tra il 1266 ed il 1278; Carlo II d'Angiò: un denaro regale, coniato a Napoli, datato al 1290-1292); trentacinque denari tornesi che, con l'eccezione di diciotto esemplari di incerta attribuzione, si distribuiscono tra il Principato di Acaia (Guglielmo di Villheardouin: Clarentia, 1246-1278; Carlo I o Carlo II d'Angiò: due esemplari battuti a Clarentia tra il 1278 ed il 1289; Filippo di Savoia: tre denari di Clarentia, 1301-1307), il Ducato di Atene (Guido II De la Roche: Thebae, post 1280; Guglielmo I De La Roche: quattro esemplari della zecca di Thebae, 1280-1287; Guglielmo I o Guido II de La Roche: un denaro battuto a Thebae tra il 1280 ed il 1308), il Despotato d'Epiro (Filippo di Taranto: quattro esemplari della zecca di Naupactos, 1294-1313; ancora a Filippo di Taranto va attribuito un denaro emesso nello stesso ambito cronologico a Clarentia o Naupactos);
- quattro folles di Costantino VII della zecca di Constantinopolis emessi tra il 914 ed il 950
- un sestino di Giovanna e Carlo d'Austria (Napoli, 1516-1519);
- nel riempimento della fondazione della chiesa di san Lorenzo:
 - un cd. bianchetto di Guglielmo II Paleologo (Casale Monferrato, 1494-1518);
 - un tre cavalli di Carlo V (Napoli, 1547);
- da uno strato di accumulo cinquecentesco relativo alla chiesa di san Lorenzo:
 - denaro di Carlo I d'Angiò (Brindisi o Messina, post 1278), difficilmente riconducibile a un precedente impianto di età medievale
- esemplari residuali:
 - un asse romano di età medio-imperiale;
- rinvenimento episodico:
 - un 10 centesimi di Vittorio Emanuele III del 1939 rinvenuto in superficie.

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

(H) Muro Leccese, loc. Palombara, marzo 1996 (dep.: post 475/0 a.C.)

Nel marzo del 1996, nel corso di lavori di sistemazione delle aree sottoposte a vincolo archeologico in località Palombara, alcuni operai del Comune di Muro Leccese rinvennero, secondo quanto allora riferito, 10 monete d'argento, due vasetti a vernice nera e uno acromo.

Secondo ulteriori informazioni fornite da alcuni degli scopritori le monete sarebbero state deposte all'interno di un vasetto fittile, rotto al momento della scoperta e di cui sono stati recuperati solo alcuni frammenti. Vasi e monete furono consegnate al Comune e queste ultime, per iniziativa dell'allora Assessore alla Cultura Luigi Calò, furono immediatamente schedate e fotografate da R. Basurto, che in seguito presentò anche una relazione dettagliata del suo lavoro al Comune. La consegna degli incusi alla Soprintendenza Archeologia della Puglia è avvenuta il 17 aprile 1997.

(H) Nardò, loc. Frascione, 2 luglio 2008 (dep.: post 44 a.C.)

Il ripostiglio è stato recuperato il 2 luglio 2008 in località Frascione, a Nardò (LE), nel corso di scavi regolari frutto di una collaborazione tra la cattedra di Archeologia Subacquea dall'Università del Salento e la Soprintendenza per i beni archeologici della Puglia.

Il vaso contenente il gruzzolo, un unguentario acromo, fu occultato nel cavo di fondazione della struttura muraria USM 11, attribuibile ad un impianto di età repubblicana databile, sulla base dei materiali ceramici, a partire dal II sec. e con particolare sviluppo nel corso del I sec. a.C. Al momento del recupero le monete contenute nel vaso formavano un unico ammasso fortemente cementato dai prodotti di corrosione, e interessato a livello superficiale da una concrezione a matrice calcarea e da residui del terreno sabbioso che colmava l'interno del vaso non occupato dalle monete. All'interno dell'unguentario erano depositate 124 monete d'argento romano-repubblicane (122 denari e 2 quinari), databili tra il 150 ed il 44 a.C. (secondo la cronologia del Crawford) ed un denario emesso in Numidia a nome del re Giuba I (60-46 a.C.).

(H) Surbo, c. 9 marzo 1928 (dep.: III sec. a.C.)

Le notizie relative alle circostanze del rinvenimento a Surbo (LE) del tesoretto in esame sono estremamente scarse. Infatti, da un telegramma del Questore di Lecce inviato al Soprintendente Quagliati il 29.03.1928, si apprende del sequestro di settanta monete greco-romane in Surbo contrada Cafaro, reperite intorno al 9 marzo in proprietà Mortella Giuseppe, dal contadino Mancarella Enrico fu Raffaele, di anni 29. Il materiale fu recuperato grazie alla pubblicizzazione dello stesso, tramite una vendita, pertanto la notizia pervenne agli Organi di Polizia che provvidero ad effettuare il sequestro.

Il 30 marzo, il giorno dopo l'invio del telegramma, Quintino Quagliati rispose al Questore ringraziandolo vivamente ed invitandolo a tenere a disposizione della Soprintendenza le monete che sarebbero state di lì a poco ritirate, circostanza che naturalmente avvenne ma di cui non si conserva traccia scritta.

Il tesoretto in questione è il secondo di cui si ha notizia come proveniente da quest'area. In precedenza, nel 1897, fu recuperato un altro gruzzolo composto, all'origine, da quasi mille monete di epoca romano-repubblicana, occultato probabilmente intorno al 49-45 a.C. Il tesoretto, non ancora edito, è conservato presso il Museo Provinciale di Lecce.

Nell'area sono stati rinvenuti anche reperti archeologici che lasciano intravedere una certa vitalità del luogo in tempi antichi, anche se, allo stato attuale, non sono state effettuate indagini sistematiche.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: urban settlement (oppidum, colony, town)

(H) Taranto, contrada Santa Lucia, necropoli, 4 aprile 1897 (dep.: post 114 a.C.)

Nel corso di lavori di scavo fatti eseguire dal Genio Militare per l'impianto degli stabilimenti dell'Arsenale fu rinvenuto, il 4 aprile 1897, un tesoretto di 102 denari AR romani. Negli spostamenti subiti dai materiali tra il Museo Nazionale di Napoli – dove furono inizialmente inviati – e la definitiva sede del Museo Archeologico Nazionale di Taranto andarono dispersi tre esemplari, riducendo quindi a solo 99 esemplari le consistenze attuali.

Cons.: Taranto, Museo Archeologico Nazionale (99 esemplari). Tre esemplari dispersi.

(H) Taranto, dal territorio, n.s. (dep.: c. 1248-49)

Ripostiglio, con 224 denari di Federico II di Svevia, di cui 1 di una tipologia comunemente datata al 1244 c. (TRAVAINI 1993, n. 37; SPAHR 1976, n. 130) e 223 di una tipologia datata al 1248, con alcune varianti (TRAVAINI 1993, nn. 45-46; SPAHR 1976, n. 144).

Pubblicato in LIBERO MANGIERI 1995, questo A. aggiunse alle monete del ripostiglio un denaro tornese di Clarentia a nome di Giovanni di Anjou-Gravina (1318-33), ritenuto però un'intrusione in MEC 14, p. 423 n. 103.

Il ripostiglio è stato individuato tra le monete presenti al Museo Civico di Taranto. Non esistono documenti a proposito del suo ritrovamento.

MEC 14, p. 423 n. 103: The hoard is yet another typical hoard of the time of Frederick II, almost a single-type one like the Suio and the Naples, near, nineteenth-century hoards.

Cons.: Taranto, Museo Archeologico Nazionale (ingresso negli anni '60 del XX secolo).

(H) Taranto, in corrispondenza dell'attuale via Pitagora, 1915 (dep.: post 491 d.C.)

Ritrovamento di 32 solidi AV degli imperatori bizantini Leone I (457-474), Zenone Isaurico (474-491) e Anastasio I (491-518).

I materiali furono ritrovati in un terreno del conte Pietro D'Ayala Valva, in un'area corrispondente all'attuale via Pitagora. In base alle leggi vigenti all'epoca, la metà delle monete ritrovate fu ceduta al proprietario del fondo in cui furono scoperte, mentre le restanti confluirono al Museo Archeologico di Taranto, dove però nel corso degli anni andarono dispersi 8 esemplari.

Cons.: In parte disperso, solo 8 esemplari presso il Museo Archeologico Nazionale di Taranto.

(H) Taranto, nei pressi del convento dei Celestini, 1927 (dep.: metà XIV sec. (?))

Ripostiglio – in parte disperso – formatosi prevalentemente intorno alla metà del XIV secolo, con elementi intrusivi posteriori di fine XV-inizio XVI secolo.

Notati: 21 gigliati di Roberto d'Angiò, zecca di Napoli; 859 (o 852) denari tornesi della Grecia Franca (segnalati 472 del Principato di Acaia; 173 del Ducato di Atene; 87 di Filippo di Taranto, Despotato di Romania a Lepanto; 2 di Giovanni II Angelos, Sevastokrator in Tessalia a Neopatrasso; 1 di Giovanni II Orsini, Despotato d'Epiro ad Arta; 2 imitativi; 2 di zecca incerta); 1 mezzo denaro di Federico II di Svevia; 1 cavallo, di Ferdinando I (1458-1494) o Ferdinando III (1496-1501) d'Aragona, zecca di Napoli; 2 monete romane di età imperiale (1 asse di Alessandro Severo; 1 AE3 di Costantino II Augusto e Gallo Cesare).

Tra i denari tornesi, notato 1 di Carlo I d'Angiò come conte di Provenza (1246-1285).

Si tratta del cosiddetto tesoretto "Taranto Celestini".

Cons.: Parzialmente disperso.

Bibl.: TRAVAGLINI 1994, p. 70; MEC 14, p. 423 n. 104 (cita solo i 21 gigliati e gli 859 denari tornesi); BAKER 2001 (per edizione di una ampia parte dei materiali); CECCHINATO 2010, p. 129 (cita); DEGASPERI 2011, p. 10, nota 33 (cita per la presenza di denari tornesi); DEGASPERI 2015 (per nuova interpretazione dei materiali in chiave devozionale, soprattutto in relazione alla raffigurazione di San Michele Arcangelo; con prospetto a p. 263 della parte di ripostiglio studiata in BAKER 2001).

(H) Taranto, quartiere Montegranaro, 1951 (dep.: n.s.)

Tesoretto scoperto nel 1951, contenuto e circostanze del ritrovamento non perfettamente documentate.

Al Museo di Taranto confluirono 33 monete d'argento, tutti stateri di zecche della Magna Grecia: 6 di Tarentum, 1 di Laos, 10 di Metapontum, 2 di Sybaris, 4 di Caulonia, 10 di Croton.

La consistenza al 1987 era però di soli 32 esemplari, essendo venuto a mancare uno statere di Metapontum già nell'agosto 1977, come ebbe modo di accertare l'allora soprintendente F.G. Lo Porto in occasione di una ricognizione sistematica del patrimonio numismatico del Museo di Taranto.

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: other place of worship (temple, sanctuary, cave)

(H) Pula, area archeologica di Nora, cd. Tempio romano, area PS1, scavi 2010 (dep.: c. 264-241 a.C. (?))

All'interno dell'ambiente PS1 (US 23068), già teatro della scoperta, durante la campagna 2008, di un ripostiglio di didrammi romano campani (v. ritrovamento n. 9502), piccolo gruzzolo costituito da 8 monete in bronzo, ampiamente corrose. I reperti sarebbero da attribuire ad emissioni in bronzo puniche databili tra il 264 ed il 241 a.C., in parte realizzate in Sardegna, in parte a Cartagine.

Composizione:

- Autorità indeterminata. Zecca incerta. 264-241 (?) a.C. Æ; g. 3,57; mm 18; h ? (Inv. 4046);
- Autorità indeterminata. Zecca incerta. 264-241 (?) a.C. Æ; g. 9,35; mm 26; h ? (Inv. 4047);

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: other place of worship (temple, sanctuary, cave)

(SF) Pula, area archeologica di Nora, foro romano, n.s. (dep.: fine IV sec. a.C. – fine IV sec. d.C.)

Lo scavo dell'area del foro ha restituito complessivamente 40 monete, che si distribuiscono cronologicamente tra la fine del IV sec. a.C. e la fine del IV sec. d.C.: 4 es. punici, 1 es. di età romana repubblicana, 32 es. di età romana imperiale, 3 es. illeggibili.

Al di là di un sesterzio di Adriano, sporadico, proveniente dal settore III, in prossimità dell'ingresso orientale del foro, tutti i reperti monetali sono riferibili all'area della piazza e degli edifici ad essa circostanti. Per quanto l'arco cronologico coperto sia piuttosto ampio, i nominali si concentrano sostanzialmente in tre periodi ben distinti, corrispondenti anche in pianta a diverse ubicazioni: da un lato abbiamo infatti quattro emissioni preromane, provenienti dall'area del quartiere arcaico sotto la piazza (settore dall'altro vi sono cinque monete emesse tra il I e il III secolo, tutte provenienti dall'area del tempio (settore II); e infine 27 monete distribuite lungo tutto il IV sec. d.C., da Massimiano Erculeo ad Arcadio, rinvenute presso il portico occidentale (settore IV), che rappresentano le attestazioni più tarde.

I), che sembrano costituire le più antiche presenze monetali finora note per il centro di Nora;

(D) Pula, area archeologica di Nora, settore orientale, n.s. (dep.: 282/3 d.C.)

Nel corso degli scavi archeologici effettuati dall'Università di Padova nel settore orientale dell'antica Nora, gruppo di antoniniani sigillati in uno strato di malta che ne rendeva impossibile il recupero.

Per ASOLATI, BONETTO, ZARA 2018 non si può trattare dunque di un ripostiglio, ma con ogni probabilità il nucleo va inteso come un deposito rituale connesso con una delle fasi dell'edificio in cui è stato scoperto. Considerata la composizione, il deposito può essere datato con grande precisione, tra la fine del 282 e l'inizio del 283 d.C., nel pieno di una fase di evoluzione urbana della città antica.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(H) Orosei, dal golfo, 2019-20 (dep.: post 1712)

Ritrovamento di 32 AV (27 spagnoli, 3 francesi e 2 piemontesi) e 14 AR (tutti spagnoli) dal Golfo di Orosei, probabilmente riconducibile a un naufragio. Le monete sono datate tra il 1556 e il 1712.

Le prime undici monete erano state notate da un turista tedesco durante un'immersione, che le aveva segnalate alle autorità. La successiva campagna di rilevazioni e ricerca si è prolungata per tutta l'estate del 2019, sia sulle aree marine protette che nei siti archeologici subacquei già noti del Golfo di Orosei. Oltre alle monete sono stati recuperati anche frammenti ceramici di anfore, uno in ceramica decorata a smalti e uno di metallo, tutti di presunta epoca romana; inoltre, dai fondali sono riemersi un fodero di spada, alcune suppellettili, e un timone che si suppone possa essere appartenuto ad un veliero spagnolo.

I materiali sono stati recuperati dai sommozzatori dei Carabinieri di Cagliari, assieme agli esperti archeologi della Soprintendenza di Sassari e Nuoro.

(SF) Florinas, loc. Giorrè, scavi 1991 (dep.: IV sec. a.C.)

Nel 1991 vengono eseguiti scavi dalla Soprintendenza Archeologica per le Province di Sassari e Nuoro nella località denominata Giorrè, già nota per rinvenimenti sporadici di monete puniche e per sepolture in anfora di tradizione punico-romana, con corredi tombali databili agli ultimi due secoli della repubblica – primi decenni dell'impero.

Gli scavi eseguiti nel 1991 hanno portato alla luce i resti di un luogo di culto frequentato dall'età nuragica fino alla tarda repubblica. Le monete rinvenute in quella occasione coprono un periodo che dalla metà del IV secolo a.C. giunge fino al periodo della rivolta dei mercenari in Sardegna (241- 238 a.C.). Se potessero essere considerate, nel caso in questione, delle offerte, si avrebbe conferma della frequentazione del sito anche da parte di genti di cultura punica e sardo-punica.

Particolare importanza riveste, nel contesto illustrato, il tipo «Core / toro e astro», emissione tradizionalmente datato dalla critica al 216 a.C. e posto in relazione con le vicende della rivolta di Ampsicora. Alcuni studi ne propongono la datazione del 241-238 a.C., e ne attribuiscono la coniazione ai mercenari di stanza in Sardegna che si ribellano all' autorità di Cartagine la quale, nello stesso periodo, era impegnata a fronteggiare una analoga rivolta nel territorio metropolitano.

- emissioni in Sicilia? (zecca di Cartagine?), c. 375/60-340/25(?) a.C., (SNGCop 109-113)

- 6 es. in bronzo, D/ testa di Core a s., R/ cavallo a d. con dietro, al centro, albero di palma;

- 1 es. in bronzo, D/ testa di Core a s., nel campo, globetto; R/ Cavallo a d. con dietro, al centro, albero di palma; nel campo, a d., quattro globetti(?);
- zecca di Sardegna riconducibile alla rivolta dei mercenari, c. 241-238 a.C., (SNGEve 272)
- 1 es. in bronzo, D/ testa di Core a s., R/ Toro a d., con sopra astro radiato.

(H) Osilo, 1889 (dep.: metà III sec. d.C.)

Il FIORELLI (1890a) riporta: Il R.Commissario alle antichità, prof. F. Vivonet, fece sapere che nel territorio di Osilo, un proprietario di quel villaggio, volendo, sulla fine della scorsa estate, praticare uno scavo per trovare una vena d'acqua, alle falde orientali del monte di Bonaria nella regione Sambizu, alla profondità di m. 1 si imbatté in un pezzo di vaso fittile. Sospettando che ciò potesse essere indizio di maggior trovamento, ordinò si procedesse con la maggiore circospezione; ed infatti presto si rinvenne un grande vaso fittile, pieno di monete. Pare che ve ne fossero circa 1200; ma un centinaio andarono divise tra varie persone. Le più antiche, secondo quanto riferì al Commissario il sig. ispettore Vallero, appartengono agli Antonini e sono assai fruste. Le più recenti sono di Gallieno e di Salonina. Tra questi due estremi trovansi nummi di Alessandro Severo, Giulia Mammea, Massimino I, Gordiano III, i due Filippi, Traiano Decio e Vibio Volusiano. Gli esemplari sono ben conservati e più volte ripetuti.

Un esame dei Registri di Inventario del Museo G.A.Sanna ha messo in evidenza la presenza di alcune monete attribuibili a questi imperatori nel medagliere e provenienti da Osilo.

Nel 1891, infatti, nell'anno successivo a quello della notizia del rinvenimento, il prof. Viridis Prosperi donava al museo un "bronzo" di Adriano, 2 di Faustina II, uno di Marco Aurelio, 34 di Severo Alessandro, 6 di Giulia Mamea, 9 di Massimino I, 38 di Gordiano III, 29 di Filippo I, 5 di Otacilia, 5 di Ostiliano, 19 di Treboniano Gallo, 1 di Mariniana, 12 di Gallieno, 2 di Salonina. Non vi è traccia delle 1200 monete rinvenute nel 1889;.

(SF) Sorso, villaggio medievale di Geridu, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

Monete rinvenute come sporadici nella stratificazione relativa alle frequentazioni e al primo abbandono di un villaggio rurale poco a nord di Sassari, tra il tardo Duecento ed il pieno Trecento. Tra le monete dello scavo si nota un addensamento cronologico dei reperti emessi tra la metà del XIII secolo e la metà circa del successivo. Le monete di Pisa e di Genova presenti sembrano risalire quasi tutte al periodo anteriore al 1330, quando gli Aragonesi vietarono la circolazione di moneta straniera sull'isola.

- US 3063, piano d'uso dell'edificio 1, metà XIV secolo: 1 denaro di Genova, CVNRAD •REX[?] con crescente nel 1° quarto (tipo Baldassarri IVe var). Altri materiali in associazione: Maiolica arcaica valdarnese trecentesca e ceramica catalana della metà circa del XIV secolo;
- US 3205, deposito di frequentazione sui crolli, fine XIV secolo: 1 denaro di Genova per Simone Boccanegra I Doge, 1339-1344. Altri materiali in associazione: ceramica catalana in blu e lustro «tipo Pula»;
- US 3527, strato di abbandono, databile al pieno Trecento: 1 grosso «da 6 denari» di Genova, •CIVITAS•IANVA• / •CVNRADVSREX• e nel secondo quarto crescente;
- US 3543, strato di uso dell'edificio 4, primo quarto del XIV secolo circa: 1 grosso «da 4 denari» di Genova, CVNRAD1•REX•, con punto sotto imago e R con gambetta dritta ed I a T asimmetrica; nominale di incerta attribuzione, zecca di Pisa o Lucca, databile alla metà del XII secolo. Altri materiali in associazione: maiolica arcaica pisana e savonese di prima metà del Trecento; strato sigillato da crolli con monete aragonesi di Bonaria (1324-1327);
- US 3690: denaro di Lucca, terzo quarto del XII secolo.

Notati anche: asse di Tiberio; 2 antoniniani postumi (1,57 g; 1,49 g) commemorativi, emessi da Marcus Aurelius Quintillus (270 d.C.) a nome di Claudio il Gotico, zecca di Roma; aquilini, zecca di Pisa; diners di Jaume I e Jaume II d'Aragona, zecca di Barcellona; denaro alfonsino minuto di Giacomo II d'Aragona; 2 denari minuti (gr. 0,54; gr. 0,48) e 1 petacchina di Guglielmo di Narbona, zecca di Sassari, 1410-20 ca.; 4 mezzi soldi o da tre cagliaresi di Filippo III di Spagna, zecca di Cagliari.

(H) Stintino, nei pressi della spiaggia de La Pelosa, primi anni '70 del XX sec. (dep.: I sec. d.C.)

Si tratta di un ripostiglio monetale ritrovato in modo fortuito nei pressi della spiaggia de La Pelosa di Stintino nei primi anni Settanta del secolo scorso, mai editato prima. Tale gruzzolo è composto da denarii di produzione romana (II sec. a.C. – I sec. d.C.). Tra questi nominali sono presenti, in buon numero, esemplari “frazionati” e un nucleo di monetato legionario. L'insieme, per le sue tante specificità, risulta di grande interesse nel tentativo di gettar luce sulla circolazione monetale locale, riconducibile a una probabile presenza militare nel territorio del nord Sardegna conseguente a un più ampio movimento di militari tra l'Isola e altre zone del Mediterraneo soggette al dominio di Roma.

(SF) Villacidro, area della scomparsa chiesa di santa Maria di Leni, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

A Villacidro, nell'area della scomparsa chiesa di santa Maria di Leni, demolita a cavallo tra i secc. XIX e XX, sono emersi nuragici (mazze litiche), romani (coperture sepolcrali e vasellame in cocci), bizantini (metalli, tra cui un peso da 5 onces) e di età moderna (monete).

Consistenza incerta dei materiali numismatici recuperati. Sono state segnalate genericamente monete dei secc. XVI-XVIII, spagnole e sabaude, a cui deve però essere aggiunto anche un esemplare da 3 cagliaresi di Filippo II di Spagna (1598-1621) coniato nella zecca di Cagliari.

Notizia di 106 monete (105 AE, 1 AR) da diverse campagne di scavo condotte del 1952-53, 1955 e 1961 presso l'acropoli di Gela.

La maggior parte delle monete (92 es.) è collocabile tra l'ultimo venticinquennio del V sec. a. C. e l'età dionigiana, cioè l'ultimo periodo di floridezza economica e politica di Gela prima della distruzione cartaginese del 405 a.C., mentre le monete anteriori al 425 a.C. sono soltanto quattro e quelle di età postdionigiana ammontano a 10 esemplari.

Segnalate monete di Akragas (46 es.), Syrakosai (43 es.), Segesta (2 es.), Kamarina (5 es.), Gela (10 es.).

Per SOLE 2022 (pp. 29-30) si tratta dei primi rinvenimenti monetali dal sito, in quanto le indagini sistematiche avviate nel 1900 da Paolo Orsi non avevano individuato monete, anche se avevano contribuito ad identificare l'acropoli sul rilievo di Molino a Vento, cioè la propaggine orientale di quel pianoro dove sorse la colonia rodio-cretese di Gela nel 689-688 a.C.

Le monete provengono dal versante settentrionale dell'acropoli, interessato, prima, nel secondo venticinquennio del VI secolo a.C. ("prima fase urbana") e, poi, agli inizi del V secolo ("seconda fase urbana"), da un progetto di sistemazione urbanistica, che prevedeva l'articolazione in tre terrazze degradanti verso N, l'inserimento in una maglia regolare di stenopoi N-S e la divisione, mediante un asse di attraversamento E-O (la cosiddetta plateia), dal versante meridionale occupato dai grandi templi. A questa seguirono una fase di ricostruzione nella prima metà del IV sec. a.C. ("terza fase urbana") e una nella seconda metà del IV sec. a.C. ("quarta fase urbana"). Dopo l'ulteriore distruzione della città nel 282 a.C. per mano di Finzia, si assistette ad una significativa contrazione del popolamento.

(H) Gela, collina di Bitalemi, nei pressi della ex chiesa di santa Maria di Bethlem, scavi 1964 (dep.: ultimo quarto XIV sec.)

Da scavi condotti nel 1964 da Pietro Orlandini in un'area cimiteriale nei pressi dei resti della chiesa di santa Maria di Bethlem, sulla collina di Bitalemi, all'interno di una fossa comune, tra le ossa del bacino di due scheletri si rinvennero due mucchietti comprendenti rispettivamente 33 e 115 monete, cui aderivano brandelli dei sacchetti di lino che dovevano contenere queste monete.

L'analisi condotta da Giuseppe GUZZETTA (2022) sul nucleo di 115 monete ha messo in luce che si tratta più correttamente di 114 monete e una mezza moneta, tutte denari in bronzo, in uno stato di conservazione generalmente cattivo a causa della corrosione spesso avanzata o di consunzione dei tipi in parecchi degli esemplari più antichi. Le monete sono tutte siciliane e pertinenti a emissioni della zecca di Messina fatte tra il quadriennio finale del XIII secolo e gli anni Settanta del XIV:

- 24 denari MI di Federico III d'Aragona, re di Sicilia dal 1296 al 1337;
- 1 denaro MI di Ludovico d'Aragona, re di Sicilia dal 1342 al 1355;

- 76 denari MI di Federico IV d'Aragona detto il Semplice, re di Sicilia dal 1355 al 1377;
- 14 MI non attribuibili a causa della loro pessima conservazione.

(H) Mussomeli, ai piedi del castello, 1923 (dep.: XI sec. (post 456 Eg./1064))

Nel 1923, ai piedi del castello di Mussomeli (Caltanissetta), fu rinvenuto casualmente un ripostiglio di circa 124 rubāʿī d'oro (quarti di dīnār) del periodo di al-Mustanşir. Immediatamente sequestrato ai suoi scopritori – che consegnarono alle autorità 90 esemplari – esso pervenne, cinque anni dopo, al Museo Archeologico di Siracusa, grazie a Paolo Orsi.

Quasi tutte le monete sono state emesse a nome di al-Mustanşir (427 Eg./1035 – 487 Eg./1094), 41 delle quali del tipo detto “a ruota di carro” o “stellato”. Fanno eccezione 6 esemplari recanti il nome di al-Zahir – alcuni dei quali tuttavia postumi poiché battuti all’epoca del successore al-Mustanşir – e 3 monete di incerta lettura.

I rubāʿī di al-Zahir costituiscono le attestazioni più antiche dell’intero ritrovamento. A dispetto di una data spesso illeggibile, si collocano temporalmente alla fine del suo califfato.

Cons.: Siracusa, Museo Archeologico Regionale “Paolo Orsi” (solo 90 esemplari su 124, inv. 47835-47924, con l’annotazione ripostiglio o tesoretto di monete d’oro arabe rinvenuto a Mussomeli, e dopo lunghissime pratiche ritirato il 19-III-1928 dalla R. Soprintendenza dell’Arte Medievale di Palermo).

(SF) Mussomeli, loc. Polizzello, scavi anni ‘50 del XX sec. e anni 2000 (dep.: V-IV sec. a.C.)

Da scavi condotti negli anni ‘50 del XX secolo e negli anni 2000, sei monete recuperate:

- 2 tetras AE, zecca di Syrakosai, 409-397 a.C.;
- 2 tetrantes AE, zecca di Syrakosai, 409-397 a.C.;
- 1 hemilitra (?) AR, zecca di Syrakosai (imitazione), fine V – inizi IV sec. a.C.;
- 1 AE non determinato, zecca di Syrakosai, 317-310 a.C.

Il centro di Polizzello, posto su una montagna alta oltre 880 m, è organizzato su più terrazze lungo i pendii del rilievo. La massima fioritura risale agli inizi dell’VIII sec. a.C., quando, sul pianoro sommitale dell’acropoli, venne realizzata un’area sacra delimitata da un temenos e comprendente una serie di sacelli circolari. L’abitato, ancora poco indagato, si estendeva in un’ampia terrazza ai piedi dell’acropoli, c.d. “piano della città”, le cui fasi costruttive si datano tra l’VIII ed il V secolo a.C., mentre un’altra parte, databile tra il VII ed il V secolo a.C., si trovava verosimilmente su un piccolo pianoro ad Ovest dell’acropoli. La necropoli invece, occupava il costone orientale della montagna.

(H) Castiglione di Sicilia, nelle campagne verso Francavilla di Sicilia, 1902 (dep.: tra il 1130 e il 1197 (?))

Ripostiglio, con numerosi tari normanni.

CASSARINO TRANCHINA 1995, p. 211 nn. 5-6, fa riferimento a due parti di un ripostiglio di tari sotto i nomi di 'Castiglione 1902' e 'Castiglione Siculo 1903', suggerendo che si potrebbe trattare dello stesso ripostiglio. In effetti, in ORSI 1912 si fa riferimento a un grande ripostiglio venuto alla luce tra Francavilla e Castiglione negli stessi anni, e quindi dovrebbero essere tutti in realtà lo stesso ripostiglio.

(SF) Catania, teatro antico, scavi 2014-15 (dep.: III sec. a.C. – XIV sec. d.C.)

Nel corso degli scavi condotti negli anni 2014 e 2015 nel teatro antico di Catania, oltre 40 monete di età romana e tardo medievale.

L'arco cronologico delle monete recuperate nel cavo del palcoscenico si estende dai primi anni del II secolo (dupondio mal conservato e sesterzio di Traiano agli ultimi del III (nei quali si data un radiato di Massimiano Erculeo della zecca di Cizycus). Tra questi due estremi temporali si dispongono alcuni sesterzi rispettivamente di Sabina, Marco Aurelio, Commodus, Elagabalo, Gordiano III, assi di Faustina iunior e di Gordiano III, un denario di Settimio Severo, un antoniniano dell'usurpatore gallico Tetrico I emesso da zecca ufficiale, e un neoantoniniano – detto aurelianus, di Aureliano pertinente alle serie battute dopo la riforma monetale della primavera del 274.

Ben più antiche le monete rinvenute nella media cavea, costituite da due sestanti battuti negli anni 211-210 a.C. da zecca siciliana per conto di Roma e un bronzetto di Gerone II.

Appartengono tutte al quarto secolo d.C. le monete ritrovate nel cortile Liberti, con la sola eccezione di un pierreale d'argento di Federico il Semplice (1355-1377) coniato dalla zecca di Messina.

Della fase medievale dà testimonianza anche il trifollaro del normanno Ruggero I, appartenente a serie attribuite comunemente alla zecca calabrese di Mileto, riportato alla luce nel cortile Torrisi.

Infine, agli anni della seconda guerra punica riconduce anche il vittoriato d'argento recuperato nel cortile del palazzo Gravina.

(SF) Aidone, sito archeologico di Morgantina, Granai Monumentali, scavi 2011 e 2013 (dep.: n.s.)

Monete sporadiche da scavi nei Granai Monumentali.

- Granaio Ovest (scavi 2011):

- nel livello di riempimento sottostante al pavimento, una moneta di bronzo coniata a Reggio tra il 260 e il 215 a.C.;
- sotto il collasso delle tegole, due monete romane di bronzo di serie postsemilibrale coniate tra il 215 e il 212 a.C.;

- Granaio Est (scavi 2013):

- all'interno del riempimento aggiunto dai costruttori nella seconda fase di costruzione, una piccola moneta di bronzo di Leontinoi coniata nel II sec. a.C.

Il rinvenimento della moneta di bronzo di Reggio nel livello di riempimento sottostante al Granaio Ovest, che pone fermamente al 260 a.C. il terminus post quem per la data di costruzione dell'edificio.

(SF) Ciminna, Pizzo di Ciminna, scavi 2002-05 (dep.: n.s.)

Monete rinvenute nel corso di quattro campagne di scavo affidate ad una missione italo-inglese tra il 2002 e il 2005, in un insediamento (probabilmente un centro indigeno ellenizzato) ubicato sul pianoro superiore del versante orientale del Pizzo, a c. 800 metri s.l.m. Gli esemplari più antichi restituiti dagli scavi sono una moneta della zecca di Thermai, una della zecca di Kephaloidion e uno statere battuto con molta probabilità dalla zecca di Corinto.

L'esemplare di Thermai è una litra di bronzo del peso di g 0.50, che presenta al dritto la testa di Hera a destra con stephane decorata con palmette e la leggenda [ΘΕ]PMITAN e, al rovescio, Eracle a sinistra seduto su una roccia con bastone nella destra e gamba destra dietro la sinistra in primo piano, e si data al 405-350 a.C.

Sulla terrazza 2, all'interno dell'ambiente F 2, è stato rinvenuto un esemplare di bronzo battuto dalla zecca di Kephaloidion il quale presenta al dritto la testa di Eracle a destra con il capo coperto dalla leontè, mentre sul rovescio è raffigurato un pegaso in volo a destra. La moneta si data alla prima metà del IV secolo a.C.

La terza moneta è stata rinvenuta all'interno dell'ambiente C 2, sempre sulla terrazza 2. Si tratta in questo caso di uno statere d'argento di g 7.80, piuttosto consumato ma ancora leggibile, che riporta al dritto un pegaso a sinistra, la cui ala è ormai appena visibile, e sul rovescio la testa di Atena a sinistra con elmo corinzio e sopra, di fronte alla visiera dell'elmo, è raffigurato un delfino. L'emissione dovrebbe appartenere ai "pegasi" battuti dalla zecca di Corinto del periodo IV di Ravel, serie XIII, con datazione al 405-345 a.C., anche se del koppa sotto il pegaso, che costituisce la leggenda della zecca della città greca, non vi è più alcuna traccia.

Per quanto riguarda le emissioni puniche, dei cinque esemplari rinvenuti, tutti di bronzo, quattro presentano il tipo "testa maschile a destra oppure a sinistra / cavallo in corsa a destra" mentre uno presenta al rovescio la parte anteriore di cavallo. Quest'ultimo esemplare risulta illeggibile sul dritto, ma in genere il tipo del rovescio è associato anch'esso ad una testa maschile, mentre alla protome di cavallo si associa solitamente una testa femminile (Kore-Persefone-Tanit).

Sulla terrazza 2, sempre all'interno dell'ambiente F 2, è stata rinvenuta anche un'altra moneta in bronzo del peso di g 10 appartenente alle serie battute dai mercenari campani insediatisi ad Entella alla fine del V secolo a.C.. Il tipo riporta al dritto una testa femminile (Demetra o Kore) a destra e, intorno, la leggenda ENTEΛΛΑ, mentre al rovescio è presente un pegaso in volo a sinistra e, intorno, la leggenda [K]AM[Π]A[NΩN]. Essa si data sicuramente dopo la metà del IV secolo a.C., in particolare tra il 343 ed il 339 a.C.

La moneta più recente venuta in luce sul Pizzo è stata ritrovata a Sud dell'ambiente D 2 e battuta dalla zecca di Akragas. Si tratta di una moneta di bronzo di g 2.80, la quale presenta al dritto un'aquila stante a destra, probabilmente retrospiciente, e al rovescio la testa di Apollo a sinistra. La moneta è piuttosto consumata sia al dritto, dove non è più individuabile la testa dell'aquila, così da poter dire con certezza che fosse retrospiciente, che al rovescio, in cui si intravede appena il circolo perlinato nella parte superiore e si vede poco la capigliatura del dio, sulla quale potrebbe essere poggiata una corona di alloro. L'esemplare è riconducibile per i tipi alle serie battute da Finzia, che fu tiranno di Akragas dal 289 al 270 a.C. e si data, con più precisione, al 287-279 a.C.

(H) Camarina, loc. Ciaramiraro, anni '90 del XX secolo (dep.: fine III secolo d.C.)

Negli anni Novanta del XX secolo sono stati recuperati sul fondale sabbioso della baia dell'antica città greca di Camarina, a poche centinaia di metri dalla riva della località Ciaramiraro, un complesso di 4.472 monete della seconda metà del III secolo, denominato «tesoro dei sei imperatori» poco dopo il primo ritrovamento, vari utensili di bordo e blocchi lapidei della zavorra della nave che si rovesciò in quelle acque. Le monete, tutte antoniniani, furono prodotte tra il 263 e il 282 per la maggior parte nei territori settentrionali delle odierne Francia e Germania.

(H) Palazzolo Acreide (Akrai), 1995 (dep.: n.s.)

Nel 1995, nel corso dei lavori di manutenzione, condotti dalla Soprintendenza ai Beni Culturali e Ambientali di Siracusa sulla balza sovrastante la latomia dell'Intagliatella dell'antica Akrai, fu rinvenuto un tesoretto di monete in oro, argento e bronzo, in origine probabilmente conservate all'interno di un'olpetta fittile acroma, ritrovata in frammenti non ricomponibili. L'insieme delle monete si rivela particolarmente interessante per la presenza di due tetroboli in oro di peso attico, emessi dalla zecca di Cirene, che non risultano apparentemente documentati nella Sicilia orientale, e sono anche poco diffusi fuori dalla Libia. Notate anche dracme di Siracusa

(H) Siracusa, Santuario della Madonna delle Lacrime, maggio 1993 (dep.: tra l'inizio e la seconda metà del III secolo a.C.)

Nell'ambito delle indagini svoltesi nel maggio del 1993 al momento della costruzione della scalea di accesso della Chiesa Superiore nel complesso del Santuario della Madonna delle Lacrime di Siracusa, in un livello intermedio tra l'abitato e la necropoli, a meno 3 metri circa dal piano di calpestio, si rinvenne un gruzzolo costituito da diciannove monete d'argento, diciotto esemplari della zecca di Siracusa e un tetradrammo di Atene. Lo strato terroso restituì pure vari frammenti di coroplastica, databili tra l'inizio e la seconda metà del III secolo a.C. e frammenti di un'arula in terracotta in cui probabilmente il tesoretto era contenuto e nascosto.

(H) Siracusa, 1889 (per GUZZETTA 2018 tra il 1888 e l'inizio del 1889) (dep.: c. 1197)

In "NSc" 1889, p. 92: Eseguendosi alcuni lavori attorno al grande muraglione od ambulacro di età greca, esistente presso il cimitero comunale di Siracusa, fu rinvenuto un piccolo ripostiglio di monete medioevali, delle quali 19 esemplari pervennero al Museo Nazionale. Sono mezzi grossi argentei spettanti ad Enrico VI imperatore, re di Sicilia dal 1195 al 1197, ed a sua moglie Costanza, normanna, morta nel 1198.

Cons.: Il ripostiglio era conservato nel Gabinetto Numismatico del Museo in Piazza Duomo e in seguito al trasferimento delle raccolte numismatiche nell'edificio museale di Villa Landolina, dal 2010 si trova riposto nel Medagliere del Museo Regionale "Paolo Orsi" di Siracusa, inventariato al numero 6867 con le annotazioni Ripostiglio monetale di ½ grossi argentei, dei quali pervennero al Museo 19 esemplari, tutti identici, e cioè •€•INPERATOR+ croce nel campo / C•INPERATRIX, nel campo aquilotto. Tali monete spettano ad Enrico VI imperatore, re di Sicilia 1195-1197, ed a sua moglie Costanza, morta nel 1198. // 25.2. 1889 Furono trovate tutte in un gruppo nei lavori di fiancheggiamento presso il grande muraglione antico (Hekataion?) al cimitero moderno della città. Si suppone che altre siano state trafugate. // Inviata dalla Direzione locale del Genio Civile.

(H) Siracusa, contrada Plemmirio, 1925 (dep.: c. 1480 (?))

Ripostiglio, con 170 denari MI della zecca di Messina: 21 di Alfonso d'Aragona, 16 di Giovanni II, i rimanenti non identificati.

Cons.: Siracusa, Museo Archeologico Regionale "Paolo Orsi" (inv. 44320, con l'annotazione Gruzzolo di 170 (dico 170 di un unico spezzato) quattrini aragonesi in rame. Non furono ancora studiati e nemmeno puliti ma da un esame un po' superficiale degli esemplari migliori pare vi siano in prevalenza i pezzi di Giovanni d'Aragona (1458-1479). Il gruzzolo è in ogni caso da studiare. Esso faceva parte di un singolare tesoretto di alcune centinaia di pezzi, rinvenuto a caso da un ragazzo nella scorsa fine estate, in contrada Isola o Plemmirio (in una proprietà Buffardeci) in una buca della roccia circa km 1 a sud est dell'attuale sbarcatoio della Stazione Guardia di Finanza. Le monetine andarono disperse per mille mani; ne recuperai un gruzzoletto dal prof. G. Agnello che mi svelò il fatto, un 2° più numeroso dai figli di un sottufficiale; l'8 ottobre inviai sul luogo il rest. D'Amico assieme al ragazzo scopritore; se ne raccolse altri 14 nella terra. Ma il grosso era da tempo disperso. Lo stato di conservazione di codesti quattrini è mediocre, alcuni sono difettosi di conio, altri alquanto sciupati; dopo il lavaggio se ne potranno cavare una quarantina per la collezione numismatica).

(SF) Siracusa, piazza Duomo, 1996-97 (dep.: n.s.)

178 monete recuperate nel corso degli scavi eseguiti in Piazza Duomo a Siracusa fra il 1996 e il 1997. Gli esemplari vanno dalle monete siracusane in bronzo della fine del V secolo fino a un esemplare di 5 centesimi di Vittorio Emanuele II di Savoia del 1862. Significativa è la presenza di una frazione di dirham arabo dell'inizio dell'XI secolo, ma il nucleo più consistente di monete consiste nei 77 piccoli nominali del XV secolo emessi dalla zecca di Messina sotto i re Alfonso e Giovanni d'Aragona.

Moneta bizantina: folles AE Costante II/Siracusa (652-653); due folles AE Giustiniano II/Siracusa (685-695); folles AE Leone III/Siracusa (721 ca.-730); folles AE Costantino V/Siracusa (751-775); cinque folles AE Michele II e Teofilo/Siracusa (821-829).

Nel Medagliere di Siracusa è custodito un interessante lotto di venti piastrine di argento quadrate, prelevate e acquistate nel 1926 da Paolo Orsi da un buon centinaio che un antiquario gli aveva presentato assicurandogli la provenienza da Marsala (Trapani). Si tratta di dirham d'argento islamici anonimi dalla particolare forma quadrata, emessi dagli Almohadi in Spagna e nel Nord Africa, fra la metà del XII e la seconda metà del XIII secolo (1147-1269) e imitazioni degli stessi battute in numerose zecche del Sud Europa (soprattutto in Spagna, ma anche in Francia e in Italia) per essere utilizzati nei traffici con il mondo islamico.

(oth) Trapani, n.s. (dep.: novembre 1270)

Nei registri della Cancelleria angioina si conserva un elenco degli oggetti preziosi recuperati nel porto di Trapani nel novembre 1270, a seguito del naufragio delle navi dei Crociati che facevano ritorno da Tunisi. Poiché la tempesta aveva provocato l'affondamento di molte navi, Carlo I d'Angiò re di Sicilia ordinò di liberare il porto e provvedere a restituire al Re di Francia e ai Crociati quanto di loro proprietà.

Segnalati: 21 augustali; 3 hyperpyra bizantini; 23 marabottini di Castiglia; 21 tornesi aureos ad crucem (identificabili con gli écus d'or de Saint Louis); 1 doppia di Maiorca; 137 fiorini; 4 onces, 22 tarì e grani in tarì siciliani; monete d'argento; 20 libbre, 12 scellini e 4 denari in sterlini; 7 libbre, 2 scellini e 6 denari in grossi tornesi; 122 libbre e 15 scellini in petits tournois.

(D) Monte San Savino, 1904 (dep.: n.s.)

Alcuni operai, compiendo dei lavori nel fondale di una cisterna pubblica, trovarono c. 800 monete, quasi tutte di pessima conservazione, in larga parte disperse. Successivamente, recuperate oltre 600, non tutte classificabili in quanto non sempre leggibili.

L'elenco compilato da F. Lenzi e G. Guicciardini (1906) parla di:

- Ascoli
 - 3 quattrini, Alessandro VI (1492-1503);
- Bologna
 - 10 quattrini, emissioni anonime papali di XV sec;
- Bozzolo
 - 1 quattrino con ritratto e aquila, Scipione Gonzaga (1609-71);
- Castiglione delle Stiviere
 - 1 quattrino con stemma, Ferdinando II Gonzaga (1680-1723);
- Castro
 - 6 quattrini, Pier Luigi Farnese (1545-47);
- Fano
 - 6 quattrini con stemma e san Paterniano in piedi, Sisto V (1585-90);
- Ferrara
 - 2 quattrini con ritratto e aquila, Ercole II d'Este (1534-59);
- Firenze
 - 1 quattrino nero, Repubblica, 1517;
 - 2 pezzi da 3 quattrini 1720, Cosimo III (1670-1723);

- 8 quattrini 1784, Pietro Leopoldo (1765-90);
- 6 quattrini 1796, Ferdinando III di Lorena (1790-1801);
- Guastalla
 - 2 quattrini con monogramma e leone rampante, Ferrante III Gonzaga (1658-78);
- Lucca
 - 180 quattrini con Volto Santo e lettera L tra due cifre, Repubblica;
 - 10 bolognini con L.V.C.A. e san Pietro, Repubblica (XVIII sec.);
- Macerata
 - 3 quattrini con stemma e san Giuliano in piedi, Gregorio XIII (1572-83);
- Mantova
 - 19 sesini anonimi con testa di Virgilio e crogiolo;
- Massa di Lunigiana
 - 2 quattrini con piramide, Alberico Cybo Malaspina (1559-1623);
- Milano
 - 2 quattrini con ritratto e stemma inquartato, Filippo III di Spagna (1598-1621) [ma più realisticamente Filippo IV di Spagna, 1621- 65];
- Modena
 - 28 quattrini con testa e aquila, Francesco I d'Este (1629-58);
 - 2 sesini con testa e scritta in due righe, Alfonso IV d'Este (1658-62);
- Novellara
 - 43 quattrini con Volto Santo e lettera L tra due cifre, Alfonso II Gonzaga (1650-88);
- Piombino
 - 30 quattrini con ritratto e stemma, Niccolò Ludovici (1634-45);
- San Martino dall'Argine (ma ora da ritenere Bozzolo)
 - 2 quattrini con ritratto e scritta in due righe, Scipione Gonzaga (1614-71);
- Siena
 - 2 quattrini, con S e croce fiorata, Repubblica (XVI sec.);
- Urbino
 - 4 quattrini con iniziali G.V.II coronate e vaso, Guidobaldo II della Rovere (1538-74);
 - 6 pezzi da 2 sesini con stemma e scritta in due righe, Francesco Maria II della Rovere (1605-06);
- Ducato di Savoia
 - (?) quattrino 1636 con stemma e croce, Vittorio Amedeo I di Savoia (1630-37).

Per LENZI, GUICCIARDINI 1906 (p. 38) le monete potrebbero essere l'avanzo di un furto: rubate insieme a monete d'oro e d'argento, sarebbero state poi buttate nella cisterna per sbarazzarsene. Ma il ritrovamento ha molta affinità coi materiali di Bürglen (v. ritrovamento n. 10629). Le monete di zecche emiliane ritenute quattrini in LENZI, GUICCIARDINI 1906 andrebbero più correttamente ritenute dei sesini.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: burial, unknown context

(H) Firenze, chiasso dei Baroncelli (già chiassolo de' Lanzi), 9 agosto 1786 (dep.: post 1609)

La sistematica recensioni dei fondi preunitari dell'archivio della Galleria degli Uffizi di Firenze ha permesso di ricostruire le vicende di un tesoro di 56 AV ritrovato durante lavori edili del 1786 a Firenze, nel chiassolo dei Lanzi (oggi chiasso dei Baroncelli), negli ambienti che avevano ospitato per quasi due secoli, fino alla loro soppressione, le guardie del corpo del Granduca di Toscana: i Lanzi. L'analisi del contesto, descritto dall'antiquario ducale G. Pelli Bencivelli e in parte (10 es.) acquisito alle collezioni degli Uffizi, avvalorata la pertinenza del tesoro a un membro della guardia granducale e lo riconduce agli anni della cosiddetta Lunga guerra turca (1593-1606).

Da un inventario intitolato Stato delle Monete d'Oro trovate il di 9 Agosto 1786 nel Chiassolo del Lanzi risulta che il ripostiglio era composto da:

- 2 Braconi di Modena del Duca Cesare d'Este;
- 8 Zecchini turchi;
- 3 Fiorini d'Oro di Sigismondo Re di Pollonia del 1595, 1597 e 1601;
- 3 es. Di Westfrisia del 1588. del 1595, e del 1596;
- 2 es. Di Danzica del 1584, e del 1586;
- 2 es. Di Transilvania del 1573;
- 2 es. Dell'Imp. Rodolfo II. Re d'Ungheria del 1588, e del 1598;
- 4 es. Del Medesimo in Borgogna del 1584. 1588. del 1592 e del 1606;
- 1 es. Di Ferdinando Re di Castiglia;
- 2 es. Di Ferdinando Arciduca d'Austria;
- 2 es. Di Sigismondo Battori del 1599;
- 1 es. Di Filippo III Re di Spagna;
- 21 es. Delle Provincie Unite di vari anni dal 1596, al 1609;
- 1 es. Doppio dell'Imp. Massimiliano II del 1571;
- 1 es. Di Zwol;
- 1 es. Di Deventer del 1603.

Sono riconoscibili 2 ungheresi di Cesare d'Este della zecca di Modena, che apparentemente costituiscono le uniche monete italiane presenti.

(H) Firenze, piazza della Signoria, scavi 1987-88 (dep.: n.s.)

Durante la campagna di scavo condotta nel 1987-88 presso Piazza della Signoria a Firenze, tra le strutture di epoca medievale messe in luce, si recuperarono cinque monete arabe fatimide d'oro:

- dīnār AV di Abu Tamin Ma'add Al Mu'izz li-Din Allah, zecca di al-Mansuriya (362 H/972-973);
- dīnār (imitazione) di Abu Tamin Ma'add Al-Mustansir billah, zecca di Misr (445 H/1053-1054);
- dīnār AV di Abu Tamin Ma'add Al-Mustansir billah, zecca di Sur (446 H/1054-1055);
- dīnār AV di Abu Tamin Ma'add Al-Mustansir billah, zecca di al-Mahdiya (ottavo mese dell'anno 461 H/1068);
- dīnār (imitazione) AV di Abu Tamin Ma'add Al-Mustansir billah, zecca di Misr (466 H/1073-1074).

Secondo le notizie fornite dalla direzione dello scavo le monete d'oro furono ritrovate durante la pulitura dalla malta della superficie della fondazione della torre US 3. La fondazione è a corpo pieno formata da pietre irregolari, ciottoli e malta. Le monete furono evidentemente murate tra il piano di essa e lo spiccato, del quale non rimaneva traccia, in quanto completamente asportato per la costruzione della piazza. Infatti, a diretto contatto della malta residua della fondazione, al cui interno si rinvennero le monete, si trovava la pavimentazione in lastre di epoca granducale. Sulla base di questa collocazione stratigrafica è stato ipotizzato che il nascondimento fosse avvenuto a scopo propiziatorio in una sorta di rituale di fondazione. Tuttavia, la situazione di giacitura delle monete, di fatto immediatamente al di sotto della pavimentazione di epoca granducale, e l'assenza dello spiccato della casa-torre non permettono di escludere con assoluta certezza che vi fosse un possibile accesso al gruzzolo, ovvero non consentono di assodare se quest'ultimo fosse murato in un modo tale da rendere i dīnār irrecuperabili a prezzo della distruzione della torre stessa oppure se fosse raccolto in un nascondiglio di difficile accesso, ma comunque raggiungibile.

In tali circostanze dobbiamo trarre alcune indicazioni sulla collocazione cronologica e sulla natura dell'occultamento. Innanzi tutto, le condizioni del rinvenimento offrono argomentazioni piuttosto deboli sul momento del nascondimento: trattandosi di monete d'oro, risulta evidente come queste possano essere rimaste sul mercato anche per parecchi decenni prima di raggiungere la loro sistemazione nella fondazione della torre, verosimilmente anche dopo gli inizi del XII secolo. In secondo luogo, non sembra ragionevole scartare l'eventualità che le monete siano state sottratte alla circolazione con fini di tesaurizzazione.

In FRANCOVICH, CANTINI 2006, p. 133 si cita anche tremissis AV longobardo pseudoimperiale beneventano anonimo di VII sec. (MEC 313-315: attribuito alla Tuscia), non nominata invece in ASOLATI 2005b.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: burial, unknown context

(SF) Firenze, via de' Castellani, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

Da scavo stratigrafico in area residenziale urbana, 32 monete riconducibili alle fasi di vita di epoca postclassica, che coprono nell'insieme un arco cronologico esteso dalla seconda metà dell'XI al XIX secolo. Il nucleo più consistente è costituito da numerari la cui datazione si aggira attorno ai secoli XI-XII.

Segnalate zecche di Milano, Firenze, Venezia e Lucca (7 es., la maggior parte dei quali ascritti ad un arco cronologico compreso tra il 1160 ed il 1200 circa ed uno ad un arco cronologico più ampio che arriva alla metà del XIII secolo, ma rinvenuti in contesti databili tra XIII e XIV secolo).
Notati:

- monete di Lucca

- US 248: 2 denari di Lucca, di cui 1 datato al 1181-1220 ed 1 al 1160-metà XIII sec.;
- US 352: 3 denari di Lucca, di cui 2 datati al 1160-1181 ed 1 al 1182-1200;
- US 363: 1 denaro di Lucca datato 1181-1200;
- US 104 (preparazione del pavimento in cotto di un edificio della Fase 23; tra i materiali in fase, vasellame ceramico privo di rivestimento e maioliche arcaiche databili entro la prima metà del Trecento): 1 denaro castruccino di Lucca, 1324/25 c. -1328 c..
- US 104/1: 1 denaro di Lucca datato 1181-1200;

- altre monete

(H) Fucecchio, loc. Ponte a Cappiano, paulo ante 16 agosto 1930 (dep.: post 1313)

Durante i lavori di sterro per le fondazioni dell'edificio scolastico di Ponte a Cappiano (Fucecchio) furono rinvenuti 3 fiorini d'oro della Repubblica Fiorentina da un certo Angiolo Fagni fu Luigi:

- 1 fiorino AV, maestro Fedicio Manovelli (II semestre 1306);
- 2 fiorini AV, maestro Totto Tebaldi (I semestre 1313).

La scoperta è anteriore al 16 agosto 1930 in quanto a quella data risale una lettera del podestà di Fucecchio che dava comunicazione della scoperta alla Soprintendenza (CIAMPOLTRINI 2001-02, p. 32).

Cons.: Di questo ritrovamento, inedito, si conserva documentazione d'archivio presso il Museo Archeologico Nazionale di Firenze. Le monete fecero il loro ingresso nel museo nel 1930. Si trattava di tre fiorini d'oro "fior di conio" datati al 1306 e 1313 (inv.

89247-89249). Poichè non è stato possibile rintracciare le monete nel medagliere del museo, è probabile che queste siano confluite all'interno del gruppo di oltre 17.000 pezzi medievali e moderni conservati all'archeologico che furono prelevati nel 2001 e trasferiti al Museo Nazionale del Bargello.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: burial, unknown context

(H) Montespertoli, loc. Tresanti, 1943 (dep.: 1529/31)

Ripostiglio con 422 AR, per la quasi totalità coniate nella zecca di Firenze, con soli sette esemplari provenienti da altre zecche.

Composizione:

- Repubblica di Firenze
 - 6 grossi AR da 6 soldi e 8 denari, zecca di Firenze, 1481-87;
 - 340 carlini/barili AR da 10 soldi di q.b, zecca di Firenze, 1503-24 ca.;
 - 69 grossi AR da 7 soldi, zecca di Firenze, 1503-24 ca.;
- Repubblica di Siena
 - 1 grosso AR da 7 soldi, zecca di Siena, 1510-11;
- Stato Pontificio
 - 3 giuli AR, zecca di Roma, 1503-23;
 - 2 giuli AR, zecca di Ancona, 1513-21;
 - 1 giulio bolognese AR, zecca di Bologna, 1523-34.

Le monete di Firenze sono costituite esclusivamente da carlini/barili e da grossi, monete in buon argento di medio taglio, con una netta prevalenza dei barili. L'escursione cronologica è piuttosto ristretta, considerando che solo sei monete sono riferibili alla seconda metà del XV secolo (tra il 1481 ed il 1487), mentre la restante parte risulta coniate tra il 1503 ed il 1524 circa. Ci troviamo quindi in presenza di un gruzzolo accumulato prima della fine della Repubblica di Firenze e di quelle disposizioni adottate dalla zecca fiorentina tra il 1530 ed il 1531 per fronteggiare la particolare situazione di crisi determinata dalla guerra. Una chiara indicazione della data di chiusura del ripostiglio è offerta dalle emissioni più recenti di barili e grossi di Firenze, databili al II trimestre 1524 (dal 1 giugno al 31 agosto), e soprattutto dal grosso bolognese attribuito a Papa Clemente VII (1523-1534). Per questa moneta è stata avanzata l'ipotesi di una coniazione avvenuta a partire dal 1529, che ne farebbe l'esemplare più recente del ripostiglio. E' quindi ragionevole supporre che l'occultamento sia avvenuto nel periodo immediatamente precedente l'introduzione delle nuove emissioni "riformate" di barili e grossi del 1531.

Sulla base delle informazioni raccolte in merito alla scoperta, il ripostiglio fu interamente recuperato pochi giorni dopo il ritrovamento. Oggi è possibile esaminare solo la metà degli esemplari, i 211 pezzi che furono depositati al Museo di Firenze come quota parte spettante di diritto allo Stato.

Cons.: Museo di Firenze (solo 211 esemplari).

(SF) Campagnatico, loc. Granaione, Poggio Rotigli, insediamento romano con sepolcreto, anni

'50 del XX sec. (dep.: IV sec. d.C.)

Il Museo Archeologico e d'Arte della Maremma espone un complesso di materiali rinvenuti a Poggio Rotigli di Campagnatico negli anni '50 del XX secolo scorso e proveniente da edifici romani rinvenuti durante lavori agricoli, tra cui alcune monete (registrate con unico n. inv. 23304).

Il gruppo di 19 monete recuperate a Poggio Rotigli, pur nella sua scarsa leggibilità, pare potersi inquadrare cronologicamente all'interno del IV secolo d.C. sulla base delle caratteristiche pondometriche dei pezzi e la lettura dei pochi esemplari parzialmente leggibili. La maggior parte degli esemplari, ben quattordici, è costituito da frammenti o tondelli illeggibili con un peso variabile da 0,55 a 1,83 grammi e diametro massimo compreso tra 13 e 16 mm.

Tra le altre monete si riconosce, con qualche difficoltà, un probabile esemplare del tipo della Fel Temp Reparatio con soldato e cavaliere caduto, databile al 353-358 d.C. Sulla base del ritratto e l'assenza del diadema potrebbe essere assegnato alle emissioni di Costanzo Gallo o Giuliano II Cesari. La lettura di una piccola porzione della leggenda del dritto permette di assegnare a Valente o Valentiniano un'altra moneta, un AE3 con la raffigurazione della Vittoria al rovescio, databile quindi al 364-378 d.C. Allo stesso periodo potrebbe essere assegnato anche un secondo esemplare con al rovescio la Vittoria incedente a sinistra, di cui è possibile l'appartenenza al tipo Securitas Reipublicae. Su di una moneta, ugualmente in pessimo stato di conservazione, compaiono le tracce di una corona d'alloro al rovescio, elemento che contraddistingue le emissioni del tipo Vota. Al dritto è parzialmente visibile un busto barbato a sinistra che potrebbe essere riconoscibile come Giuliano II. Si tratterebbe quindi di una delle emissioni di AE3 di questo imperatore con legenda VOT/X/MVLT/XX, databile tra il 360 ed il 363 d.C. Anche il diametro ed il peso dell'esemplare (mm. 18, g. 1,46) risultano coerenti con tale assegnazione. L'ultimo dei cinque pezzi scarsamente leggibili parrebbe databile alla seconda metà del IV secolo d.C.

(SF) Campagnatico, loc. Pieve Vecchia, villa (?) e impianto termale, n.s. (dep.: I-II sec. d.C.)

Durante le ricerche condotte a Pieve Vecchia sono state recuperate cinque monete in bronzo, tutte appartenenti ad età imperiale e rappresentative del circolante in uso nei primi secoli dell'impero. Si tratta di quattro assi, di cui due poco leggibili, ed un sesterzio. L'esemplare più antico determinabile con precisione è un asse dell'imperatore Nerone, con al rovescio la rappresentazione del tempio di Giano. Al II secolo d.C. è riferibile invece un sesterzio di Adriano, in cui al rovescio pare riconoscersi, nella figura stante, la personificazione della Felicitas, con ramoscello e lungo caduceo, simboli di pace e virtù. L'esemplare più recente è un asse di Marco Aurelio in pessimo stato di conservazione ma identificabile grazie al ritratto dell'imperatore e la rappresentazione della lupa con i gemelli, databile con precisione al 172-173 d.C.

- 1 asse, autorità non determinabile, zecca di Roma, I sec. d.C. (g 10,83, mm 28);
- 1 asse, autorità non determinabile, zecca di Roma, I-II sec. d.C. (g 11,44; mm 26);
- 1 asse, Nerone, zecca di Roma o Lugdunum, 54-68 d.C. (g 8,13; mm 28; h 7);
- 1 sesterzio, Adriano, zecca di Roma, 134-138 d.C. (g 25,64; mm 31);

(SF) Civitella Paganico, albergo delle Caldanelle di Petriolo, scavi 2018-19 (dep.: secc. XIV-XVI)

Le indagini condotte sul sito delle Caldanelle (Comune di Civitella Paganico – Grosseto), investigato da parte della Associazione Odysseus negli anni 2018- 19, hanno consentito di portare alla luce un insediamento piuttosto articolato, preposto all'accoglienza di viaggiatori e bagnanti che qui si recavano per usufruire delle proprietà curative delle vicine sorgenti termali. Tale stabilimento termale è ricordato in alcune fonti scritte che attestano importanti attività di fortificazione del sito promosse dal vescovo di Siena, Donosdeo Malavolti, nella prima metà del XIV secolo. Lo scavo ha permesso l'individuazione di quattro ambienti, databili tra la fine del XV e il XVI secolo e interpretabili come degli spazi adibiti all'accoglienza dei clienti. Le ultime fasi di frequentazione sono riferibili al passaggio di pastori transumanti nel corso del XVIII secolo. La stratigrafia degli elevati ci indica tuttavia la presenza di fasi trecentesche, cui è possibile riferire la porzione basamentale del perimetro murario nella quale si apre una porta successivamente obliterata da un'azione intenzionale di colmata.

Nel corso degli scavi sono state rinvenute tre monete in pessimo stato di conservazione:

- US 42 D: nominale MI indeterminato (tracce di giglio fiorentino al D/), XIV-XV sec., zecca di Firenze (g 0.41; mm 15);
- US 43 A: quattrino MI, post 1513, zecca di Siena (g 0.65; mm 17);

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

(SF) Civitella Paganico, loc. Casale di Pari, necropoli di Casenovole, Tomba del Tasso, 2007 (dep.: dal 214/1 a.C.)

La cosiddetta Tomba del Tasso, rinvenuta intatta nel 2007 nella necropoli di Casenovole a Casale di Pari (Civitella Paganico – GR), ha restituito insieme ai materiali relativi ai corredi anche un numero piuttosto rilevante di monete appartenenti a emissioni successive alla introduzione del denario d'argento e alla riduzione sestantaria del bronzo romano (214-211 a.C.). Le monete sono state rinvenute tra le urne, all'interno dei cinerari o nei piatti posti a copertura.

Le monete rinvenute all'interno della tomba sono complessivamente 32 e possono essere così suddivise (datazione secondo (RRC):

- 1 vittoriato AR, post 211 a.C.;
- 30 assi (serie Giano/Prua) AE, 206 – 146 a.C.;
- 1 frazione – forse un quadrante – (serie Giano/Prua) AE, 169 – 158 a.C.

Tra i 30 assi rinvenuti, alcuni presentano simboli, lettere o monogrammi che ne permettono un inquadramento cronologico piuttosto preciso. Tra gli esemplari databili con precisione, quello più antico appartiene alla serie con segno "scrofa o cinghiale", datata da Crawford al 206-195 a.C. (RRC 121/3). Quello più recente è un asse di C. ANTESTI del 146 a.C. (RRC 219/2).

(SF) Grosseto, cattedrale di san Lorenzo, marzo 2010 (dep.: c. XIV sec.)

Nel marzo 2010, durante lavori propedeutici ad un progetto di recupero delle sacrestie del Duomo di Grosseto, è stato rinvenuto un vano ipogeo situato ad una quota di tre metri e mezzo sotto l'attuale livello di pavimentazione del presbiterio. L'ambiente ha dimensioni di m 10 x 5 x 2,80 e si estende dal cortile fin sotto l'altare di San Lorenzo, all'interno della cattedrale. La campagna di scavo condotta per conto della Diocesi di Grosseto nel corso del 2010 e del 2011 ha portato alla successiva scoperta di un pozzo/cisterna (butto?) ad esso adiacente, ubicato sotto il coro della cattedrale, all'interno del quale è stata recuperata una notevole quantità di reperti.

Tra i materiali recuperati vi sono quattro tessere medievali appartenenti a quella ricca serie di tondelli in metallo che sono oggi identificati come tessere mercantili o gettoni di conto.

(SF) Grosseto, fraz. Alberese, grotta dello Scoglietto, scavi 1933, 1948-50 (dep.: n.s.)

Durante le ricerche svolte nel corso del 2005 su materiali di risulta degli scavi del 1933 e degli anni 1948-50, 90 esemplari recuperati, integri o frammentari, che coprono con alcune interruzioni un arco di tempo che va dal II sec. a.C. al XX secolo. Le monete si presentano tutte in pessimo stato di conservazione e fortemente alterate per la permanenza in ambiente deteriorante che ha determinato la leggibilità, anche solo parziale, di un numero ristretto di pezzi: 13 di età romana, 5 medievali e moderni (secc. XV-XVII), 8 di età contemporanea datati tra il 1920 ed il 1930. Le caratteristiche metrologiche degli esemplari illeggibili consentono, comunque, di inquadrare 58 di essi tra le emissioni di età romana. I rimanenti 5 sembrano riferibili ad età rinascimentale o moderna.

Notati:

- 2 exagia (per nomisma e tremisse, gr. 4,35 e 1,39; V-VI secolo?);
- 1 quattrino, Repubblica di Siena, zecca di Siena, XV secolo;
- 1 quattrino, Repubblica di Siena, zecca di Siena, 1503-26;
- 1 quattrino, Repubblica di Firenze, zecca di Firenze, II semestre 1509 – II semestre 1533;
- 2 quattrini, Granducato di Toscana, zecca di Firenze, secc. XVI (post 1536) – XVII;
- 3 es. da 5 centesimi, Regno d'Italia, Vittorio Emanuele III di Savoia, zecca di Roma, 1929 (1 es.) e 1930 (2 es.);
- 5 es. da 10 centesimi, Regno d'Italia, Vittorio Emanuele III di Savoia, zecca di Roma, 1920 (1 es.), 1927 (1 es.), 1929 (1 es.) e 1930 (2 es.).

Per DE BENETTI, SEBASTIANI 2013, p. 304, le monete da 5 e 10 centesimi di Vittorio Emanuele III di Savoia furono quasi certamente smarrite durante gli scavi archeologici condotti da Cardini e Sestini nel novembre 1933.

(SF) Grosseto, fraz. Alberese, loc. Grotta di Spaccasasso, scavi dal 2000 (dep.: n.s.)

Gli scavi condotti a partire dal 2000 nella grotta di Spaccasasso, presso Alberese (GR), hanno restituito un totale di sette reperti:

- Claudio II, antoniniano, Roma, 268-270 d.C. (RIC 5.1, p. 212 n. 14);
- Probo, antoniniano, Ticinum, 2a officina, 278 d.C. (RIC 5.2, p. 58 n. 375);
- AE3 della seconda metà del IV secolo, forato per un utilizzo come elemento di collana o pendente;
- Impero d'Austria, Francesco Giuseppe I, 2 heller 1897, Vienna;
- Repubblica Italiana, Roma, 10 Lire, Roma, 1951 (1 es.), 1955 (1 es.) e 1966 (1 es.).

Segnalato anche un contrappeso (aequipondium) in piombo da stadera, di forma globulare quasi troncoconica con solcature verticali regolari, incavato alla base e con anello di sospensione in ferro. Realizzato mediante fusione piena, con elemento di sospensione forgiato a parte. Integro, con anello parzialmente mancante, la superficie presenta intaccature e incrostazioni terrose. Altezza mm 47; modulo mm 43; peso g 443,1.

I pezzi, da 10 lire, il più recente dei quali è datato 1966, permette di inquadrare con precisione il momento della manomissione del deposito archeologico, avvenuta in epoca recente (DE BENETTI, SEBASTIANI 2013, p. 304).

(uns) Grosseto, fraz. Alberese, loc. Le Frasche, "mansio" di Hasta, c. 1993 (dep.: n.s.)

La mansio fu identificata in località Le Frasche nel 1987, immediatamente all'esterno dell'attuale frazione di Alberese. L'edificio fu definitivamente distrutto nel 1993 a seguito di lavori agricoli ed edilizi.

Un articolo pubblicato sul quotidiano "La Nazione" del 12 agosto 1987 riporta che un trattore devastò per un giorno intero l'edificio romano portando alla luce lastre di marmo, pezzi di mosaico, tubi, vasellame, chiodi, ossa umane, lastre di intonaco colorato e monete. Queste ultime, secondo le testimonianze dell'epoca, furono trovate in più occasioni nel campo e nei dintorni.

Nessuna indicazione disponibile in merito al tipo delle monete ritrovate e al loro numero, ma ci si deve aspettare che fossero esemplari di età romana imperiale.

(SF) Grosseto, fraz. Alberese, loc. Scoglietto, scavi 2009-11 (dep.: n.s.)

Le campagne di scavo condotte a Scoglietto tra il 2009 ed il 2011 hanno portato al recupero di un totale di 112 monete (57 nel corso della prima campagna di scavo, 45 nel corso della seconda). Si tratta per la maggior parte di esemplari relativi alle fasi antiche di occupazione dell'area e che si distribuiscono cronologicamente tra il II sec. a.C. ed il VI secolo. Un piccolo gruppo di monete è invece testimonianza di una ulteriore frequentazione del sito in età moderna (secc. XVI-XVIII).

Le monete rinvenute a Scoglietto sono testimonianza di tutte le fasi di vita del complesso, dall'età repubblicana, con gli esemplari più antichi databili al II sec. a.C., fino al momento di distruzione ed abbandono, verso la fine del IV secolo, e nuovamente della rioccupazione in età bizantina (VI secolo: nummo di Giustiniano coniato a Roma tra il 552 ed il 565, MIBE N240) e delle sporadiche frequentazioni in epoca moderna (XVI-XVIII secolo).

Ad eccezione di un quinario ed un denario suberato di età repubblicana, tutti gli esemplari rinvenuti sono in bronzo e rappresentativi dei livelli più bassi della circolazione. Si tratta di monete che nella maggior parte dei casi entrarono a far parte del deposito archeologico a seguito di smarrimento (forse per l'esemplare suberato è possibile anche un'uscita intenzionale dalla circolazione). Gli scavi non hanno evidenziato la presenza di ripostigli, ma il ritrovamento di un numero rilevante di esemplari nell'area antistante al tempio e nel riempimento del deposito votivo potrebbe essere connesso al rituale dell'offerta. È probabile che anche un esemplare non romano di età repubblicana recuperato a Scoglietto, al di fuori della sua naturale area di circolazione, sia stato depositato intenzionalmente da qualcuno di passaggio come dono al tempio. In un caso è stato riscontrato l'utilizzo di una moneta come probabile obolo di Caronte, nell'unica sepoltura rinvenuta.

La frequentazione dell'area in epoca moderna è testimoniata da 7 monete rinvenute in strati superficiali insieme a materiali ceramici e metallici di uso comune (ceramica invetriata, bottoni, fibbie, etc). L'esemplare più antico è un quattrino della Repubblica di Siena coniato a partire dal 1507 (cat. 106), il cui stato di conservazione permette anche la lettura del segno dello zecchiere. Il suo ritrovamento non è isolato, poiché altri due quattrini della zecca di Siena provengono dalla vicina grotta dello Scoglietto (uno scarsamente leggibile e l'altro databile al periodo 1503-1526). Allo stesso periodo è riferibile un'altra moneta rinvenuta sempre nella grotta di Scoglietto, un quattrino della Repubblica di Firenze coniato tra il secondo semestre 1509 ed il II semestre 1533, la cui circolazione era contemporanea alle emissioni senesi sopra descritte. Le altre monete, parzialmente leggibili a causa del pessimo stato di conservazione, sono emissioni in rame della zecca di Firenze rappresentative dei livelli più bassi della circolazione. Si tratta di un picciolo coniato durante il governo di Cosimo I de' Medici (1537-1569) oppure di Cosimo III de' Medici (1670-1723), durante il quale fu dato luogo ad una emissione straordinaria del picciolo utilizzando gli stessi conii realizzati al tempo del predecessore (cat. 107) e di due quattrini conati tra il 1587 ed il 1670. Dei due quattrini di Firenze, entrambi deteriorati e poco leggibili, uno può essere assegnato alle emissioni di Ferdinando I de' Medici sulla base delle caratteristiche ancora visibili dello stemma mediceo e datato, quindi, agli anni compresi tra il 1588 ed il 1608 (cat. 109). Anche il ritrovamento di queste monete trova un confronto con esemplari analoghi rinvenuti all'interno della vicina grotta dello Scoglietto, dove sono stati recuperati due quattrini con stemma Medici il cui pessimo stato di conservazione permette solo una datazione piuttosto generica (post 1536-XVII secolo).

Sono presenti, inoltre, due monete di cui non è possibile un preciso riconoscimento a causa del pessimo stato di conservazione, ma inquadrabili tra le emissioni di XVI/XVII secolo (cat. 110-111). Chiude l'elenco dei materiali numismatici un quattrino coniato nella zecca di Firenze da Pietro Leopoldo I di Lorena (1771-1790), che costituisce la moneta più recente rinvenuta negli scavi (cat. 112).

Per quanto riguarda i contesti di ritrovamento, le monete di età moderna provengono da strati di humus superficiale (US 1 e US 200) o strati di abbandono e copertura del crollo delle strutture di età romana (US 204). Un esemplare è stato rinvenuto tra gli strati di crollo del tempio (US 245) dove può essersi facilmente infiltrato attraverso le cavità lasciate da radici di piante o tra gli interstizi di un gruppo di pietre.

Tra le monete recuperate nel corso della seconda campagna di scavo, segnalate 4 es. di età moderna:

- quattrino MI, zecca di Siena, Repubblica (capitoli del 9 dicembre 1507; US 200-3; DE BENETTI 2013c, n. 42);
- quattrino MI, zecca di Firenze, Granducato di Toscana, Ferdinando I, Cosimo II o Ferdinando II de' Medici, 1587-1670 (US 204-40; DE BENETTI 2013c, n. 43);
- quattrino MI, zecca di Firenze, Granducato di Toscana, Ferdinando I de Medici, 1587-1609 (US 245-37; DE BENETTI 2013, n. 44);
- moneta incerta AE di 0.52g e diametro di 16mm (quattrino?), zecca indeterminata, sec. XVI-XVII (US 245-34; DE BENETTI 2013c, n. 45).

The nucleus includes also some particular pieces, such as a dupondium of Marcus Aurelius and two bronze coins of the Bosporan Kingdom. These ‘unusual’ presences are not infrequent in Late Roman hoards of bronze coins and the two examples from the Bosphorus perhaps clarify the origin of the hoard itself.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(oth) Massa Marittima, loc. Rocchette Pannocchieschi, n.s. (dep.: seconda metà XII sec. – prima metà XIV sec.)

Le campagne di scavo condotte nel castello hanno restituito 47 reperti monetali in mediocre stato di conservazione, salvo alcune eccezioni. Si tratta esclusivamente di moneta piccola medievale in mistura rinvenuta durante il normale lavoro a trowel.

Lo scavo ha restituito prevalentemente monete che ricoprono un arco temporale che va dagli inizi del XIV sec. al 1371, riferibili quasi esclusivamente alle fasi di frequentazione e di abbandono di epoca trecentesca.

Composizione:

- zecca di Lucca: 1 es. databile al 1150-1200, 3 es. al 1300-50;
- zecca di Pisa: 8 es. databili al 1300-50;
- zecca di Siena: 1 es. databile al 1250-1300, 1 es. al 1300-50;
- zecca di Arezzo: 2 es. databili al 1250-1300, 1 es. al 1300-50;
- zecca di Perugia: 2 es. databili al 1300-50;
- zecca di Firenze: 26 es. databili al 1300-50;
- zecca di Manfredonia: 1 es. databile al 1250-1300.

Quasi tutte le monete provengono dunque da zecche toscane, fatta eccezione per un quartaro di Genova antecedente al 1339, un denaro a nome del re Manfredi coniato a Manfredonia tra il 1255 e il 1266, e due denari di Perugia della metà del XIV sec.

Le monete provenienti da US 3163, 3164, 3165 (strati relativi alla fase di abbandono di una casa del borgo, forse per il disfacimento del pavimento ligneo) sono stati interpretati come i resti di un unico gruzzolo, forse abbandonato nei pressi della copertura pavimentale. La datazione, in base alla cronologia di emissione, potrebbe essere non molto posteriore al 1330, per quanto i reperti possano essere rimasti un poco più a lungo in circolazione, fino alla metà circa del secolo.

- US 3163

- 1 aquilino piccolo di Lucca, 1319 circa-1324/25 circa;
- 1 denaro piccolo di Arezzo, prima metà XIV sec.;
- 1 denaro piccolo di Pisa, 1318/1319-1350;

- US 3164

- 2 denari di Pisa, 1318/1319-1350;
- 1 fiorino piccolo, 1323-1326;
- 2 fiorini piccoli, 1324;
- 1 fiorino piccolo, II sem. 1330;
- 2 fiorini piccoli, tipi 1325-1400;

- US 3165

- 1 aquilino piccolo di Lucca, 1319 circa-1324/25 circa;
- 1 denaro castruccino di Lucca, 1324/25 circa-1328 circa;
- 1 fiorino piccolo, II sem. 1329;
- 1 fiorino piccolo, tipi 1325-1400.

(H) Montemassi, chiesa di sant'Andrea, ante 2008 (dep.: prima metà XII sec.)

A Montemassi, durante la costruzione della seconda chiesa di sant'Andrea (sec. XII – 1260) , per colmare lo spazio rimanente fra il muro rasato ed il nuovo muro absidale fu gettato un vespaio di pietrisco sul quale fu impostato un gradone in muratura che poteva servire da basamento per l'altare (non conservatosi), ponendolo ad una quota sopraelevata rispetto al resto della chiesa. All'interno di questo vespaio, immediatamente al di sotto del gradone in muratura, è stato rinvenuto un gruzzolo di 28 denari della zecca di Lucca datati alla prima metà del XII secolo e per i quali si è ipotizzato che svolgessero funzione di "memoria" dei tre altari sottostanti, appartenenti alla prima chiesa.

(oth) Scarlino, area archeologica di Vettricella, scavi 2005-18 (dep.: II-IV, IX-XI secc.)

Da scavi presso il sito di Vettricella, 25 AR+AE – di cui 16 individuati grazie a metal detector – in stato di conservazione non sempre eccellente:

- età romana imperiale: 4 AE rinvenuti a carattere sporadico, II-IV sec. d.C.; di questi, 3 es. rinvenuti durante la rimozione meccanica della terra, 1 es. (dupondio di Antonino il Pio) recuperato da un deposito dell'XI secolo costituito da strati di livellamento utilizzati per innalzare la superficie terrestre all'interno della torre centrale.
- età medievale (arco cronologico che va dall'ultimo quarto del IX secolo agli inizi dell'XI): 21 denari AR, principalmente relativi ai re d'Italia (soprattutto dalla zecca di Pavia) e ai marchesi di Tuscia.
 - 6 denari AR di Berengario I, zecca di Pavia;
 - 2 denari AR di Ugo di Arles con Lotario II, zecca di Pavia;
 - 1 denaro AR di Ottone I imperatore e Ottone II re, zecca di Pavia;
 - 2 denari AR di Ottone I imperatore e Ottone II re, zecca di Lucca;
 - 3 denari AR Ottone II imperatore, zecca di Pavia;
 - 1 denaro AR Ottone III (minore età), zecca di Lucca;

- 1 denaro AR di incerta attribuzione (forse Ottone III), zecca di Pavia;
- 1 denaro AR di Ugo il Grande, marchese di Toscana, zecca di Lucca;
- 4 denari AR di Corrado II, zecca di Lucca.

In ROVELLI 2020 si ipotizza che i 6 denari di Berengario I per Pavia – e forse anche quello di Ugo di Arles con Lotario II – facciano parte di un piccolo ripostiglio, smembrato dai successivi passaggi di aratro.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(H) Semproniano, loc. Catabbio, 15 agosto 1911 (dep.: I secolo a.C.)

Stando alla documentazione di archivio il 15 Agosto 1911, nei terreni di proprietà dei fratelli Sante ed Ettore Bianchi in località "I Monti" presso Catabbio, furono casualmente scoperte, in «un cavo praticato entro un sasso tufaceo», diciannove monete d'argento, di cui dodici rinvenute da Ettore, sette da Sante. Evandro Baldini provvide all'esecuzione di un calco in ceralacca di dodici esemplari e a far pervenire in Soprintendenza le monete per la catalogazione e la stima del valore. Provvide anche a far firmare ai fratelli Bianchi i verbali di ripartizione delle monete tra Stato e rinventori e ad inoltrarli nuovamente a Firenze. Delle diciannove monete, valutate complessivamente 20 £, dieci rimasero ai rinventori e furono acquistate dal Comune di Pitigliano per il locale Museo: qui confluirono anche le monete spettanti per legge allo Stato. Attualmente a Grosseto risultano diciotto esemplari.

Ritrovamento di un solidus AV ostrogoto coniato nella zecca di Roma a nome di Giustino I, durante il regno di Teodorico, databile tra il 518 ed il 526 d.C. La moneta fu rinvenuta fortuitamente nel 1925 ad opera di Maria Brinzaglia, in territorio sovanense, nella tenuta Poderone presso il Podere Castellaccio lungo la Valle della Fonte. Il documento rintracciato nell'archivio Baldini porta la data del 23 Aprile 1925. Il sito si trova a circa quattro chilometri a sud-ovest di Sovana in un'area nota per la presenza di una necropoli eneolitica in località Pian Costanzi e per una frequentazione etrusca individuata più a nord lungo il Fosso Gamberaia. Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: castle / fortress

(SF) Campiglia Marittima, castello di Rocca San Silvestro, scavi 1984-94 (dep.: n.s.)

Durante le campagne di scavo dal 1984 al 1994 condotte a Rocca S. Silvestro, sono stati rinvenuti complessivamente 560 pezzi, 28 dei quali riferibili a monete romane di epoca repubblicana e imperiale e 522 medievali. Solo 10 esemplari non sono stati identificati per la pessima conservazione.

Ad eccezione di alcuni esemplari, la conservazione non è buona, a causa sia della giacitura nel terreno, che talvolta ne ha compromesso la leggibilità, sia soprattutto della prolungata circolazione che ha determinato la consunzione delle superfici.

La parte più consistente dei reperti proviene dalle aree abitative: ciò non deve risultare strano se pensiamo che, eccetto i casi in cui il nominale si trova all'interno dei crolli delle strutture, o nei vespai per il livellamento della roccia, con più frequenza le monete venivano smarrite accidentalmente, cadendo sui livelli pavimentali costituiti a Rocca S. Silvestro quasi sempre da terreno compattato, in grado di occultare ben presto un'eventuale piccola moneta caduta. Un caso a parte è costituito dall'area signorile, che presenta il piano di calpestio pavimentato a lastre e nella quale, forse non a caso, è stato rinvenuto un solo picciolo pisano.

Tra le aree funzionali il cimitero è quello che presenta il numero maggiore di nominali. In nessun caso le monete sono state trovate in posizioni particolari rispetto all'inumato, tali da suggerire una collocazione volontaria, una sorta di "obolo di Caronte" per il trapasso nell'aldilà. Resta comunque difficile stabilire se il nominale accompagnasse il defunto nella deposizione, poiché le sepolture presenti a Rocca S. Silvestro sono tutte fosse terragne vicine tra loro, che una volta rimosse venivano di nuovo interrate con le altre, procurando evidenti danni alle deposizioni precedenti.

- età antica: 28 monete di epoca classica, comprese in un arco cronologico che va dal III sec. a.C. agli inizi del IV sec. d.C. Gli esemplari più arcaici sono rappresentati da un piccolo bronzo di Arpi (Puglia) e da 8 monete ascrivibili al periodo repubblicano; la parte più cospicua dei nominali è invece rappresentata dai tipi di epoca imperiale. Ultimo, in ordine cronologico, un bronzetto tardo antico che, per la pessima conservazione, non è possibile identificare. Si tratta di monete di basso valore e, tranne un sesterzio dell'imperatore Gordiano III Pio, presentano una cattiva conservazione, dovuta soprattutto all'azione meccanica della circolazione, che ha consunto le superfici fino a renderle quasi dei semplici tondelli.
- età medievale: 522 es. tra monete e tessere. Le monete risultano in prevalenza di area toscana e provengono dalle zecche di Arezzo, Ferrara, Lucca, Napoli, Pavia, Perugia, Pisa, Roma, Siena, Verona, Viterbo, Viviers, Volterra (sede di Berignone) e di Provenza. Segnalato un gettone o tessera in ottone, prodotto dal XIII al XIV sec., e utilizzato probabilmente per fare i conti sull'abaco, oltre a due pezzi in piombo (1 di Pisa (?) e 1 di Bethune (?)).
 - US 243: 1 denaro di Lucca, H/LVCA intorno ad anelletto radiato, XIII sec.; 1 denaro di Pisa, F/ PISA intorno ad anelletto, XIII sec.; 1 denaro paparino di Viterbo, post 1268;
 - US 1808: 1 denaro castruccino di Lucca, 1324/25 c.-1328 c.; 1 denaro di Pisa, post 1318/1319-1330 (campana?);
 - US 3312: 1 denaro di Lucca, H/LVCA, fine XII-XIII sec.; 1 denaro di Siena, seconda metà XIII sec.; 1 picciolo di Pisa, post 1317/1318, pugnale;
 - US 3816: 1 picciolo di Pisa, post 1318/1319-1330 (rosetta in legenda); 1 aquilino piccolo di Lucca, 1319 c.-1324/25 c.;
 - US 3868: 1 denaro di Lucca, H/LVCA intorno ad anelletto, fine XII-XIII sec.; 1 denaro di Pisa, F/PISA intorno ad anelletto, XIII sec.; 1 fiorino picciolo di Firenze, 1258-1315; 1 quattrino di Firenze, 1332-1335;

(H) Collesalveti, Tenuta Bellavista Insuiese, 9 novembre 2021 (dep.: 82 a.C. o paulo post)

Il 9 novembre 2021, nella Tenuta Bellavista Insuiese tra Collesalveti e Livorno, quando nell'area agricola e forestale di interesse naturalistico, un membro del Gruppo Archeologico Paleontologico Livornese, mentre percorreva un terreno declive interessato da un recente taglio boschivo, scorgeva tra le foglie alcune monete all'apparenza antiche.

Contattata immediatamente la Soprintendenza, inviava le foto del ritrovamento al funzionario archeologo responsabile del territorio e ricevuta conferma dell'interesse archeologico, rimaneva a sorvegliare la zona fino all'avvenuto recupero di quasi tutte le monete e di alcuni frammenti del contenitore, una piccola olla di impasto. Nei giorni successivi la Soprintendenza provvedeva ad effettuare uno scavo nell'area immediatamente circostante, con il recupero di poche altre monete allontanate in antico, come attesterebbero le fratture consunte del contenitore.

Nel complesso il tesoretto rinvenuto, di età tardo repubblicana, è composto da 175 denari di argento in buono stato di conservazione ad eccezione di due monete fratturate e ricomponibili per intero, una spezzata in due parti e conservata solo per poco più della metà. Il numero originario delle monete dovrebbe avvicinarsi di molto o addirittura coincidere con quanto rinvenuto poiché, nonostante la rottura del contenitore, molti denari erano ancora raggruppati tra loro e solo pochi esemplari si trovavano dispersi in un breve raggio lontano dal nucleo più consistente.

I denari sono databili, secondo Crawford, tra il 157-156 a.C. e l'82 a.C.

Ad eccezione delle emissioni più antiche, databili tra il 157-156 ed il 110 a.C. e attestate in uno o al massimo due o tre esemplari, la presenza di gruppi più numerosi inizia a partire dal decennio 109-100 a.C. per poi raddoppiare nei decenni successivi. La massima concentrazione si ha per gli anni tra il 91 e l'88 a.C. del bellum sociale in cui la massa delle coniazioni rispecchia la grande movimentazione di uomini e mezzi da parte di Roma contro la rivolta dei socii italici. Successivamente abbiamo una riduzione numerica fino all'82 a.C., data a cui risalgono gli esemplari più recenti, terminus post quem subito dopo il quale è da ritenersi chiuso il gruzzolo di monete.

(H) San Vincenzo, loc. Rimigliano, agosto 2002 (dep.: n.s.)

Nell'agosto 2002, nelle acque della spiaggia di Rimigliano, a pochi metri dalla riva, un bagnante recuperò casualmente un ammasso metallico di 17 kg, risultato poi un conglomerato di monete AR di età romana imperiale.

L'ammasso non si trovava nella posizione originaria. I sopralluoghi del Nucleo Operativo Subacqueo della Soprintendenza hanno portato alla conclusione che provenisse da un relitto originariamente al largo di San Vincenzo, e che doveva essere stato depositato in prossimità della riva da subacquei clandestini, in attesa di un successivo recupero.

La quasi totalità delle monete sono antoniniani o radiati. La consistenza dell'ammasso è stata stimata in 3.500 monete circa.

(H) Capannori, fraz. Segromigno in Monte, 1936 (?) (dep.: ante 1267 (?))

Ripostiglio di consistenza ignota, di cui si trova notizia tra le provenienze di alcune monete della collezione di Vittorio Emanuele III conservata presso il Museo Nazionale Romano, nei cartellini con la dicitura Tesoretto di Segromigno 1936 che accompagnano alcuni fiorini d'oro.

Si tratta di tre esemplari delle prime emissioni, con la raffigurazione del santo in stile arcaico, mentre un ulteriore esemplare, databile al XV secolo, è probabilmente non pertinente.

In dettaglio, per quanto riguarda i fiorini di Firenze:

- fiorini con santo in stile arcaico (1252-ca.1267)
 - 1252/II-ca. 1267 (tre punti uniti ad inizio leggenda): 1 es.
 - 1252/II-ca. 1267 (trifoglio ai piedi del santo): 1 es.
 - 1252/II-ca. 1267 (fogliolina con gambo): 1 es.

Sulla base di questo dato il ripostiglio potrebbe essere stato occultato prima della coniazione dei fiorini con il santo in stile evoluto, rappresentando quindi il più antico ripostiglio conosciuto contenente fiorini d'oro.

Cons.: Tre es. al momento individuati all'interno della ex collezione Vittorio Emanuele III di Savoia presso il Museo Nazionale Romano, oltre un ulteriore es. non pertinente.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(P) Lucca, chiesa di San Ponziano (già chiesa di San Bartolomeo in Silice), n.s. (dep.: seconda metà XIV sec.)

Ripostiglio da 55 monete assai omogenee per conservazione, caratteristiche metrologiche ed area di provenienza, rinvenuto all'interno di una tomba nell'attuale chiesa di Bartolomeo in Silice (oggi San Ponziano; US 432) a Lucca, a destra della cassa toracica dell'inumato, insieme ad una chiave di ferro. Intorno si notavano i resti di un contenitore di cuoio, a forma di scarsella. Possibile contenuto di una borsa.

Composizione:

- 6 quattrini MI, zecca di Firenze, databili nel complesso tra il 1340 ed il 1352;
- 1 quattrino MI, zecca di Siena, introdotto secondo il CNI a seguito di una delibera monetaria del 14 gennaio 1351 e secondo Toderi, invece, con una delibera del 16 aprile 1371;
- 48 monete, zecca di Pisa, che il CNI e i cataloghi successivi identificavano ancora come "denari", datandoli al XV secolo, ma che proprio in base a questo gruzzolo, sulla base di scritti precedenti, devono essere riclassificati come "quattrini" ed assegnati al XIV secolo.

Gli esemplari pisani portano la legenda FEDERICVS IMPERATOR e l'aquila coronata al dritto, la legenda pisani COMVNIS ed una grande lettera P al rovescio, accompagnata dal segno dello zecchiere, che per tutti pezzi in esame è sempre un pugnale in palo.

Per altri materiali ritrovati nella stessa chiesa (denari normanni dell'XI secolo?) si rimanda anche al ritrovamento n. 7602.

(H) Lucca, loc. San Filippo-Arancio, area dell'Ospedale di San Luca, edificio medievale sito nell'area cd. "Casa degli Aranci", scavi 2009-11 (dep.: c. prima metà XIV sec. (probabilmente ante 1343))

Da scavi in struttura medievale sita nell'area della cd. "Casa degli Aranci", all'interno di un piccolo vasetto, gruzzolo costituito da 8 esemplari in lega d'argento della zecca di Lucca, tutti databili alla prima metà del Trecento, e da 1 pezzo in rame quasi illeggibile, probabilmente bizantino. Cinque monete risultano incollate, forse a causa dell'ossidazione sviluppatasi con il contatto con la moneta in rame.

Composizione:

- US 479 (gruppo A: 3 monete, peso complessivo 1,62 grammi)
 - 2 denari detti "castruccini", Castruccio Castracani (1316-28), zecca di Lucca;
 - 1 reale, Giovanni I Boemia (1331-33), zecca di Lucca, post 1332 (?);
- US 479 (gruppo B: 2 monete, peso complessivo 1,21 grammi)
 - 1 reale, Giovanni I Boemia (1331-33), zecca di Lucca, post 1332 (?);
 - 1 sestino, dominazione pisana (1342-69), zecca di Lucca;
- Monete isolate
 - 1 reale, Giovanni I Boemia (1331-33), zecca di Lucca, post 1332 (?);
 - 1 denaro detti "castruccino", Castruccio Castracani (1316-28), zecca di Lucca;
 - 1 frammento di reale, Giovanni I Boemia (1331-33), zecca di Lucca, post 1332 (?);
 - 1 assarion (?), Impero Bizantino (?), prima metà XIV secolo (?).

Il gruzzolo è stato rinvenuto in una buca sottostante al piano di calpestio dell'edificio medievale oggetto di indagine.

Massa-Carrara

(SF) Aulla, abbazia di san Caprasio, scavi 2004-05 (dep.: 950 – c. 1000)

Dagli scavi condotti nel complesso di San Caprasio, 26 pezzi monete, pesi monetari e oggetti monetiformi. Quasi tutti gli esemplari sembrano provenire da giaciture isolate, spesso secondarie. Non sembra si possano individuare o provare associazioni complesse.

Composizione:

- denaro, Ugo di Arles (926-931) con legenda vcvspivsrex, zecca di Venezia (moneta in tre frammenti, ricomposta; per SACCOCCI 2009 è di Ottone III);
- denaro, Berengario II e Adalberto (950-961), zecca di Pavia (CNI 4, pp. 476-477 nn. 1-7, tav. XI n. 7);
- 2 denari, Ottone I e II di Sassonia (962-967), zecca di Pavia (CNI 4, p. 478 nn. 1 ss.);
- 2 denari, Ottone III di Sassonia (996-1002) (CNI 4, p. 481 nn. 3 ss.);
- denaro, Corrado II di Franconia (1026-1037), zecca di Milano;
- denaro, Corrado II il Salico (1032-1039), zecca di Lione (monogramma dell'arcivescovo Burchard (998-1031)?);
- denaro, Enrico IV di Franconia (1053-1106), zecca di Lucca;
- 2 denari scodellati a nome di henricvs (1056-1125), zecca di Venezia;
- denaro imperiale, Federico I di Svevia (1152-1190), zecca di Milano/Noseda (moneta frazionata);
- 2 pfennig, Arcivescovado di Colonia, Filippo arcivescovo (1168-1175);
- terzo di denaro imperiale, Filippo di Svevia (1207-1208), zecca di Parma;
- quarto di denaro imperiale, Ottone IV di Brunswick (1208-1209), zecca di Parma (in frammenti ricomposti);
- denaro, zecca di Souvigny (1080-1213);
- denaro, Federico II di Svevia (1220-1250), zecca di Pavia;
- minuto, Repubblica di Genova, doge Antoniotto Adorno, zecca di Genova;
- quattrino, Ducato di Urbino, Guidobaldo I da Montefeltro (1482-1508), zecca di Urbino per Casteldurante;
- grossetto da 4 soldi, Repubblica di Siena (?), 1495-1500 ca., zecca di Siena (moneta in incerta lettura, forse denaro francese più antico?);
- sesino, Ducato di Parma, Ranuccio Farnese (1646-1694), zecca di Parma;
- pezzo da 5 centimes, Napoleone III di Francia (1852-1871);
- medaglia devozionale in argento (D/ busto papale frontale con triregno; R/ due busti ammantati di santi (Pietro e Paolo?) affrontati, al centro croce astile);
- peso monetario AE per doppia di Genova AV del 1758-1805;

(SiF) località imprecisata, nell'alveo del fiume Frigido, n.s. (ante 1894) (dep.: post 1559)

Ritrovamento di un testone di Alberico I Cybo Malaspina, marchese di Massa (1553-68), nell'alveo del fiume Frigido. La moneta (CNI 11, p. 211 n. 20) risulta coniata nella zecca di Massa di Luinigiana e sarebbe databile tra il 1559 e il 1568.

RUGGERO 1894, pp. 281-282: Curioso abbastanza è il modo del rinvenimento di questo pezzo importante, e voglio qui riferirlo come lo appresi dal Conte Luigi Staffetti. Fu trovato da alcuni operai che raccoglievano i ciottoli della ghiaia nel letto del Frigido per farne calcina, mentre li gettavano colla pala contro la rete metallica tenuta ritta sul suolo per liberarli dalla rena. Avvertirono essi un suono metallico che non poteva esser stato prodotto dai ciottoli stessi: videro la moneta, la credettero falsa, e poi si ritennero ben fortunati di aver trovato un originale, secondo loro, che volle pagarla due lire, e questi era il Fontana. Ora gli eredi l'hanno venduta e non mi riuscì di sapere dove sia andata a finire.

La moneta è riconosciuta in ESPOSITO 2016, p. 32 n. 10, tra quelle presenti nella ex collezione di Vittorio Emanuele III di Savoia (inv. SS-Col 608958), acquisita dagli eredi Fontana di Massa nel 1895/6.

(SF) Pontremoli, Serrallunga di Versola, loc. Forno, scavi 2018 (dep.: inizio II sec. a.C. – XVII/XVIII sec.)

Il 24 luglio 2018 la ricerca in regime di concessione ministeriale aveva inizio interessando due diverse fasce di terrazzamento, coltivate fino alla metà XX secolo. In località Forno, alla testata del Rio Serrallunga, accanto alle rovine della cascina Romualdo Piagneri, venivano individuati due siti con materiali archeologici d'epoca romana: l'uno a monte (sito 1) e l'altro a valle (sito 2) dell'antica strada acciottolata che, risalendo da Versola, si portava a Logàrghena per proseguire in direzione Serravalle-Caprio-Ponticello-Sorano. Si è proseguito quindi con l'indagine sui due siti, procedendo a una loro pulitura, mediante mezzo meccanico, dai fitti rovi e dalle piante secche cadute e marcescenti. Dopo la ripulitura il suolo agrario nei primi 15/20 cm (US 1) è stato controllato con l'ausilio del metal detector. La presenza di materiale archeologico d'età romana relativamente abbondante ha indotto a effettuare in entrambi i siti una trincea esplorativa alla ricerca di strutture in posto.

- Sito 1: posto sul lato superiore e a fianco dell'antica strada acciottolata, si configura come una fascia di terrazzamento pianeggiante, estesa circa 300 mq e coltivata ancora nei primi anni '60 del XX secolo. La trincea, dalle dimensioni di m 15 di lunghezza, m 1,5 di larghezza e cm 30 di profondità, ha consentito di scoprire al margine Nord/Est un contesto interessante, ancorché abbastanza danneggiato dagli interventi medievali e posteriori. Ad affiorare, sul limite Nord della trincea, è stata la canalizzazione coperta di una sorgente (struttura 1), poi seguita con scavo stratigrafico ed esposta per circa 8 metri, rinvenuta a ridosso del muro attuale di contenimento del terrazzamento superiore. La canaletta era accompagnata, sul lato esterno, da un percorso debolmente inghiaiato e delimitato da un muretto (struttura 2), quest'ultimo riconoscibile solo a tratti poiché parzialmente distrutto dai lavori agricoli; su questo percorso o piano d'uso, creato per seguire a lato la canalizzazione evitando di incedere nel fango, si trovava una piccola moneta in rame, databile al IV secolo d.C., fondamentale per comprendere quando questa fonte strutturata fosse in uso. Si tratta di un'indicazione da riferirsi al momento del suo ultimo utilizzo: le monete romane rinvenute nel terreno adiacente sottoposto a lavori agricoli, in numero complessivo di 9, fanno supporre una storia del sito 1 ben più articolata, ove la sorgente attrezzata, la stessa esposta o forse altra situata nelle immediate vicinanze, appare frequentata dagli inizi del II secolo a.C., come provato dalla presenza di un vittoriato (serie d'emissione tarda, d'inizi II secolo a.C.) con usura da circolazione, recuperato a cinque metri di distanza dal punto in cui sgorgava l'acqua dalla nostra fonte, indizio chiaro di come una prima frequentazione della sorgente ebbe inizio già dalla fondazione della via Parma-Luni. Sebbene mutilata e interrotta dagli interventi medievali e post medievali la canalizzazione tardo antica lasciava ben intendere ove si dirigesse originariamente, ovvero sull'adiacente strada acciottolata attuale che, per il suo innestarsi, aveva predisposto sul lato a monte uno slargo a mezzaluna, ancor oggi ben distinguibile benché retaggio di una sistemazione risalente a diversi secoli fa, slargo nel quale è possibile fosse collocata una vasca di raccolta, a servizio immediato di coloro che transitavano. Dal sito 1 provengono nove monete romane, otto dal terreno arativo e una sul piano d'uso della sorgente canalizzata messa in luce con lo scavo. Le monete provenienti dall'arativo si datano tra inizi II a.C. (vittoriato con usura da circolazione) fino all'avanzato IV secolo e potrebbero essere offerte legate alla presenza di un'antica sorgente che nel IV secolo venne strutturata (o ristrutturata) per portare l'acqua direttamente sul percorso, verosimilmente entro un'apposita vasca il cui spazio è stato possibile riconoscere. Il contesto va quindi interpretato come una sorgente attrezzata, attiva probabilmente dagli inizi del II secolo a.C., frequentata da coloro che transitavano e talora offrivano una moneta. Tra questi v'erano sicuramente dei commercianti, a giudizio dei piccoli pesi in piombo e forse anche dei frammenti d'asta di stadera recuperati dal sito 2 (v. oltre).

- Sito 2: costituito da un'ampia fascia pianeggiante terrazzata posta sotto strada e distante circa una cinquantina di metri dal sito 1. Reperti nel terreno agrario (US 1) sono stati rinvenuti in un'estensione di circa 300 mq. L'importanza del sito 2 risulta purtroppo limitata ai soli materiali archeologici recuperati. Una trincea, lunga 25 metri e larga 1,5, praticata in mezzo a questo pianoro alla ricerca di strutture sepolte, ha evidenziato solo 3 unità stratigrafiche: l'arativo contenente i materiali archeologici, sia d'epoca romana che posteriori (US 1, max 20 cm), uno strato argilloso con rari materiali già riscontrato nel sito 1 (US 2, max 20 cm), uno strato sterile con affioramento della roccia marnosa di base (US 3, inciso per 10 cm al tetto). La quantità e la qualità dei materiali recuperati lasciavano intendere vi potesse essere sepolta una o più strutture abitative, potendosi interpretare il contesto certamente come un luogo di sosta che sfruttava il pianoro di Forno e le numerose sorgenti situate tutt'attorno, frequentato da coloro che transitavano tra cui certamente dei commercianti.¹⁸ Non può essere esclusa la presenza di strutture abitative di ricovero negli immediati dintorni. Si ritiene possibile l'ipotesi che tra medioevo ed età moderna, consistenti lavori praticati su queste fasce agricole terrazzate abbiano cancellato, in tutto o in parte, le tracce di preesistenti strutture insediative d'epoca romana. Dal sito 2 provengono 40 reperti tra cui 11 monete d'età romana, che indicano una frequentazione del luogo avviata nella tarda età repubblicana e proseguita fino al tardoantico. Le monete coprono il periodo che va dalla fine del I secolo a.C. (tra cui asse di II-I a.C. ma frazionato tra I secolo a.C. e I d.C.; moneta augustea) al V d.C., attraverso il III secolo ma con una rilevanza particolare soprattutto nel IV secolo.

(SF) Casciana Terme, castello di Parlascio, n.s. (dep.: XII-XVII secolo)

Durante le operazioni di scavo effettuate nell'area del castello del Parlascio (Casciana Terme – PI) sono state rinvenute alcune monete medievali. Sono cinque esemplari prodotti tutti da zecche toscane (Pisa, Firenze, Siena e Lucca) tra il XII e il XVII secolo, con una leggera preponderanza dei nominali pisani. Purtroppo sono stati rinvenuti con le setacciate della terra di risulta e perciò non è stato possibile definire in modo più stringente il loro contesto di ritrovamento. La loro provenienza e la loro cronologia ad ogni modo risponde a quella degli altri materiali mobili del sito.

(H) Pisa, Loggia dei Banchi, settembre 1925 (dep.: fine anni '50 del XIII secolo (ante 1270 per DE BENETTI 2019a e DE BENETTI 2024))

È stato ipotizzato che questo ripostiglio si componesse di circa 1.600-1.700 AV, oltre a numerosi "spezzati" e della polvere d'oro, anche se una stima precisa appare piuttosto difficile. Fu rinvenuto nel settembre 1925 durante lavori sotto la pavimentazione delle Logge dei Banchi e venne per la maggior parte disperso nel mercato antiquario. L'intervento delle autorità competenti permise il recupero di 229 monete a seguito di una lunga e complessa vicenda giudiziaria, terminata nel dicembre 1929.

Segnalati hystamenon AV Basilio II e Costantino VIII. Poi 119 tari AV svevi; 16 augustali AV; ½ augustale AV di Federico II; 91 fiorini AV Firenze (ma STAHL 2000, nota 17 a p. 30, parla di 88 very early florins); grosso AV Lucca primo tipo.

Segnalati:

(H) Pisa, via Carducci, 1954 (dep.: c. 1495/6)

Da lavori di ricostruzione e ammodernamento degli edifici situati nel centro storico urbano, ripostiglio con 2 AV + 136 AR, principalmente delle zecche di Firenze (1 quattrino MI, 54 AR, 1 fiorino AV, emessi tra il 1373 e il 1496) e Lucca (2 grossetti 3 31 grossi AR battuti tra la metà e la fine del XV secolo).

Tra le monete più recenti, segnalato un grosso dello Stato Pontificio emesso tra il 1492 e il 1506, un carlino e un ducato della zecca di Napoli del 1458-94, e una mezza lira della zecca di Venezia del 1486-91.

I materiali rinvenuti, unitamente all'assenza di monete di Pisa della Seconda Repubblica (1494-1509), portano a datare il ripostiglio al 1495/6 c.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(H) Volterra, nei pressi delle mura, 1868 (dep.: n.s.)

Ripostiglio, costituito da 65 AR, lingotti e una statuetta d'argento.

Per CAVAGNA, DE BENETTI 2023, il deposito sembra essersi formato essenzialmente nelle aree del Mediterraneo settentrionale in età tardo arcaica, da cui sarebbe poi giunto in una Etruria ancora priva di moneta e in cui l'argento era utilizzato a peso. A Volterra, in circostanze non chiare anche per la mancanza di uno specifico contesto archeologico di riferimento, sarebbe poi stato seppellito all'interno di un perduto vaso di terra nera presso le mura di Volterra.

Cons.: Inizialmente disperso, ma nel giro di pochi anni 56 pezzi furono recuperati e raccolti nel Museo Archeologico di Firenze.

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(SF) Chiusdino, abbazia di san Galgano, scavi giugno-luglio 2021 (dep.: ultimo quarto del XII sec. – ultimo quarto del XIV sec.)

Durante la campagna scavi del 2021 presso l'abbazia di san Galgano:

- durante lo scavo dello strato di pietre relativo ad una struttura funzionale delle cucine (area 3, settore A), denaro MI della zecca di Siena databile tra metà XIII e primo quarto XIV secolo;
- nella zona meridionale del settore di scavo (area 3, settore B), in corrispondenza dell'angolo sud-est del refettorio, sono stati individuati due allineamenti di mattoni con tracce di malta posti su due file parallele, legati tra di loro a formare un angolo. Questa struttura disposta in obliquo rispetto al perimetrale est del refettorio e al quale probabilmente gli si addossa potrebbe essere interpretabile come pulpito. Il pulpito, presente all'interno dei refettori, era solitamente inglobato all'interno del perimetrale ovest e in posizione rialzata, al quale si accedeva tramite una scalinata, e serviva per accogliere il monaco preposto alla lettura delle preghiere che venivano recitate durante la mensa. In questo caso risulterebbe invece sul lato opposto. All'interno del livello di malta che copre parzialmente i mattoni è stata individuata una moneta che al momento sembrerebbe molto simile al denaro della zecca di Siena (datazione post 1250-1285) rinvenuto pochi giorni prima nel settore A. La moneta sarà sottoposta pulizia per una più precisa identificazione;
- a seguito della rimozione dello strato di abbandono (area 3, settore B; seconda metà XIV-inizio XV secolo), è stata rinvenuta una moneta nel piano di calpestio, localizzato a ridosso del perimetrale est del refettorio. Dopo una pulitura preliminare, è emerso che si tratta di un denaro MI della zecca di Lucca, riconducibile a un ambito cronologico dell'ultimo quarto del XII secolo.

- Moneta bizantina: solidus AV Giustiniano I/Roma (536-542; D/ dnivstini anvspavc R/ victori aavcccr In es. conob) (MIBE 2000, pp. 48-49, p. 118, pl. 15, n. 30).

- Ritrovamenti sporadici da scavi 2003-06:

- Moneta IX-X secolo: frammenti di denari AR del tipo con tempio tetrastilo e legenda XPISTIANA RELIGIO, denaro AR di “Carlo imperatore” (frammento), denaro AR Berengario I (ma attribuzioni da confermare). Esistono poi altri frammenti, diversi dei quali riferibili a monete del Regnum Italiae del X secolo, ma di dimensioni troppo ridotte per permettere di individuarne autorità emittente e zecca di provenienza. Tutti questi materiali sono ancora in corso di studio.
- Anche monete di Lucca del XII secolo, nel crollo (FELICI 2010, p. 70, nota 22).

- Ritrovamenti sporadici da scavi 2010 (tutti con metal detector; v. HOBART et alii 2012, p. 202):

- asse, zecca di Roma, fine III-II sec. a.C. (g. 15,73; mm 28,70; SPA 2010, sommità della collina ad est dell’area 1000);
- denaro, zecca di Pavia, Corrado II di Franconia, 1027-39 (CNI 4, p. 487 n. 4, tav. XL n. 17; g. 0,85; mm 15,80 (frammentato); SPA 2010, Area 1000, sommità della collina);
- denaro piccolo, zecca di Arezzo, Repubblica di Arezzo, secc. XIII-XIV (CNI 11, p. 6 nn. 45-48, tav. I n. 10; g. 0,41; mm 14,00; SPA 2010, Area 1000, sommità della collina);
- quattrino, zecca di Lucca, Repubblica di Lucca, seconda metà sec. XVI (CNI 11, p. 115 e ss.; g. 0,68; mm 17,20; SPA 2010, Area 4000, area immediatamente dietro le absidi centrale e meridionale della chiesa);
- crazia o quattrino, zecca di Firenze, Granducato di Toscana, secc. XVI-XVII (CNI 12, tavv. XX nn. 23-24, XXIV nn. 11-12, 14-16; g. 0,95; mm 17,50; SPA 2010, Area 4000, area immediatamente dietro le absidi centrale e meridionale della chiesa).

In CHIARANTINI et alii 2021 (table A1), tra i ritrovamenti sporadici si ricordano, le seguenti monete:

- 1 obolo AR di Ludovico il Pio (822-840), zecca di Milano (ma da esame diretto, da riferire a zecca ignota non italiana, presumibilmente di area francese);
- 2 denari AR, Berengario I re (890-902), zecca di Milano;
- 1 denaro AR, Ugo di Arles (931-947), zecca di Pavia;
- 1 denaro AR, Berengario I, epoca incerta, zecca di Pavia;
- 2 denari AR, Corrado II di Franconia (1027-1039), zecca di Lucca.

L’elenco dei materiali di età medievale è da ritenersi parziale e con possibili piccole duplicazioni legate alla disponibilità di dati non sempre chiari circa le diverse campagne di scavo.

Quarto riportato in FELICI 2010 e CHIARANTINI et alii 2021 è essenzialmente relativo a materiali musealizzati, ma ne esistono altri ancora in corso di studio (v. sopra).

(SF) Bolzano, duomo (chiesa di santa Maria Assunta, Dom Maria Himmelfahrt), n.s. (dep.: V sec. d.C. (o piuttosto VI-VII sec.))

L'impianto della chiesa gotica di santa Maria Assunta ha sostituito un precedente edificio di culto fondato nel VI-VII secolo. Con questa datazione sono segnalati sepolture e reperti isolati. Per CAVADA 2016, p. 85, la presenza di alcune monete di conio tardoromano degradate, di vetri e di una fibula a staffa allungata tipo "Sciscia" renderebbero possibile anticipare la datazione al tardo V secolo.

(oth) Dimaro, chiesa di san Lorenzo, scavi 2009 (dep.: XII-XV secc.)

In occasione dei lavori di restauro del 2009, la superficie interna della chiesa è stata indagata dagli archeologi che hanno registrato la presenza di strutture e stratigrafia riferibili alla nascita e allo sviluppo della chiesa, nonché di un cimitero preesistente all'edificio di culto. Quest'ultimo è segnalato dalla presenza di un tratto murario, interpretato come il recinto entro cui si trovavano alcune tombe ad inumazione rinvenute nell'attuale presbiterio e al centro della navata. Una fibula digitata della metà del VI-VII secolo d.C., in giacitura secondaria, potrebbe – seppur con molti dubbi – datare le sepolture all'età altomedievale. Sopra a questo antico cimitero, attorno al XIV secolo, viene costruita una chiesa bi-absidata, all'interno e all'esterno della quale si continua a seppellire. La chiesa è successivamente oggetto di ristrutturazioni, la prima delle quali si compie probabilmente a ridosso del 1485, data dipinta nell'abside rifatta; ulteriori, drastici, rifacimenti la portano allo stato attuale.

Quanto alle monete, in due soli casi esse sono chiaramente associate ad una sepoltura, contenute, per il resto, in strati di terra formati a seguito di eventi diversi, come riporti o accrescimenti del suolo:

- ritrovamenti isolati

- denaro piccolo scodellato, zecca di Padova, 1256-1328 (SLD 09, navata, US 200 (inv. 293));
 - quattrino da 2 denari, zecca di Padova, Francesco I e Francesco II da Carrara, 1387-1405 (SLD 09, presbiterio, US 49 (inv. 74));
 - denaro piccolo, zecca di Trevico, Enrico II Conte di Gorizia vicario Imperiale e Signore, 1319-1323 (SLD 09, presbiterio, US 103 (inv. 58));
 - denaro piccolo crociato, zecca di Verona, c. 1183-fine XIII sec. (SLD 09, navata, US 161 (inv. 60));
 - denaro piccolo crociato, zecca di Verona, Cangrande della Scala e successori, ante 1350 c. (SLD 09, navata, US 163 (inv. 68));
 - mediatino, zecca di Verona, Alberto II-Mastino II e successori, c. 1337-1378 (SLD 09, navata, US 161 (inv. 65));
 - denaro, zecca di Verona, Gian Galeazzo Visconti conte di Virtù e duca di Milano, 1387-1402 (SLD 09, presbiterio, US 103 (inv. 59));
 - quattrino, zecca di Lienz, Leonardo conte di Gorizia, 1454-1500 (SLD 09, sagrestia, US 56 (inv. 67));
 - denaro piccolo, zecca di Merano, Mainardo I conte del Tirolo, 1253/55-1259 (SLD 09, navata, US 161 (inv. 64));
 - quattrino, zecca di Merano, Leopoldo III o Leopoldo IV conte del Tirolo, 1379-1386, 1396-1406 (SLD, navata, US 35 (inv. 142));
 - 4 es. quattrino, zecca di Merano, Federico IV conte del Tirolo, 1406-1439 (SLD 09, navata, US 200 (inv. 292); SLD 09, navata, US 250 (inv. 69); SLD 09, navata, US 161 (inv. 61); SLD 09, navata, US 161 (inv. 62));
 - 2 es. quattrino, zecca di Hall, Sigismondo conte del Tirolo, 1477-1486 (SLD 09, navata, tomba 32, US 180 (inv. 66); SLD 09, navata, US 161 (inv. 63));
- gruzzolo composto da 9 quattrini di Merano/Hall impilati e uniti dall'ossidazione, databile probabilmente tra Enrico (1365-1373) e Leopoldo IV (1396-1406) conti del Tirolo; si distingue solo una faccia di ciascun quattrino alle estremità della pila (SLD 09, navata, US 207, tomba 42 (nella mano dell'inumato) (inv. 301)).

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(SF) Dimaro, chiesa di santa Brigida, scavi 2010 (dep.: XII-XV secc.)

Nel 2010, su richiesta dell'Amministrazione comunale in vista di un progetto di valorizzazione della Val del Meledrio, sono stati aperti alcuni sondaggi sul dosso di santa Brigida dove tradizionalmente si riteneva fosse l'omonima chiesa medievale, con annesso ospizio. Entrambi sono citati nella documentazione storica non prima del 1464, per quanto ritenuti di fondazione più antica, in particolare di XIII secolo se non, addirittura, altomedievale. Nella chiesa si celebrò fino alla fine del XVIII secolo ma poco tempo dopo l'edificio sacro cadde in abbandono, tanto da non essere neppure segnalato nel catasto del XIX secolo. Alcuni decenni fa, in occasione della ristrutturazione della piccola malga tuttora presente, furono rinvenute molte ossa e dunque si rafforzò l'idea che proprio quello fosse il sedime dell'antico complesso. Con l'intervento del 2010 gli archeologi hanno messo in luce, appena al di sotto della cotica erbosa, il perimetro murario della chiesa ed alcune tombe ad inumazione in fossa semplice; in due sondaggi all'esterno ovest della malga, inoltre, sono state osservate tracce di muri precedenti a quelli ora visibili. I resti murari e le sepolture, purtroppo, sono apparsi molto compromessi: si legge comunque chiaramente la pianta di una chiesa molto comune in età medievale, di piccole dimensioni ad aula unica ed abside semicircolare, correttamente orientata ad est. Le tombe erano sei, di cui cinque all'esterno ed una all'interno dell'antico perimetro murario: tutti i defunti erano sepolti con il cranio ad ovest.

Fra i pochissimi reperti raccolti e registrati si annoverano le monete che giacevano a contatto con la superficie naturale del dosso nell'area dell'abside:

- denaro a nome di Enrico imperatore, zecca di Verona, metà XII sec. c. (US 123, testa di strato);
- denaro piccolo crociato, zecca di Verona, c. 1183-fine XIII sec. (US 123, testa di strato);
- denaro scodellato, zecca di Venezia, doge Orio Malipiero, 1178-1192 (US 123, testa di strato);
- quattrino, zecca di Merano, Federico conte del Tirolo, post 1427 (US 123, testa di strato).

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(SF) Flavon, chiesa pievana della Natività di san Giovanni Battista, n.s. (dep.: XII-XV secc.)

Da scavi nella chiesa pievana della Natività di san Giovanni Battista a Flavon, 63 monete, con una distribuzione cronologica che comprende i secoli dal XII al XV. La maggioranza dei pezzi si ripartisce tra i secoli XIV e XV (86%), epoca in cui le strutture subirono profondi interventi di ristrutturazione. Del tutto residuali sembrano essere le monete di XII secolo che provengono esclusivamente da strati di riporto: un paio dall'interno della chiesa sud, dai riporti per la risistemazione (SS 5) finalizzata all'erezione dell'abside poligonale; una dal cimitero (SS 324), da uno dei riporti che coprono la rasatura del sarcofago di fase 1, nel quale peraltro è presente anche un quattrino del 1396-1406.

Lo scavo della chiesa non ha documentato altri materiali, certamente databili, di XII secolo. Tuttavia, sebbene quest'ultima sia menzionata per la prima volta in un documento datato attorno al 1245 tra i beni confermati da papa Innocenzo IV al monastero di Santa Maria Coronata presso Cunevo, sussistono tracce archeologiche di una fase ben più antica della chiesa, avvalorate da indicazioni storiche sul radicamento nel territorio della famiglia di Flavon nel XII secolo: pertanto risulta acclarato che una struttura di tipo ecclesiastico fosse già in opera nei secoli precedenti la prima citazione documentaria.

(SF) Loppio, isola di Sant'Andrea, area archeologica, scavi dal 1998 (dep.: n.s.)

Moneta ostrogota: $\frac{1}{4}$ siliqua AR Giustiniano/Teodorico (ARSLAN 1989, AR 22).

Moneta AE3-AE4 di III-IV secolo, anche forata.

Moneta bizantina: frazione di siliqua AR Giustiniano/Ravenna (MORRISON 4/Rv/AR/25-29).

Segnalata anche moneta romana e tardonantica (MAURINA, MOSCA n.d.), altomedievale (MAURINA 2009) e della zecca di Trento a nome di Federico II di Svevia (CHIMIENTI n.d.).

Nel castrum, da scavi degli anni 2000-14, 94 reperti monetali (descritti ed esaminati in CALOMINO 2016). L'arco cronologico complessivo delle emissioni presenti nel sito si estende dal II secolo a.C. al XVII secolo. Se si eccettuano i due estremi opposti rappresentati ciascuno da attestazioni isolate (un esemplare romano repubblicano e uno medievale), l'intera documentazione si inquadra nei primi sei secoli dell'era cristiana. Circa l'80% è composto da monete in bronzo che si datano entro un intervallo approssimativo di 250 anni, tra gli inizi del IV secolo e la metà del VI, e di queste quasi la metà si concentra nel cinquantennio 330-383 d.C., che fu la fase di più intensa produzione di divisionale eneo durante l'impero romano. Dato che il sito non ha restituito tracce di una sicura presenza romana prima della fase goto-bizantina e longobarda, il numerario bronzeo tardo-imperiale può essere considerato come ancora largamente "in uso" a cavallo tra il VI e il VII secolo, piuttosto che come materiale prevalentemente residuale. Ciò è avvalorato dall'apporto dei dati stratigrafici di provenienza delle monete, che in molti casi afferiscono a contesti di giacitura primaria e sicuramente pertinenti ai livelli più tardi di occupazione dell'insediamento. Inoltre, anche in caso di residualità dei materiali dalle fasi pre-longobarde, essa andrebbe riferita con ogni probabilità al periodo della presenza goto-bizantina nell'isola.

Tra le monete del castrum notate:

- 8 esemplari goto-bizantini: 3 AE + 5 AR;
- 1 tremisse coniato a Roma a nome di Giustiniano I, afferente alla serie Victoria Augustorum con stella nel campo di destra del rovescio e l'indicazione CONOB in esergo;
- 1 soldo da 12 bagattini, zecca di Venezia, doge Francesco Erizzo (1631-46).

(H) Ossana, castello di san Michele, 1838 (dep.: 1330 c.)

Notizia del rinvenimento, nel 1838, di un ripostiglio di circa 50 AR/MI all'interno di un muro dal castello di san Michele di Ossana.

La descrizione del Giovanelli (1840) parla di una cinquantina di kleine Silbermünzen, tra i quali sono riconosciuti:

- grossi aquilini e tirolini della zecca di Merano (in maggioranza), conati tra il 1258 e i primi decenni del XIV sec.;
- grossi imitativi conati nelle zecche di Acqui Terme (1 es.), Cortemilia (2 es.), Ivrea (2 es.) e Mantova (1 es.).

Circostanze del ritrovamento ignote, non è chiaro se la scoperta sia occorsa durante lavori edili o se le monete siano emerse a seguito di un crollo spontaneo del muro dovuto al degrado dell'edificio.

Cons.: Il Giovanelli (1840) riporta che il ripostiglio fu venduto a un ora locale, dopo che alcuni pezzi da lui ritenuti di particolare importanza erano stati consegnati all'I.R. Gabinetto Numismatico e delle Antichità di Vienna e altri pezzi erano stati da lui tratti per la sua collezione privata.

Dato che la collezione del Giovanelli, dopo la sua morte, è stata donata al Museo del Castello del Buonconsiglio di Trento, è possibile che una parte dei materiali del ripostiglio siano ora presenti presso quelle raccolte.

(SF) Ossana, piazza san Vigilio, nei pressi della chiesa di san Vigilio, scavi 2007 (dep.: XII-XIV secc.)

Le indagini condotte presso la chiesa di san Vigilio a Ossana si sono svolte nel 2007, nell'ambito del progetto di riqualificazione della piazza. Non appena asportati i piani moderni sono emerse numerose tombe di individui sepolti fra il XVII ed il XIX secolo, parte di un cimitero più ampio e di origine certamente più antica. Le sepolture erano numerose e spesso concentrate nel medesimo spazio poiché l'assenza di segnapoli non permetteva di ricordarne l'esatta collocazione. I reperti associati alle quaranta tombe indagate sono pochi, come spesso si riscontra nei cimiteri medievali e moderni: perline di rosario in legno, una medaglietta votiva, due anelli in bronzo e diversi complementi di abbigliamento come spille, spilloni ferma sudario, fibbie o bottoni.

Due sole monete giungono da strati di riporto o superficiali e pertanto vanno classificate come ritrovamenti sporadici pertinenti genericamente all'area indagata:

- denaro scodellato, zecca di Venezia, doge Sebastiano Ziani, 1172-1178 (10-09-07, sporadico (vic. T4-T5));
- quattrino, zecca di Merano, Leopoldo IV conte del Tirolo, 1396-1406 (14-09-07, sporadico angolo S-E).

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: castle / fortress

(SF) Piano di Commezzadura, chiesa di sant'Agata, n.s. (dep.: XIII-XVII secc.)

Monete tardo-medievali provenienti da due dei quattro sondaggi aperti all'interno della chiesa: in nessun caso esse sono in giacitura primaria poiché giungono da livelli di riporto e addirittura la maggior parte è scaturita dalla setacciatura del terreno. Sette monete, in particolare, giungono da uno strato steso a coprire il pavimento della chiesa più antica nel momento in cui se ne decide l'ampliamento verso ovest e, forse, anche verso est. Il primitivo edificio sacro viene citato nelle fonti scritte intorno alla metà del XIII secolo, periodo cui va ascritto anche un affresco raffigurante Cristo benedicente tra due angeli rinvenuto sulla parete meridionale esterna. L'ampliamento verso ovest non è storicamente databile, al contrario di quello verso est, che una scritta dipinta sopra un riquadro affrescato permette di considerare finito entro il 1488. L'ottavo reperto numismatico era sulla testa di un livello adoperato come cimitero esterno (ora si trova all'interno della sagrestia): la mancanza di una sua chiara relazione con una sepoltura costringe a considerare anche questa moneta in giacitura secondaria.

- denaro piccolo, zecca di Mantova, emissioni vescovili, 1257-1276 (US 64 (inv. 4F));
- denaro piccolo scodellato, zecca di Trento, podestà imperiali, 1235-1255 (US 64 (inv. 4B));
- 3 es. denaro piccolo crociato, zecca di Verona, Cangrande della Scala e successori, ante 1350 c. (US 64 (inv. 4A, 4D e 4E));
- 2 es. mediatino, zecca di Verona, Alberto II-Mastino II e successori, c. 1337-1378 (US 64 (inv. 2 e 4C));
- quattrino, zecca di Hall, Leopoldo V d'Asburgo-Tirolo (1619-1632)-Leopoldo I (1658-1705) (sondaggio della sacrestia, US 4 (inv. 1)).

(SF) Sella Giudicarie, ex comune di Breguzzo, fine XIX – inizio XX sec. (dep.: post 147 d.C.)

A monte di Breguzzo, prospiciente il torrente Arnò, sul dosso denominato “Castèl” si sviluppava un insediamento retico (tracce di abitazione, materiale ceramico), indagato da Renato Perini nel 1975. Dalla medesima località provengono manufatti dell'età del Bronzo (un coltello, un cucchiaino) e due monete romane di Faustina, recuperate tra la fine dell'Ottocento e i primi anni del Novecento.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(SF) Trento, chiesa di sant’Apollinare, scavi 2006-14 (dep.: XII-XIX secc.)

DA indagini archeologiche effettuate nella chiesa di sant’Apollinare a Trento tra il 2006 e il 2014, 40 monete singole datate tra la fine del XII e il XIX secolo e un assemblaggio della fine degli anni ‘30 del XVII secolo. L’assemblaggio consiste in un gruppo di 35 monete, rinvenuto nel 2010 durante lo scavo di una parte del sagrato della chiesa che era stata utilizzata come cimitero. Gli esemplari non erano direttamente collegati a una sepoltura, ma piuttosto collocati in uno strato interpretato come livello del terreno, disposti a mucchio e recavano tracce di materiale organico, probabilmente i resti di un contenitore per alimenti deperibili. Sono stati identificati cinque gruppi (denominati con le lettere da A a E), composti da monete di diverse dimensioni e metallo.

(oth) Trento, palazzo Tabarelli, scavi 1979-82 (dep.: tra il II-I sec. e XIX sec.)

Nel centro dell'antica Tridentum, indagini archeologiche svolte tra il 1979 e il 1982 hanno messo in luce un quartiere abitativo in uso tra la tarda età repubblicana e quella tardo antica e successiva. Insieme ai vari reperti mobili, si sono rinvenute anche 215 monete (di cui 203 collocabili tra il II-I sec. a.C. e il V sec. d.C., e 12 in età medievale e moderna). Mentre le emissioni di età repubblicana sono scarse, abbondanti diventano quelle di età imperiale, con un aumento significativo dopo la metà del III secolo quando la moneta viene anche raccolta in un piccolo ripostiglio. Si segnala una presenza consistente di esemplari di IV secolo e di contraffazioni di V e VI secolo.

Per l'età medievale e moderna:

- zecca di Verona, a nome di Enrico IV o V, c. 1100-85
 - 3 denari, tipo CNI 1-4, di cui uno in frammento;
- zecca di Verona, comune, 1185-1270
 - 7 denari, tipo CNI 1-12, di cui uno in frammento e uno fuori contesto;
- zecca di Trento, Nicolò da Brno (?)
 - 1 es. da 1/4 di Grosso, 1338-46, tipo CNI 4-16, fuori contesto;
- zecca di Vienna, Francesco Giuseppe I d'Asburgo
 - 1 es. da 2 heller 1897, fuori contesto.

(SF) Zuclo, area del castello, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

Il sito del castello – oggi scomparso – di Zuclo ha restituito numerosi reperti archeologici (tra cui monete), che vanno dal Bronzo recente al tardo Medioevo.

Una moneta dell'imperatore Aureliano, conservata nella Biblioteca di Tione tra i materiali di Zuclo, potrebbe in realtà provenire da una località del Bleggio Superiore.

Cons.: Dispersi in collezioni private oppure conservati presso enti e istituzioni locali (tra cui la Biblioteca di Tione, v. sopra) senza precisa registrazione.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(SF) Cascia, convento di san Francesco, 1800 (dep.: n.s.)

Da un manoscritto redatto tra il 1794 e il 1834 (II, c. 91r; RANUCCI 2002, pp. 221-222 n. 7): Nell'orto del convento di S. Francesco di Cascia nel zappare si sono trovate alcune monete antiche; due sono di Peruggia, ed anno da una parte un Leone, che ha una palla sotto un piede, e nel rovescio vi sono le chiavi col triregno col motto PERUSIA. L'altra è d'argento con un vescovo col pastorale da una parte, ed alcune lettere che non s'intendono, e dall'altra parte vi è una golpe [sic], che cammina sopra un trave. La quarta ha una Croce in mezzo con le parole CIVITAS VI.... e nel rovescio vi è il seguente segno § in mezzo con alcune parole, che non s'intendono. Di queste monete ne ha fatto acquisto il sig. Annibale Cittadoni.

Le monete sono identificate in RANUCCI 2002 come:

- Perugia, quattrino AE, Leone X, 1514-16 o 1516-20 (CNI 14, pp. 206-207 nn. 48 ss.);

(uns) Cascia, fraz. Colle Giaccone, 1820 (dep.: post 1514)

Da un manoscritto redatto tra il 1794 e il 1834 (II, cc. 171v-172r; RANUCCI 2002, pp. 243-245 n. 46): A Colle Giaccone sono state trovate quindici monete antiche, cioè quattro di Peruggia, e due di Ascoli, tre di Federico II Re di Napoli, 2 di Ferdinando Re di Napoli, 2 di Chieti, 3 dell'Aquila. Le monete di Perugia anno da una parte un triregno con le chiavi incrociate, e nel rovescio un leone con una palla sotto un piede. Le monete d'ascoli anno da una parte l'arma di Alessandro VI e dall'altra parte con due torri una stella e nell'intorno si legge LLL Esculo. Le monete di Federico hanno da una parte una testa coronata con l'intorno Ferdinandus rex (sic!), e nel Rovescio un cavallo con le parole Equitas Regni. Due sono stati i Federici, uno finì nel 1250 l'altro nel 1504. Le monete di Ferdinando hanno da una parte una testa coronata, con le parole Ferdinandus Rex e nell'altra un Cavallo con le parole Equitas Regni. Due sono i Ferdinandi antichi, uno che morì nell'a. 1494, e l'altro nel 1526. Le monete di Chieti anno da una parte una croce con le parole Civitas Teatina e dall'altra Carolus Dei Gratia Rex. Le monete aquilane in alcune vi è da una parte l'aquila con le parole Aquilana Civitas, nel rovescio un triregno con le chiavi incrociate con l'iscrizione Innocentius Papa VIII nell'altre da una parte vi è una croce con le parole Civitas Aquilana dall'altra vi è un'arma con tre gigli con l'iscrizione Carolus Dei Gratia Rex. Si trovano dappertutto in questo territorio Casciano un'infinità di queste monete di Peruggia di Federico e di Ferdinando Re di Napoli, di Chieti e dell'Aquila, bastando fare qualche piccolo scavo sotto le fabbriche antiche cadute a terra.

Le monete – 15 in totale sulla base di quanto indicato nel manoscritto – sono datate da RANUCCI 2002 dal 1458-94 al 1514-20 (che potrebbe costituire il terminus post quem del ripostiglio) e identificate come:

- Napoli, 6, 4 o 2 cavalli AE, Ferdinando d'Aragona, 1458-94 (CNI 19, pp. 179-181 nn. 860 ss.);
- Napoli, 4, 2 o 1 cavallo AE, Federico III d'Aragona, 1496-1501 (CNI 19, pp. 257 ss., nn. 121 ss.);
- L'Aquila, cavallo AE, Carlo VIII di Francia, 1495 (CNI 18, pp. 89-95 nn. 5 ss.);
- Chieti, doppio cavallo o cavallo AE, Carlo VIII di Francia, 1495 (CNI 18, pp. 254 ss., nn. 1 ss.);
- Ascoli, doppio quattrino AE, Alessandro VI, 1492-1503 (CNI 13, p. 198 nn. 1 ss.);
- Perugia, quattrino AE, Leone X, 1514-16 o 1516-20 (CNI 14, pp. 206-207 nn. 159-161, 164).

Contesto del ritrovamento non facilmente identificabile nel manoscritto, non è immediato affermare che si tratti a tutti gli effetti di un ripostiglio e non piuttosto ritrovamenti sporadici su un'area comunque circoscritta.

(oth) Magione, loc. San Feliciano, lago Trasimeno, dragaggio 2007 (dep.: fine III sec. a.C. – inizi V sec. d.C.)

Durante lavori di risanamento della sponda del lago Trasimeno, insieme a pesi da rete e altri materiali – in particolare ceramici – riconducibili a un arco cronologico compreso tra la tarda età del bronzo e la prima età del ferro (secc. X-VIII a.C.), sono emerse 57 monete databili tra la fine del III sec. a.C. e gli inizi del V sec. d.C. Le monete sono tutte di bronzo, ad eccezione di un quinario romano-repubblicano di L. Rubius Dossenus. Si nota una massiccia presenza di antoniniani e antoniniani riformati (aureliani) databili da Gallieno e Diocleziano, mentre mancano esemplari databili tra la prima tetrarchia e la metà del IV sec. d.C.

Recuperati anche un quattrino di Bologna del XVIII secolo, non meglio identificabile, e 20 centesimi 1920 di Vittorio Emanuele III di Savoia.

Discovery of the find: fortuitous discovery, construction sites / road works

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: lake, river, water source, water well, aqueduct

(oth) Magione, loc. San Feliciano, lago Trasimeno, dragaggio 24-25 agosto 1961 (dep.: n.s.)

Il 24 e 25 agosto 1961, durante i lavori di risanamento della sponda del lago Trasimeno condotti dall'Amministrazione Provinciale di Perugia, una idrovora rigettò sulla riva un numero imprecisato di monete, di cui si riuscì a recuperare solo una parte:

- 16 es. recuperati dall'Amministrazione Provinciale di Perugia il 25 agosto 1961;
- 6 es. recuperati dalla Soprintendenza il 30 agosto 1961;
- 31 es. recuperati dai Carabinieri prima dell'8 ottobre 1961;
- 5 es. sequestrati dalla procura di Perugia il 26 giugno 1962.

Le monete sono tutte di età romana, tranne un mezzo baiocco 1802 di papa Pio VII della zecca di Roma.

Per RANUCCI 2019 (p. 255), è possibile che le monete possano, in larga parte se non esclusivamente, far parte di un originario deposito unitario di natura votiva costituito a offerte monetale (stipes) gettate nelle acque del lago, presumibilmente da un pontile o dalla banchina del porto antico.

Cons.: Tre dei quattro lotti recuperati nel 1961-62 sono conservati nel Medagliere di Perugia, mentre non è stato possibile rintracciare le 16 monete che furono raccolte dall'Amministrazione Provinciale, per un totale di 42 es. oggi reperibili.

(oth) Magione, loc. San Feliciano, lago Trasimeno, sequesto 2010 (materiali dal dragaggio 2007)
(dep.: n.s.)

Le vasche di decantazione del dragaggio del 2007 (v. ritrovamento n. 11021) sono state oggetto di saccheggi clandestini, in particolare per quanto riguarda gli oggetti metallici, recuperati con l'ausilio di metal detector. Tracce di questi saccheggi sono state notate durante i lavori e segnalate alle autorità, portando a disporre una sorveglianza anche notturna delle vasche, che peraltro erano già munite di recinzione e difficilmente praticabili.

Parte dei reperti sottratti è stata recuperata grazie all'intervento dei Carabinieri, che hanno sequestrato a un privato 17 monete antiche, per le quali è stata dichiarata la provenienza dalle vasche di decantazione di San Feliciano. Insieme alle monete sono state recuperate anche fibule protostoriche e materiali ceramici di tipo analogo a quelli rinvenuti nel dragaggio.

Tra le monete, notato asse etrusco con i tipi ruota/ancora.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: burial, unknown context

(H) Massa Martana, fraz. Montignano, 1744 (dep.: n.s.)

Ripostiglio, con oltre 150 es., probabilmente tutte della zecca di Tuder, quasi tutti dispersi subito dopo il ritrovamento.

Alcuni esemplari andarono a don Andrea Giovannelli, tra cui riconoscibili semissi (cane accovacciato/lyra, trienti (mano destra cestata/due clave), quadranti (rana/ancora) delle serie fuse, oltre a un mezzo (testa di Sileno a d./aquila) della serie coniata un sestante (clava/due gloveti) della serie ovale e una con ialo/(ialo) (fulmine?).

Tra gli esemplari rimasti allo scopritore ve ne era uno coi tipi testuggine/rana e un'oncia della serie Roma/Roma con astragalo.

Nello stesso luogo in seguito si rinvenne, insieme a un sigillo, un'altra moneta interpretabile ancora come un'oncia anomala della zecca di Todi con rana/testuggine.

(SF) Monteleone di Spoleto, loc. Forma Cavaliera, n.s. (dep.: III-I sec. a.C.)

Varie monete da santuario. Segnalate:

- quadrante AE (in tomba databile al primo decennio del I sec. a.C.);
- AE di Neapolis (?), c. 300-375 a.C., con testa di Apollo (?) laureata a s.;
- AE di zecca dell'Italia meridionale (?), ante 275 a.C., con testa femminile a d. al D/ e leone

- con spada tra le fauci al R/;
- bronzo con ROMANO e testa di Minerva con elmo corinzio, zecca di Roma, ante 269 a.C.;
- bronzo con testa di Roma con elmo frigio e scritta ROMA, zecca di Roma, 234-231 a.C.;
- semioncia con testa di Mercurio e scritta ROMA, zecca di Roma, 217-215 a.C.;
- triente con testa di Minerva e scritte P. SVLA e ROMA, zecca di Roma, 151 a.C.;
- quadrante con testa di Ercole e scritta ROMA, zecca di Roma, post 211 a.C.

Il santuario si colloca in un pendio prospiciente il Fosso Vorgia, in corrispondenza di una sorgente oggi quasi del tutto prosciugata, lungo un percorso trasversale secondario seguito dalle greggi per raggiungere la conca di Leonessa. Numerose offerte votive furono rinvenute negli anni '80 del XX secolo a seguito di scassi agricoli. Nel 1998 è stata effettuata una indagine sistematica delle superficie interessata dal santuario, distribuito su terrazzamenti di pietrame a secco, molto mal conservati.

La vita del santuario è attestata dal VII sec. a.C. fino alla prima età imperiale. Tra i materiali offerti si segnala la presenza di bronzetti femminili e con la raffigurazione di Marte, alcuni di dimensioni significative.

(SF) Nocera Umbra, loc. Il Portone, necropoli, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

Nel 1897 in località Il Portone, in prossimità dell'antico tracciato della via Flaminia, fu portato alla luce un vasto sepolcreto, di cui sono state scavate 165 tombe, diverse delle quali hanno restituito monete. La necropoli venne utilizzata per circa cinquant'anni a partire dal 576.

- tomba 11

- quadrans AE Claudio (RIC I, p. 126 n. 84 o 86), non riconosciuta dalla Rupp;

- tomba 17

- collana con sette tremisses AV Giustiniano I barbarizzati, battuti dagli stessi conii;

- tomba 56

- solidus AV Giustiniano I/Ravenna;

- tomba 69 (sepoltura femminile), databile all'inizio del VII sec.

- croce in oro;

- moneta romana in bronzo, autorità non identificata;
- tomba 85 (sepoltura doppia di bambino e bambina), databile agli ultimi anni del VI sec.
 - solidus AV Giustino II (erroneamente indicato in bacheca come di Giustiniano II), zecca di Ravenna, emesso nel 567, deposto vicino al bacino del bambino;
- tomba 87
 - 1/8 siliqua AR Giustiniano I o Giustino II (MIB I, 79 o MIB II, 42) in pisside;
- tomba 95 (sepoltura femminile), databile agli ultimi anni del VI sec.
 - moneta AE forata (segnalata da Arslan, ma non vista);
 - croce d'oro;
- tomba 100:
 - moneta AE forata;
- tomba 105 (sepoltura femminile), databile alla fine del VI sec.
 - 3 monete AE romane, autorità non identificata;

Da segnalare anche:

- tomba 39 con monete forate per collana;
- tomba 107 femminile con due monetine in rame.

La tradizione storiografica secondo cui il sepolcreto è pertinente a un "castello" va considerata con cautela, perché ad oggi non sono state individuate tracce di fortificazioni nelle immediate vicinanze. Prevale l'ipotesi di uno stanziamento in una villa romana, supportata dal ritrovamento di una cisterna e di tegole romane.

Notizia del ritrovamento avvenuto a Todi nel 1932 di un ripostiglio di oltre 300 AV scoperto durante la demolizione di un muro di una casa medievale. Le poche informazioni riportate sulle caratteristiche delle monete, di oro purissimo e pesanti circa tre grammi e mezzo, e la loro datazione al XIII secolo, rendono possibile trattarsi di fiorini d'oro.

Cons.: Disperso. Le monete furono sottratte durante i lavori e i Carabinieri intervennero per il loro recupero. Le ricerche condotte da M. De Benetti (2019a, p. 27) presso la locale Soprintendenza e il Museo Archeologico non hanno permesso di raccogliere ulteriori notizie in merito.

(SF) Baschi, loc. Scoppieto, scavi 1995-98 (dep.: n.s.)

Nel corso di quindici campagne di scavo condotte a Scoppieto dal 1995 al 2010 sono emerse complessivamente 178 (o 176?) monete e 1 tessera di piombo, di cui solo 114 leggibili e classificabili.

Fatta eccezione per un semisse della zecca di Todi, per un esemplare di zecca greca e per quattro monete di età moderna e contemporanea, sono tutte emissioni di età romana, sia del periodo repubblicano che di età imperiale.

I reperti di età moderna, tutti provenienti dalla US 1, fanno riferimento alla frequentazione del sito nel XIX secolo:

- da 2 baiocchi 1848, papa Pio IX, 1846-78, zecca di Roma;
- 5 centesimi 1861, Vittorio Emanuele II di Savoia, 1861-78, zecca di Napoli;
- 2 es. in bronzo non identificabili: forse papa Pio IX.

Discovery of the find: discovery during archaeological investigations

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: other place of worship (temple, sanctuary, cave)

(D) Orvieto, area archeologica di Campo della Fiera, santuario, scavi 2008 (dep.: I sec. d.C.)

Deposito votivo scoperto nel 2008 durante gli scavi di un grande santuario nei pressi di Orvieto (etrusco Velzna, latino Volsinii), nell'area di Campo della Fiera. Il santuario è probabilmente il Fanum Voltumnae, ossia il santuario federale degli Etruschi.

Associato a un altare, aveva la forma di un contenitore di pietra non iscritto – di una forma insolita per questo tipo di deposito – e conteneva 121 monete romane di età repubblicana e augustana, per lo più in bronzo.

VALLE D'AOSTA

Aosta

(H) Allein, settembre 1856 (dep.: I sec. a.C.)

Nel settembre del 1856, in seguito allo smottamento del terreno dovuto alle forti piogge sulla vecchia strada che portava al valico del Gran San Bernardo, nel comune di Allein venne alla luce un gruppo di 206 denari romani repubblicani conati tra il 157 e il 27 a.C.

I materiali vennero portati a Torino, catalogati dal Cornaglia e pubblicati sul Bollettino dell'Accademia di Sant'Anselmo di Aosta (n. 5, 1866).

Per GALLO 2005 la loro presenza potrebbe significare il pagamento di un pedaggio da parte dei Romani ai Salassi per l'attraversamento del territorio di questi ultimi negli anni che precedono la fondazione di Augusta Praetoria (Aosta) avvenuta nel 25 a.C.

(H) Chambave, agosto 1900 (dep.: fine XV – inizio XVI sec.)

Ripostiglio, con c. 400 monete in argento e mistura, dal 1434 al 1497.

Se ne ha notizia da un opuscolo dell'avvocato Alfredo Federigo Ferrero di Casale Monferrato pubblicato da Carlo Clausen di Torino nel 1902: in seguito ad un nubifragio, tra le frazioni di Margnier e Promassaz nel comune di Chambave, cade un macigno che provoca la rottura di un'olla di ceramica in cui sono contenute circa 400 monete che si spargono lungo il pendio sulla traccia lasciata dal macigno. Le monete vengono raccolte quasi tutte da un abitante del luogo di nome Verthuy; sono parte in argento e parte in mistura, in cattivo stato di conservazione per essere state immerse nell'acqua e nel fango.

Le monete trovate sono parpagliole, grossi, mezzi grossi, quarti, forti, bianchetti e maglie di viennese emesse dai duchi sabaudi Ludovico (1434-1465), Amedeo IX (1465-1472), Filiberto I (1472-1482), Carlo I (1482-1490) e Carlo Giovanni Amedeo sotto la tutela della madre Bianca di Monferrato (1490-1496). Segnalati inoltre grossi, sesini e denari della Repubblica Ambrosiana (1447-1450) e grossi, soldi, sesini e denari di Francesco I Sforza (1450-1466), Galeazzo Maria Sforza con Bianca Maria Visconti (1466-1468) e Galeazzo Maria Sforza (1468-1476). Sono presenti anche monete francesi di Luigi XI (1461-1483) e Carlo VIII (1483-1497) e monete dei papi Paolo II (1464-1471), Sisto IV (1471-1484) e Innocenzo VIII (1484-1492). Notato un c.d. quarto di grosso di Guglielmo I Paleologo, marchese di Monferrato (1464-1483), zecca di Casale Monferrato.

- 2 di Carino (283-285 d.C.);
- 4 di Diocleziano (284-305 d.C.);
- 1 di Massimiano Ercole (286-305 d.C.).

Gli esemplari degli ultimi due imperatori sono di conservazione splendida, il che suggerisce che dopo la loro emissione hanno circolato pochissimo e quindi si può ipotizzare che il gruppo di monete sia stato nascosto all'inizio del regno di Massimiano Ercole.

(H) Feltre, agosto-settembre 1840 (dep.: post 1508)

Tra le carte conservate presso il Museo Correr di Venezia compare un documento che riporta la notizia di un tesoro ritrovato a Feltre e poi trafugato: Saggio di monete d'oro trovate nel demolire una casa in Feltre nell'agosto e settembre 1840 entro un vaso di bronzo che poi furono derubate; e questa litografia presenta i connotati per iscoprire le altre.

La litografia in questione illustra quattro monete AV. Notate; ongaro di Mattia Corvino, zecca di Hermannstadt, maestro di zecca Thomas Altemberger, emesso tra il 1482 e il 1498; goldgulden postumo di Sigismondo I, zecca di Hall, 1508 circa; écu au soleil, Carlo VIII di Francia, zecca di Bordeaux, emissione 8 luglio 1494; goldgulden, arcivescovo Bertoldo, zecca di Mainz/Magonza, 1492.

(H) Feltre, chiesa di Ognissanti, scavi 2001 (dep.: post 1464)

In tomba, durante scavi archeologici, 4 AV, 22 AR e diverse dozzine di BI. I materiali furono rinvenuti attorno allo scheletro, il che suggerisce che le monete furono collocate tra i vestiti utilizzati per la sepoltura.

Composizione:

- monete AV
 - Genova, 4 ducati (2 Carlo VII di Francia, 1423-57; 2 Francesco Sforza, 1464-66);
- monete AR
 - Venezia, 2 grossoni da 8 soldi e 20 grossetti (Francesco Foscari, 1423-57);
- monete BI
 - materiali non individuabili, diverse dozzine di monete dello stesso modulo all'interno di una borsa di pelle, unite insieme dall'ossidazione; l'unica moneta riconoscibile risulta un denaro minuto della zecca di Genova databile al XV secolo.

(H) Voltago Agordino, loc. Digoman, primavera 1894 (dep.: ante 1230)

Nello schedario delle monete italiane redatto da Carlo Kunz e conservato presso il Museo Correr di Venezia compare la seguente nota, posta prima delle schede dedicate al doge Sebastiano Ziani (ASOLATI, CRISAFULLI 2010, p. 36): Nella primavera del 1894 il Prof. Valentino Ostermann seppe che un certo Dalla Porta di Voltago nell'Agordino aveva trovato nel suo terreno un secchio di monete per la massima parte venete. Nel novembre 1895 le acquistò per lire 296. Erano chili 5:250 di denari di Sebaziano Ziano, Orio Malipiero ed Enrico Dandolo, denaretti di Verona, alcuni di Trento, un denaro di Enrico VI per Venezia 1 grosso di E. Dandolo 9 di Pietro Ziani.

Furono da lui venduti a Marignoli due denari di Trento e 2 di E. Dandolo per £ 169.-

a Papadopoli 39 denari veneziani tre di Trento e 2 di Verona marzo 1896 per £ 220.-

ad altri 2 grossi P. Ziani £ 3.50

Ottobre 1897 da Papadopoli

33 denari £ 62.-

A Perini l'ultima di Trento £ 105.-

A Perini tutte le altre £ 350.- [...]

Nel complesso il ripostiglio doveva comprendere 1 AV e c. 15.000-18.000 (ma probabilmente di più) AR+BI.

Composizione:

- 1 AV forse della Spagna islamica, XI-XII sec. (data come sicura ma non vista);
- almeno 10 grossi di Venezia (1 Enrico Dandolo, 1192-1205; 9 (per MEC 12) o 10 (per

ASOLATI, CRISAFULI 2010) Pietro Ziani, 1205-29)

- denari di Trento databili agli anni 1177-1230;
- denari piccoli di Venezia (Sebastiano Ziani, 1172-78, Orio Malipiero, 1178-92; Enrico Dandolo, 1192-1205);
- denari crociati di Verona databili agli anni antecedenti il 1185 e il 1250 circa.

Cons.: Presso il Museo Correr di Venezia sono stati individuati 68 degli originari 77 esemplari acquistati dal conte Papadopoli: 16 denari di Sebastiano Ziani, 36 di Orio Malipiero, 13 di Enrico Dandolo, 3 dei vescovi anonimi di Trento. Catalogo illustrato in ASOLATI, CRISAFULI 2010.

(H) Monselice, chiesa di San Paolo, scavi 2005 (dep.: post 996)

Da scavo (US 244), ripostiglio di 12 denari di Verona di X-XI secolo a nome dell'imperatore Ottone rinvenute presso il corpo di un inumato nella chiesa di San Paolo a Monselice.

In studi precedenti questa tipologia numismatica era ritenuta da alcuni un mezzo denaro o un denaro particolarmente tosato attribuito a Ottone I (972-973). In base ad osservazioni stilistiche e metrologiche e all'assenza di tipi simili nel ripostiglio di Feltre (n. 7870; interrato nel 983 c.), il ritrovamento permette ora di riconoscere in queste monete una particolare tipologia di denari svalutati attribuibili all'ultimo periodo del regno di Ottone III (996-1002).

(SiF) Padova, corso Vittorio Emanuele 141-143, scavi 2012 (dep.: decenni centrali del II sec. d.C.)

Nel corso di una indagine archeologica realizzata nel 2012 dalla Soprintendenza per i Beni Archeologici del Veneto in corrispondenza dei civici 141-143 di corso Vittorio Emanuele è stato rinvenuto un nucleo di 32 tombe.

In tomba 19, a inumazione e sovrapposta a sepoltura precedente (distrutta probabilmente in modo non intenzionale per permettere la nuova deposizione), c'erano i resti di un bambino, con moneta trovata nei pressi dei piedi del defunto.

La necropoli era sita nella zona meridionale dell'antica Patavium, attraversata da due grandi arterie stradali: una identificabile con la via Annia, che passava nei pressi dell'attuale basilica di santa Giustina, e un'altra situata più a ovest, in corrispondenza dell'attuale corso Vittorio Emanuele.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: necropolis / cemetery

(SF) Padova, nei pressi del battistero del Duomo, scavi 2011-12 (dep.: III-XV sec.)

Gli scavi presso il battistero del Duomo di Padova hanno restituito complessivamente 19 monete e una piastrina di bronzo, plausibilmente interpretabile come un contrappeso monetale da impiegare per la verifica della più caratteristica moneta aurea tardoantica, ossia il solido. Gli esemplari raccolti quanto a data di emissione appartengono a due fasi distinte: l'una pertinente al IIII-V secolo d.C., l'altra alla prima metà del XV secolo.

Composizione:

- monete romane imperiali:
 - Autorità e zecca non determinata, antoniniano, anni '60-fine III secolo d.C. (PD, Batt. 12, area SE, Tb. 2, US 122);

 - Teodosio II/Valentiniano III, AE4, 425-435 d.C., zecca non determinata orientale (PD, Batt. 12, area SE, US 330);
 - Teodosio II/Valentiniano III, AE4, 425-435 d.C., zecca non determinata orientale (PD, Batt. 12, area SE, US 330);
 - Peso monetale da un solido ricavato da una moneta, VI-VII secolo d.C. (?) (PD, Batt. 12, US 147/1);
- monete medievali:
 - Michele Steno o Tommaso Mocenigo Doge, piccolo o denaro scodellato, 1400-1423, zecca di Venezia (PD, Batt. 11, US 214);
 - Francesco Foscari Doge, piccolo o denaro, 1446-1457, zecca di Venezia (PD, Batt. 11, US 214: 4 esemplari; PD, Batt. 11, area SW, US 165: 1 esemplare).

La correlazione cronologica delle monete del Quattrocento con gli strati di provenienza individuano il passaggio dal piccolo scodellato al nuovo piccolo piano di Francesco Foscari avvenuto nel 1446. L'assenza di monete veneziane successive a tale riforma, e in particolare dei comunissimi quattrini e bagattini per la terraferma dello stesso Foscari, battuti a partire dal 1453, in qualche modo definisce le fasi finali della cronologia dello scavo o per lo meno dell'impiego della moneta in questo contesto.

(H) Ariano Polesine, loc. San Basilio, tenuta Forzello, autunno 1979 (dep.: n.s.)

Ripostiglio di monete romane tardo-imperiali avvenuto nell'autunno 1979 nella campagna di San Basilio, nella tenuta Forzello di proprietà del signor Ugo Rocchi, ad alcune decine di metri in direzione sud-ovest rispetto all'area occupata dalla Soprintendenza Archeologica per le Venezie nel corso della campagna di scavo 1979 condotta alcuni mesi prima da E. Mangani, allora direttrice del Museo Nazionale di Adria.

Il ripostiglio era costituito da una ciotola fratturata dalla lama di un aratro, contenente 152 piccoli bronzi e 2 anelli anch'essi di bronzo. Nella stessa occasione, a breve distanza è stata rinvenuta una lucerna bronzea a forma di colomba recante graffito sul petto il monogramma di Cristo. Le monete di presentavano per lo più in pessime condizioni, corrose e ossidate, spesso frammentate e incomplete.

Notate:

- moneta ostrogota
 - decanoummion AE Ravenna/Monogramma (ARSLAN 1989, AE 11);
 - AE Teodorico(?);
- moneta bizantina
 - follis AE Giustiniano I/Cizico;
 - follis AE Focas/Costantinopoli (607-608; DOC II, 1, 30a. 3);
 - follis AE Leonzio/Ravenna (695-698; MIB 39);
 - follis AE anonimo Cl. A2.

In DE BELLIS, DE BELLIS 1979 (p. 176) si identificano solo 74 es.:

- 32 es. di Costante II (346-361);
- 14 es. di Costanzo Gallo (351-354);
- 7 es. di Giuliano Cesare (354-360);
- 21 es. incerti attribuiti tra Costanzo II, Gallo e Costante (346-361);
- 78 es. illeggibili.

Alle pp. 179-181 viene fornito il catalogo di un sottoinsieme di esse: 32 di Costanzo II, 14 di Costanzo Gallo, 6 di Giuliano.

Per altri materiali dalla tenuta Forzello v. anche il ritrovamento n. 10892.

(H) Castelfranco Veneto, fraz. Salvarosa, chiesa di san Floriano di Campagna, 1854 (dep.: c. 1450)

Nei lavori di demolizione della chiesa rurale di san Floriano di Campagna, ripostiglio con 17 AV e oltre 1.000 AR+MI rinvenuto all'interno di un vaso di terracotta.

Composizione:

- monete AV

- Venezia, 16 ducati (1 di Giovanni Gradenigo, 1355-56); gli altri ripartiti tra Antonio Venier (1382-1400), Michele Steno (1400-13), Tommaso Mocenigo (1414-23) e Francesco Foscari (1423-57));
- Roma, ducato (Senato Romano, 1350-1438);

- monete AR+MI

- Aquileia, c. 70 denari (Antonio I Gaetani, 1395-1402; Antonio II Panciera, 1402-11; Ludovico II di Tek, 1412-37);
- Milano, 2 grossi (Gian Galeazzo Visconti, 1385-1402);
- Ungheria e Boemia, alcune monete non meglio precisate;
- Venezia: 1 grosso Tommaso Mocenigo (1414-23); 1 grosso e un numero imprecisato di "grossoni" di Francesco Foscari (1423-57); 52 mezzanini (5 di Michele Steno (1400-1413); 47 di Francesco Foscari (1423-1457); diverse centinaia di soldini (1 Giovanni Dolfen (1356-61); 2 Andrea Contarini (1368-82); c. 20 Antonio Venier (1382-1400); "diverse centinaia" per Michele Steno (1400-13); "centinaia" per Tommaso Mocenigo (1414-23); "centinaia" per Francesco Foscari (1423-57)); numero imprecisato di denari piccoli (Francesco Foscari, 1423-57).

In MEC 12, p. 682 non si parla di "grossoni", ma genericamente di "grossi" per tutte le emissioni di Francesco Foscari. Il numero dei grossi veneziani ritrovati sarebbe nel complesso small.

(H) Vittorio Veneto, fraz. Serravalle, inizio XX sec. (dep.: c. 1414)

Tesoretto di epoca medievale appartenente a una vecchia collezione e rinvenuto, secondo le dichiarazioni dei proprietari, a Serravalle agli inizi del '900. Esso appare costituito da 185 AR+MI, appartenenti sia alla moneta piccola (denari) sia a quella grossa (grossi e pegioni), in gran parte delle zecche di Aquileia, Padova e Venezia. Poche le monete di altre zecche italiane (come Milano, Pavia, Verona, Merano, Treviso e Ferrara) o straniere (Vienna, Ratisbona, Ingolstadt o Schongau, Meissen, Berna). L'analisi, soprattutto attraverso il confronto con lo sviluppo monetario dell'area veneta testimoniato da altri ripostigli, ha condotto alla conclusione che le monete raccolte in questo ripostiglio erano quelle demonetizzate dalla Repubblica di Venezia in seguito alla conquista della terraferma fra il 1405 e il 1420, e quindi tesaurizzate come metallo a peso, non come valute circolanti.

Composizione:

- Aquileia, 14 denari (2 Ludovico della Torre, 1359-65; 2 Marquardo di Randeck, 1365-81; 1 Filippo d'Alençon, 1381-87; 9 Giovanni di Moravia, 1387-94);
- Ferrara, 2 bagattini o piccoli (Niccolò III d'Este, 1393-1441);
- Milano, 1 grosso pegione (Bernabò Visconti, 1354-85);
- Pavia, 1 grosso pegione (Galeazzo II Visconti, 1359-78);
- Padova, 4 carraresi da 4 soldi (Francesco I da Carrara, 1355-88, conati nel 1386-88); 1 carrarino da 2 soldi (Francesco II da Carrara, 1390-1405); 46 denari piccoli (36 Francesco I da Carrara; 10 Francesco II da Carrara);
- Treviso, 1 denaro piccolo (Heinrich II di Gorizia, 1319-23);
- Merano, 1 grosso tirolino (a nome di Mainardo II, 1274-1306); 1 quattrino (Leopoldo III-IV, 1386-1406);
- Verona, 1 denaro (Cangrande della Scala e successori, 1312-36);
- Venezia, 1 mezzanino (Andrea Dandolo, 1343-54); 28 soldini (6 Andrea Contarini, 1368-82; 22 Antonio Venier, 1382-1400); 54 piccoli (Andrea Contarini, 1362-82; 51 Antonio Venier, 1382-1400; 1 Michele Steno, 1400-13; 1 Tommaso Mocenigo, 1413-23); 19 monete incerte (da Antonio Venier a Francesco Foscari, 1385-1446);
- Ingolstadt, 1 pfennig (Albert III, 1365-78);
- Regensburg, 1 pfennig (Stefan II, 1349-75);
- Vienna, 1 pfennig (Albert III, 1365-95);
- 2 falsificazioni coeve di denari veneziani;
- 1 tondello non coniato.

(SF) Vittorio Veneto, quartiere Ceneda, chiesa di san Rocco, scavi 2003-06 (dep.: II sec. a.C. – metà IV sec. d.C.)

Gli scavi di San Rocco hanno restituito complessivamente 36 monete che si collocano cronologicamente tra il II secolo a.C. e la metà del IV secolo d.C. Le più antiche testimonianze sono costituite da due semissi repubblicani del II secolo a.C., mentre gli esemplari più recenti sono due folles e tre AE3 databili tra il regno di Costantino I e quello di Costanzo II da solo (350-361 d.C.). I restanti reperti sono essenzialmente monete di II-III secolo d.C., che, a causa della loro particolare situazione di giacitura, sembrerebbero essere legati a fenomeni di tesaurizzazione, i quali interessarono le fasi centrali e finali del III secolo.

(H) Mestre, via San Girolamo, scavi 2002-06 (dep.: fine anni '60 o inizio anni '70 del XIV secolo)

In occasione dei lavori di ristrutturazione e riqualificazione dell'immobile (complesso "Parco Ponci") situato al civico n. 16 di via S. Girolamo a Mestre, nella zona attigua all'omonima chiesa, tra il 2002 e il 2006 si è svolta un'indagine archeologica che ha interessato l'area nella quale doveva essere realizzata un'autorimessa interrata. In prossimità di una tomba della zona cimiteriale sud occidentale scoperta durante gli scavi, in una regione leggermente rilevata, si è rinvenuto un tesoretto di monete comprendente solamente 5 ducati d'oro della zecca di Venezia: 2 di Bartolomeo Gradenigo (1339-1342), 2 di Andrea Dandolo (1342-1354), 1 di Marco Corner (1365-1368). L'interramento probabilmente va collocato alla fine degli anni '60 del XIV secolo o all'inizio del decennio successivo, probabilmente in un momento in cui l'utilizzo dell'area cimiteriale si andava esaurendo alla vigilia della costruzione della nuova cinta muraria di Mestre.

- Genova, 82 genovini (1 Governo Ghibellino, 1334-36; 80 Repubblica e Simone Boccanegra, 1336-63; 1 Gabriele Adorno, 1363-70);
- Gorizia, 1 fiorino di Enrico II, 1304-23;
- Milano, 63 "mezzi fiorini" di Giovanni Visconti, 1349-54; 1 "fiorino" di Galeazzo II e Bernabò Visconti, 1354-78;
- Savona, 4 fiorini;
- Venezia, 100 ducati (2 Pietro Gradenigo, 1289-1311; 1 Giovanni Soranzo, 1312-28; 23 Francesco Dandolo, 1329-39; 10 Bartolomeo Gradenigo, 1339-42; 56 Andrea Dandolo, 1343-54; 1 Giovanni Gradenigo, 1355-56; 5 Giovanni Dolfino, 1356-61; 1 Lorenzo Celsi, 1361-65; 1 Marco Corner, 1365-68);

- monete straniere

- Avignone, 12 fiorini di Urbano V, 1362-70;
- Borgogna, 1 fiorino di Filippo de Rouvre, 1350-61;
- Provenza, 3 fiorini di Luigi e Giovanna, 1347-82;
- Delfinato (Viennois), 14 fiorini (4 Umberto II, 1333-49; 10 Carlo V, 1349-64);
- Montélimar, 1 fiorino di Gaucher Ademar (?), 1346-60;
- Lorena, 1 fiorino di Giovanni I d'Alsazia, 1346-89;
- Orange, 20 fiorini di Raimondo IV, 1340-93;
- Hornes, 1 fiorino di Thierry Loef, 1358-90;
- Arles, 2 fiorini di Stefano II de la Garde, 1351-61;
- Bar, 2 fiorini di Roberto duca, 1352-11;
- Fiandra, 2 fiorini di Luigi di Crecy, 1322-46;
- Lussemburgo o Boemia, 20 fiorini di Giovanni, 1310-46;
- Lussemburgo, 3 fiorini di Venceslao I, 1353-83;
- Heide en Bleit, 1 fiorino di Gothard van Bongart, 1342-73;
- Austria/Steiermark, 8 fiorini di Alberto II, 1330-58;

(uns) Bosco Chiesanuova, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

Monete longobarde: frazione di siliqua AR (?); tremissis AV Ariperto II (tipo MEC 321).

Dionisi ([DIONISI 1785], pp. 14, 16-17) riferisce di essere in possesso di due monete ritrovate a Bosco Chiesanuova: un tremisse d'oro e una moneta in argento da lui attribuita ad Alboino: produrrò qui un'altra strana Moneta da me creduta d'Alboino, che non altrove, e in paesi lontani e stranieri, ma qui sul Territorio nostro fu ritrovata assieme con un'altra d'Oro di altro Re longobardo, in un Villaggio 25 miglia da Verona distante, detto di Chiesa Nuova ne' Monti della Val Pantena, e che ambedue conservo tra le Monete patrie. Più avanti l'autore descrive il tremisse: dissotterrato nella terra di Chiesa Nuova nel nostro contado, attribuendolo al re longobardo Desiderio e alla zecca di Verona. Lo Zanetti, però, dopo aver visionato la moneta, corresse la lettura del Dionisi assegnandola al re Ariperto II e pubblicandone il disegno nel suo trattato sulle monete di Treviso ([ZANETTI 1785], p. 54 nota 27, tav. IV n. 5). Marcella Pavoni ha confermato l'attribuzione di Zanetti, classificando la moneta come un tremisse del tipo MEC 1, n. 321 (RMRVe III/2, 4/2/2).

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: necropolis / cemetery

Other characteristics of the materials: pierced coins

(SF) Lessinia, varie località, n.s. (dep.: V sec. a.C. – XX sec.)

Nel Museo Civico Etnografico di Bosco Chiesanuova sono in deposito più di quattrocento monete ritrovate in superficie sui pascoli dell'alta Lessinia, insieme ad altro materiale, quali medagliette devozionali e vari oggetti e strumenti metallici espressioni della cultura materiale del luogo. Gli oggetti sono stati rintracciati in prossimità delle basi di antichi casoni e nella maggioranza dei casi si tratta di esemplari isolati. In due situazioni, le monete si presentavano, invece, saldate tra di loro dai prodotti di corrosione e disposte ancora in sequenza, così come dovevano trovarsi in una sorta di cintura che le conteneva.

L'intervallo cronologico è compreso tra l'età romana imperiale e l'età di Vittorio Emanuele III di Savoia re d'Italia. Si suppone che le monete siano traccia di forme di occupazione stagionale oppure di antichi percorsi che attraversavano le montagne.

Per l'età medievale e moderna, segnalate monete delle zecche di Gorizia, Ferrara, Mantova, Milano, Verona, Venezia (in maggioranza). Altre monete di Austria (Salisburgo), Germania (Baviera) e Spagna.

(D) San Pietro in Cariano, fraz. Corrubbio, necropoli nei terreni di villa Scandola, 1908 (dep.: post 276 d.C.)

Da tomba romana rinvenuta nel 1908, due monete d'oro contenute all'interno di una bottiglia di vetro:

- Traiano Decio, zecca di Roma, ultimi mesi del 249-gennaio 250 d.C.: aureo (g 4,35; mm 20; h 1), RIC 4.3, n. 11a (inv. 12537);
- Tacito, zecca di Ticinum, primi mesi del 276 d.C.: binione (g 6.44; mm 20; h 12), RIC V.1, manca (inv. 14256a).

Gli oggetti giunsero al Museo Civico di Verona tra il 1909 e il 1910 quali doni di Bice e Maria Tassoni, proprietarie di villa Scandola nei terreni della quale venne alla luce la sepoltura. La villa si trovava nella frazione di Corrubbio facente parte alla fine dell'Ottocento del Comune di Negarine, in Valpolicella. La scoperta avvenne casualmente durante lo scavo di due solchi per l'impianto di viti alla profondità di 60 cm. I contadini intercettarono tre tombe, orientate in direzione S-N, costituite da casse di laterizi ricoperte da lastroni di pietra, all'interno di una delle quali si trovava una cassa di piombo che misurava 183 cm in lunghezza, 45 cm in larghezza, 33 cm in altezza (senza coperchio). Lo spessore delle pareti variava da 5 a 12 mm. Le altre due tombe risultavano sconvolte, con materiali edilizi dispersi nel terreno.

Altri oggetti pertinenti alla necropoli – una lucerna con marchio VIBI e piedi di anfore – sono andati dispersi, mentre una chiave in ferro si trova al Museo Canonico di Verona. Da una tomba della stessa necropoli proveniva probabilmente una statuetta in bronzo raffigurante Mercurio psicopompo, venduta al Museo civico nel 1886 (inv. 21068).

(H) Torri del Benaco, loc. Val Magra, inverno fra il 1972 e il 1973 (dep.: metà del XIII sec. (?))

Notizia – non confermata – del ritrovamento un gruzzolo di monete da parte di operai intenti a scavare una trincea per creare un terreno idoneo a impiantare un vitigno.

La ricostruzione (sommaria e non documentata) proposta in PEZZI 2024 riporta che alcuni operai, nell'effettuare lo scavo si imbattono in una lastra di calcare sulla cui superficie liscia era presente un graffito composto da tre croci collegate fra di loro con una serie di picchettature. Al di sotto della lasca era presente un contenitore con delle monete, andato distrutto nel corso del recupero. Le monete erano così rimaste sparse sul terreno. Per la loro raccolta, gli operai si erano serviti di un barattolo metallico idoneo per contenere 5 litri di sugo di pomodoro, al termine della raccolta, il contenitore risultò pieno. Una ricognizione il giorno successivo alla scoperta permise di recuperare una decina di monete ancora, che sarebbero risultate essere grossi AR e denari MI riconducibili alle zecche di Brescia, Como, Cremona, Vicenza e Verona.

Per Pezzi (2024, p. 2024) l'occultamento del ripostiglio deve collocarsi tra il 1155 e il 1330, ma l'insieme delle zecche ricordate – se davvero affidabile – lascia piuttosto pensare che debba collocarsi verso il 1250 c.

Cons.: Dispero. Il nucleo principale delle monete fu ceduto a un nobile locale e da lì ne sono state perse le tracce. Le monete recuperate il giorno successivo furono cedute a un rigattiere e anch'esse andate disperse, ma per Pezzi (2024, p. 9) alcune di queste furono cedute in asta Antiqua n. 1 (6-7 maggio 1995, in particolare il lotto 258: grosso di Brescia con stella a sei punte).

(SF) Verona, anfiteatro (arena), scavi 2013-14 (dep.: I-XII sec.)

382 monete da indagine archeologica effettuata tra il 2013 e il 2014 nell'ambito di lavori volti a migliorare gli impianti di servizio dell'edificio ed ha segnato l'inizio della ripresa degli scavi nell'anfiteatro e nell'area limitrofa della piazza, operazioni tuttora (2020) in corso per dotare il monumento di una serie di ammodernamenti necessari alla sua fruizione.

La loro distribuzione quantitativa è alquanto disomogenea: infatti dall'arcovolo 58 provengono 376 monete, mentre solo sei dall'arcovolo 60. Tale differenza si spiega tenendo conto che lo scavo nell'arcovolo 58 ha potuto indagare una stratigrafia altomedievale ancora integra e coerente e che la maggior parte delle monete appartiene con alta probabilità a un gruzzolo disperso, mentre nell'arcovolo 60 la fase tardo antica, che tipicamente restituisce il maggior numero dei reperti numismatici, è solo parzialmente leggibile. Peraltro, è proprio da questo secondo sito che il contributo delle monete è più significativo per la storia urbana poiché le tre monete di Claudio hanno permesso definitivamente di circoscrivere al regno di tale imperatore l'inizio dei lavori di edificazione dell'anfiteatro.

- Arcovolo 60. Nell'arcovolo 60 sono state individuate tracce della prima fase edilizia consistente nel getto di fondazioni nella forma di una platea in opera cementizia sulla quale fu impostato il piano di cantiere per realizzare la costruzione dei muri radiali. Nel caso specifico, gli archeologi hanno riconosciuto come pertinenti all'impianto della struttura una costipazione di terreno, avente la funzione di livellare il piano e di creare un sottofondo, e un livello di calcare sbriciolato e compattato, interpretabile come il residuo di un primo piano di calpestio. Questa stratificazione ha restituito diversi materiali ceramici tra loro coevi e coerenti cronologicamente con due monete di Claudio perdute durante i lavori. Sono un asse e un sesterzio, in cattivo stato di conservazione ma ancora ben riconoscibili. Un secondo piano di calpestio, con evidenze che suggeriscono l'esistenza di un altro cantiere edile di modesta entità, ha restituito materiali riferibili all'età neroniana, tra i quali, un sesterzio di Nerone. In mancanza di indagini stratigrafiche, le diverse ipotesi di datazione del monumento, basate sulla tecnica edilizia, sulle caratteristiche complesse della struttura, su elementi stilistici e sulle sculture rinvenute al suo interno, avevano un ampio margine di oscillazione. Negli studi più recenti, la costruzione era prevalentemente attribuita all'età giulio-claudia. Ora, la coerenza del contesto archeologico dell'arcovolo 60, a cui la datazione delle monete fornisce un termine preciso, permette di collegare il progetto dell'edificio con un programma di interventi di miglioria infrastrutturale di notevole portata avviato a Verona dall'imperatore Claudio, forse in rapporto con l'acquisizione del nuovo status giuridico di colonia. Nelle successive fasi di frequentazione, l'arcovolo 60 fu occupato da un'officina vetraria attiva tra il III e IV sec. (13) la cui struttura fu rifatta più volte con terra prelevata sul posto nella quale rimase inglobato un quadrante di Claudio che in tale contesto è quindi residuale perché proveniente dalla stratificazione sottostante. Altre due monete della prima metà del IV secolo provengono da livelli successivi alla dismissione della fornace.

- Arcovolo 58 (fase tardo-antica). La volta e le pareti dell'arcovolo 58 non hanno subito alterazioni dall'età romana ad oggi, mentre sul piano di fondo è sopravvissuto un deposito archeologico cronologicamente collocabile tra l'età tardo antica e il basso Medioevo. In esso è stata individuata la platea di fondazione dell'anfiteatro, sulla quale l'unico intervento documentato prima della fase tardo antica è la traccia di un tramezzo, che divideva in due lo spazio in senso est-ovest. Al di sopra della platea iniziava la stratigrafia tardo antica, caratterizzata da una sequenza complessa e di difficile lettura, esito di un'occupazione incentrata sull'attività di tre focolari. Attorno ad essi sono state riconosciute varie buche per picchetti e altre buche e trincee per elementi lignei di cui sfugge la consistenza e la funzione. I resti di pasti, testimoniati da ossi combusti e ostriche, indicano che i fuochi servivano per la cottura del cibo, ma forse anche per attività metallurgiche dato che una buca, in fase con il primo focolare, ha restituito abbondanti scorie di piombo. Il deposito archeologico contiene frammenti di elementi architettonici e di lastre marmoree pertinenti al rivestimento parietale e pavimentale dell'anfiteatro, lasciando intuire l'esistenza di un forte processo di destrutturazione. La ceramica, in frammenti di piccola dimensione, ha un arco cronologico compreso tra la metà/fine IV e il VI secolo. In giacitura di posteriorità rispetto ai livelli dei focolari, lungo i muri perimetrali nord e sud, sono state individuate sei sepolture in fossa terragna, le sole rimaste di un'occupazione funeraria più ampia a giudicare dalla quantità di ossa umane recuperate negli strati più recenti. Nelle successive fasi di età basso medievale sono attestate consistenti operazioni di scarico di detriti provenienti dall'anfiteatro o da zone esterne ad esso e molte scorie metalliche connesse alla presenza di un'officina di fabbro. La posa di un acciottolato, realizzato tra il 1957 e il 1959, ha asportato tutti i livelli seguenti bloccando all'età basso medievale la possibilità di seguire la storia del sito. Le 376 monete rinvenute nell'arcovolo 58 sono esclusivamente di 'bronzo', come è consueto negli strati di formazione lenta e graduale nei quali rimangono tipicamente i nominali perduti e non raccolti, a differenza delle stratificazioni di formazione repentina dove è rappresentata in modo più completo la circolazione monetaria bloccata in un certo momento. A proposito della modalità di immissione dei reperti monetali nel deposito archeologico, in questa fase del lavoro, si può formulare una prima ricostruzione dei processi deposizionali e post-deposizionali, che tuttavia in futuro dovrebbe essere verificata con l'edizione completa dei diversi contesti, esaminando le associazioni tra monete e altri materiali. Per ora si propongono le riflessioni derivate dalla distribuzione delle monete nella stratigrafia e dalla loro ripartizione cronologica. Riguardo al primo aspetto, si sono notate particolari concentrazioni in alcune unità stratigrafiche, ad esempio nella US 750 (101 monete), US 769 (54 monete) e US 761 (12 monete), collocate al centro e verso il lato ovest dell'arcovolo, zona dove venivano spazzati gli accumuli di carbone e di cenere che i focolari generavano. Oltre questi notevoli raggruppamenti, gli altri esemplari sono stati recuperati nei livelli, sottili e di modesta estensione, posti attorno e sopra i focolari e costituiti da depositi di carbone e cenere e da strati di sabbia e ghiaia sparsi per ignifugare le aree di fuoco. La catalogazione delle monete ha rivelato poi che il 77% del campione è costituito da folles conati tra il 330 e il 348 d.C. e che tra gli esemplari leggibili mancano quasi completamente le emissioni della seconda metà del IV secolo, rappresentate al contrario in quantità rilevanti in tutti i depositi tardo antichi di Verona. Segnalate anche moneta gota nel riempimento di una buca posizionata lungo la parete sud dell'arcovolo, in posizione stratigrafica sottostante l'intera successione. In una fase successiva, attribuibile all'età longobarda, lo spazio dell'arcovolo venne occupato da sepolture di cui sono superstiti sei fosse terragne, utilizzate per due generazioni. Nel riempimento della fossa di deposizione di un giovane individuo di sesso maschile sono state recuperate quattro monete: un antoniniano di Caro, corrosivo sul rovescio, un folles del 347-348, un AE4 di Teodosio e un minimo. L'antoniniano e il folles erano a diretto contatto con lo scheletro. Da un'altra sepoltura, appartenente a un bambino, vengono due monete, entrambe nominali AE2 in buono stato di conservazione, databili agli anni 352-354 (276, 281). La quasi totale asportazione dei livelli di frequentazione medievali ha lasciato solo evidenze in negativo, cioè una serie di buche di varia dimensione da una delle quali proviene un 1/2 tetarteron di Giovanni II Comneno (1118-1143) della zecca di Tessalonica.

(SF) Verona, anfiteatro (arena), dalla platea, 1900-01 (dep.: I-IV sec. d.C.)

Pur essendo stato registrato in alcuni scavi del passato il ritrovamento di monete, solo un numero esiguo di queste è pervenuto alla collezione civica del Museo di Castelvecchio dove si conservano due gruppi di bronzi: il primo, con il cartellino dalla platea dell'Anfiteatro tra 1900-01, comprende nove monete romane – otto antoniniani datati tra Gallieno e Probo e un AE3 di Valente – e 14 post classiche. Il secondo gruppo è costituito da 22 esemplari di età romana e cinque post classici. In questo caso, tra i pezzi leggibili vi sono assi, dupondi e sesterzi emessi da imperatori compresi tra Tiberio e Lucio Vero e altri illeggibili di età imperiale fino alla metà del III sec.d.C., un esemplare di Gallieno e un altro di Costantino I.

(SF) Verona, area del “Capitolium” (incluso criptoportico), scavi 1983-2004 (dep.: II sec. a.C. – XIX sec.)

Da indagini archeologiche condotte tra il 1983 e il 2004, 912 AR+MI+AE in totale, in prevalenza monete di età romana, con un numero più contenuto di esemplari di età medievale e moderna (maggiori dettagli in ARZONE 2011). Notate:

- nummi AE croce in ghirlanda V-VI sec. (ARZONE 2008, nn. 586-593);
- moneta ostrogota: ½ folles AE Roma/Aquile (ARSLAN 1989, AE 5); 2 decanoummion AE Ravenna/Monogramma (ARSLAN 1989, AE 11);
- moneta longobarda: 1/8 siliqua AR Pertarito/monogramma (nel criptoportico);
- Mantova, 2 quattrini AE (Francesco Gonzaga, 1484-1519);
- Milano, Regno Lombardo-Veneto, 1/4 lira AR (Francesco I d'Asburgo-Lorena, 1822-24);
- Venezia, 1 denaro (Michele Steno, Tommaso Mocenigo o Francesco Foscari, 1400-57); 1 soldino (Michele Steno?, 1410-13); 1 sesino nuovo (Marino Grimani, 1595-1603); 2 bezzi da 6 bagattini 1604;
- Verona, 4 denari enriciani (databili tra il 1106 e il 1183); 1 denaro crociato (ante 1185-c. 1250); 1 soldo (Gian Galeazzo Visconti, 1388/98-1402);
- Praga, Regno di Boemia, 1 groeschen (Wladislaus II, 1471-1516);
- altri materiali non identificabili, tra cui 7 tondelli non conati della dimensione dei denari enriciani di XI secolo, forse di epoca posteriore (dubitativamente XII sec. per ARZONE 2008), e 5 AE di autorità non identificabile, forse XVII sec.

(SF) Verona, loc. Spianà, nei pressi della Via Postumia, necropoli, I-III sec. d.C. (dep.: n.s.)

Lo scavo della "Spianà" prese avvio nel 1989, e si concluse nel 1991, dopo aver portato alla luce 807 tombe, di cui 766 incinerazioni e 41 inumazioni, databili tra il I e il III sec. d.C., ma concentrate principalmente nei primi due secoli dell'impero. Rinvenute 223 monete in sepoltura e altre 5 sporadiche.

Localizzato a circa 150 m dal nucleo funerario di via Albere (v. ritrovamento n. 11110), il sepolcreto si trovava poco a nord del tracciato stradale ed era delimitato a est dai resti di una fondazione muraria in ciottoli e malta orientata nord-sud e dalla presenza di un impianto produttivo per laterizi.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel, Other characteristics of the materials: pierced coins

(H) Verona, vicolo Botte 6-8, 22 luglio 1905 (dep.: post 1625)

Il 22 luglio 1905, nel corso delle operazioni di demolizione di alcune case situate in vicolo Botte 6-8, esattamente alle ore 11.30, l'operaio Giuseppe Bianchi rinvenne una busta di cuoio in una piccola nicchia. La rientranza era chiusa sulla superficie del muro da un mattone di costa, all'altezza di un metro dal pavimento del primo piano e a sinistra del camino della cucina. La borsa conteneva otto sacchetti di tela ormai quasi decomposti nei quali si trovavano monete d'oro e d'argento. La cronaca riporta che vennero immediatamente avvertiti l'ingegnere capo Tullio Donatelli e l'assistente di scavo Luigi Romagnoli dell'Ufficio tecnico del Comune. Le monete vennero contate e suddivise in base al metallo e al diametro e venne redatta una distinta dettagliata nella quale era specificato il peso complessivo delle monete d'oro, il fatto che una parte degli esemplari fosse tosato e che la maggioranza delle monete non fosse di puro argento, ma probabilmente in una lega a base di argento.

Complessivamente il ripostiglio constava di 836 monete, come risulta da un inventario redatto da Pietro Sgulmero. La moneta più antica appartiene a un'emissione del doge Francesco Donà (1545-1553), quella più recente è del doge Giovanni Corner I (1625-1629). Le monete veneziane sono 712. Quelle di altre autorità emittenti sono complessivamente 124, provenienti dalla Repubblica di Genova, dal Ducato di Mantova, dal Sacro Romano Impero, dall'Impero di Spagna e dall'Impero ottomano. I termini cronologici sono sicuri perché le monete oggi mancanti rispetto all'elenco dello Sgulmero hanno cronologia compresa all'interno di tali estremi.

Tra le monete italiane, segnalati esemplari delle zecche di Genova (scudo o crossazzo), Guastalla (lira di Ferrante II Gonzaga), Mantova (anselmini di Vincenzo I e Ferdinando Gonzaga) e soprattutto Venezia.

Cons.: Il giorno stesso della scoperta, il tesoro fu consegnato a Pietro Sgulmero, direttore del Museo civico di Verona, che aveva allora sede a palazzo Pompei.

Il lavoro di ricognizione nella collezione numismatica ha permesso di ritrovare 742 esemplari degli originali 836. Le monete mancanti vanno distinte in due gruppi: al primo appartengono complessivamente 16 esemplari di cui due monete in oro – un ducato di Rodolfo II d'Asburgo (1595) e uno zecchino del sultano ottomano Murād III (1574-1595) – e quattordici in argento di peso e dimensioni notevoli come talleri, ducati, scudi della croce, due lire con santa Giustina e reales de a ocho. secondo gruppo è costituito da 78 monete e comprende invece nominali di piccola dimensione come le monete da due gazzette, i soldini o i denari.

(H) Costabissara, via Mascagni, scavi 1971-72 (dep.: inizio V sec. d.C.)

In via Mascagni, in corrispondenza di una villa, rinvenimento di una statuetta in bronzo di Anubi e di un gruzzolo di 21 monete in bronzo del IV sec. d.C.. Si ipotizza fosse parte di un piccolo larario ubicato plausibilmente nell'ambiente absidato, collocato nel settore sudest dell'insediamento. Dai documenti acquisiti, si apprende che la statuetta e il gruzzolo di monete furono rinvenuti in un'area limitata della villa, all'interno di un vano a destinazione residenziale, l'unico con tracce di pavimentazione in materiale laterizio. Si tratta evidentemente di una giacitura secondaria, ovvero di un "ripostiglio sparso", funzionale alla tesaurizzazione di materiali in metallo, per il loro valore venale. È stato ipotizzato che questi furono interrati nei primi anni del V secolo d.C., probabilmente in un momento di crisi, cui seguì l'abbandono dell'insediamento.

(SiF) Crespadoro, loc. Purga di Durlo, torretta, 2001 (dep.: VI sec.)

Dal materiale estratto da scavi condotti all'interno della torretta dall'Università di Ferrara nel 1972 e riportato a fine campagna, riesaminato nel 2001, è emerso un c.d. quarto di siliqua (D/ busto di Giustiniano I; R/ monogramma di Teodorico) intenzionalmente diviso a metà, del peso di 0,385 grammi.

La moneta è attribuibile, secondo le diverse interpretazioni, a Amalasunta per Giustiniano I o a Vitige per Giustiniano I, e riconducibile alle zecche di Roma o Ravenna.

(SF) Monticello di Fara, n.s. (dep.: II-VI sec. d.C.)

Le indagini archeologiche nel sito di Monticello di Fara hanno restituito sette monete, quattro appartenenti alla fase di prima frequentazione del sito in epoca romana e tre al periodo di occupazione longobarda a partire dall'avanzato VI secolo. Le monete sono in bronzo e in lega di rame e una è in argento. Tutte appaiono intaccate da processi di corrosione piuttosto accentuati cosa che consente di definire il livello di usura solo per i due esemplari di maggior peso e diametro, il dupondio di Adriano e l'asse di Antonino Pio. In questi due casi è evidente che le monete sono notevolmente consunte, indice di lunga e intensa circolazione prima della loro immobilizzazione nella terra.

- Fase romana (nell'area nord-est del sito, la ricerca archeologica ha riconosciuto una fornace per la produzione di laterizi)
 - dupondio AE, Adriano, zecca di Roma, 119-122 d.C. (RIC II, 605);
 - asse AE, Antonino Pio, zecca di Roma, 138-161 d.C. (RIC III, 558);
 - denario AR, imitazione locale della Gallia, 270-283 d.C. (RIC V.1, 266);
 - AE4, zecca non determinata, II metà IV sec. d.C.
- Fase altomedievale (necropoli sviluppata principalmente a sud-ovest e a nord-est di un edificio di culto costruito prima dell'impianto cimiteriale).
 - (tomba 11) follis AE, Costantino I per Costanzo II cesare; Heraclea; 324 d.C. (RIC VII, 68);
 - (terra di riempimento di tomba 25) AE3, Valentiniano I/Valente/Graziano/Valentiniano II, zecca non determinata; 364-383 d.C.
 - AE4, Graziano, zecca non determinata, 378-383 d.C.

Il dupondio di Adriano rinvenuto nel livello costituito da alcuni tegoloni frammentari posti di piatto, è da correlare con un'unità composta da altre tegole e coppi, interpretata come il crollo del tetto della fornace.

Nello scavo della necropoli sono state rinvenute tre monete di età romana tardoantica, una solo delle quali appartenente con buona probabilità al corredo funerario, poiché si trovava all'interno della tomba 11 della necropoli di sud-ovest. Tra le due tibie di una defunta, in decubito supino e deposta probabilmente entro un sudario, vi erano una moneta, una fibbia in ferro, tre frammenti di oggetti in lamina di bronzo e una lama di ferro. La seconda moneta è stata recuperata sempre nel settore sud-ovest, nella terra di riempimento della tomba 25, appartenente ad un individuo di sesso non determinato sepolto con una bottiglia e un coltello in ferro come corredo. L'ultima moneta proviene invece dalla superficie nella quale sono state incise le tombe della necropoli nord-est. Nella terra sono state rinvenute alcune ossa umane e altri reperti.

LIBYAN ARAB JAMAHIRIYA

(H) Benghazi/Bengasi, 1939 (dep.: c. 115-117 d.C.)

Ritrovamento di monete AR realizzato da Gennaro Pesce a Bengasi nel 1939. Il ripostiglio, in origine composto da circa un migliaio di monete, andò disperso dopo la Seconda Guerra Mondiale. Venne riscoperto – seppure solo parzialmente – durante le attività di ricerca condotte dalla Missione Archeologica Italiana dell'Università di Urbino a Cirene. Consiste di monete greche della tarda età ellenistica della Lega Achea, Sicyon, Argos, Patrae, Rhodes; denarii romani di età repubblicana e imperiale; monete AR provinciali.

Il ripostiglio chiude con le emissioni dell'imperatore Traiano. Può essere messo in relazione con la rivolta ebraica del 115-117 d.C.

Ripostiglio, con 26 AV e oltre 2.406 AR. Segnalati:

- monete AV

- Genova, 3 genovini (Simone boccanegra, 1339-44);
- Milano, 1 ducato (Bernabò e Galeazzo II Visconti, 1355-75);
- Venezia, 1 ducato (Andrea Dandolo, 1343-54);

- monete AR

- Merano, 159 grossi tirolini;
- Padova, 1 grosso aquilino
- Ivrea, 1 grosso tirolino;
- Milano, 4 grossi e 1 soldo (Azzone Visconti, 1329-39);

According to the owner, the hoard initially consisted of 86 Siliqua coins. Unfortunately, we just had the opportunity to check only 76 specimens, 65 of which were issued by Constantius II (minted in Sirmium, Constantinople and Siscia), 10 by Valentinian I (minted in Constantinople) and 1 by Procopius (minted in Constantinople). One of the most interesting coins is the siliqua of a hybrid type minted by Procopius. It has the usual representation of the emperor's bust on the obverse, but the image on the reverse is typical of the coins minted by Valentinian I in Constantinople.

(H) Coevorden, 1991 (dep.: c. 1325-30)

In a stream valley near the town of Coevorden a hoard was discovered consisting of 61 silver coins and a large number of iron objects. Many of the iron finds are associated with military equipment: arrow- and spearheads, a dagger, knives, foot-shackles, a stirrup, spurs, horseshoes, etc. Other items include ingots, an auger bitt and gaffs. The coins indicate that the hoard was deposited around 1325-1330. The find is interpreted as a votive offering, linking up with a similar practice in the pre-Christian era.

(H) Delft, late 2014 (dep.: post 1363)

The hoard was discovered in late 2004, during a routine archeological excavation by the Geerweg near the Kantoorgracht, in the vicinity of the 14th century horse market within the walls of the medieval town of Delft. During the excavation, a ceramic jug was uncovered; subsequent cleaning of this jug revealed the ninety-five silver coins hidden inside.

The hoard consisted almost entirely of 14th century leeuwengroten from Flanders, Holland and Brabant, as well as Rummen (Rumigny) and Looz.

The find had been previously studied and reported by Bult & de Bruin in 2005, although it was a third party who actually identified the coins, since Bult and de Bruin are archeologists, not numismatists.

At some point after the discovery of the hoard, the coins were put on exhibition. It was felt that in order to safeguard the hoard, it would be wise to separate 7 coins from the rest, and keep these 7 coins out of the exhibition. The oldest and newest coins were chosen, as well as five coins "representative of the hoard". These 7 coins were subsequently misplaced in the depot of the Archeologische Dienst Delft, in part due to two location changes for the depot itself. The location of the 7 coins remained unknown for almost ten years, hence the 88 coins available for viewing in 2014. In 2013, a student at the University of Leiden cleaned, weighed and photographed the 88 coins then present, and wrote another report on the find

In September of 2014, the 7 misplaced coins were found in the depot and reunited with the rest of the hoard. However, we have since been able to obtain neither photographs of the 7 coins, nor any details as to their identities, and are therefore only able to report here on 93% of the coins of the Delft Hoard.

Bult & de Bruin reported the find as: 95 coins... silver groten, half groten and quarter groten of fine silver. 63 silver groten from different issues from Flanders of Louis I and II of Male, struck between 1346 and 1365. The most recently-struck coin dates from the period 1404 and 1417, being a ¼ groot of Willem VI of Holland.

The original find was comprised of 95 silver (or billon) coins divided as follows:

- 7 coins, type currently unknown;
- 88 leeuwengroten, gros au lions or gros compagnons or fractionals thereof: 1 Looz, Diederik van Heinsberg (1336-1361); 3 Rummen, Arnold of Oreye (1355-1377); 8 Brabant: 1 John II (1312-1355), 7 Joanna (1355-1406); 14 Holland, William V (1350-1389); 10 leeuwengroten; 4 ½ leeuwengroten; 62 Flanders, Louis II of Mâle (1346-1384).

(H) Dokkum, monastero di Klaarkamp, 1932 (dep.: c. 1362-65)

The hoard was discovered in 1932 on the site of the former Klaarkamp Monastery near Dokkum. The coins had been buried in a wooden chest which had since all but disintegrated. Klaarkamp was a Cistercian monastery founded circa 1165. It was situated on a mound (terp) near Rinsumageest and Dokkum. In about 1580, the monastery was demolished during the Dutch Revolt, and the hill was further reduced during the 19th and 20th centuries. In 1932, the remnants of a wooden chest containing a coin hoard was found on the site. The hoard consisted for the most part of 14th century, Flemish leeuwengroten, as well as a number of gold coins that disappeared at some point during the Second World War. In 1970, then leeuwengroten were given to the museum "Het Admiraliteitshuis" in Dokkum (now the Stichting Musea Noardeast Fryslân (Museum Dokkum)).

The original find was comprised of: 15 gold écus (whereabouts unknown; these coins were described by an unnamed researcher as being French chaises d'or, struck for Philip VI (1328-1350); the coins were described by the Nederlandsch Bank as "Burgundian coins"; at this point it is no longer possible to verify exactly what type(s) of gold coins were in the hoard, whether they were indeed all French, or whether other types of coins were also present); 344 silver (or billon) leeuwengroten, gros au lions or gros compagnons divided as follows: 1 Duchy of Brabant, 13 County of Holland, 1 County of Réthel, 329 County of Flanders.

Cons.: Stichting Musea Noardeast Fryslân (Museum Dokkum).

(H) Echt, n.s. (dep.: post 407 d.C.)

Following the discovery of gold coins in an agrarian field at Echt, an excavation was carried out, resulting in the documentation of the complete hoard and its archaeological context. The hoard contained twelve gold solidi, a gold ring, a silver ingot and ten pieces of Hacksilber. One of the silver plates is a piece of exceptional size and quality. The hoard was placed in a pit, without a visible container, at an off-site location. Comparable hoards are found in a remarkable concentration along the Lower Rhine and adjacent areas in Belgium, the Netherlands and Northwest Germany. The majority of these hoards are dated to the early 5th century and are connected to the period of disintegration of Roman authority in this area, when Germanic federates were paid to guard the Rhine frontier by the usurper and later co-emperor Constantine III (407-411).

(H) Lienden, 2012, 2016 (dep.: c. 460)

In 2012 and 2016 metal detector users discovered a Late Roman solidus hoard at «Den Eng» in the village of Lienden in the Dutch river area. A number of solidi found on the same plot of land in the mid-19th century were probably part of the same hoard. The Lienden hoard, consisting of at least 42 coins, is of special importance as it represents the latest Roman coin hoard from the Lower Rhine region. The terminal coin is of emperor Majorian (457-461). ROYMANS, HEEREN 2017 assume that this batch of gold coins entered the Dutch river area in about 460 and was buried shortly afterwards. The Lienden hoard may have belonged to a local Frankish leader who was part of the network of Majorian, his general Aegidius and the contemporary Frankish king Childeric I.

(H) Roermond, 1968 (dep.: 853-54)

The Roermond hoard was dredged from a gravel pit near the river Maas in 1968, but was found in the transported gravel 200 km downstream in Goes. Containing 1,134 coins with a youngest date of 853-4 and at least 26 silver objects weighing 2.260 g altogether, it is the largest mixed hoard from the Carolingian Empire. The original hoard must have been considerably larger.

According to COUPLAND (1990, p. 43; 2011a), the Italian series is made by:

- Louis the Pious (814-840), XPISTIANA RELIGIO series (822/3-40)
 - 3 denari from the mint of Milan;
 - 10 denari from the mint of Venice;
- Lothair I (840-55)
 - 12 denari from the mint of Milan;
 - 9 denari from the mint of Pavia;
 - 1 denaro from the mint of Treviso;
 - 9 denari of the XPISTIANA RELIGIO series attributable to the mint of Venice.

Also 1 AR antiquiores, pope Leo IV with Lothar I.

In contesto non meglio noto, obolo di Carlomagno con monogramma Karolos in greco (0.64 g; 17 mm).

Nonostante la moneta presenti evidenti mancanze di metallo, il peso appare troppo ridotto per poter essere considerata come denaro. Si tratterebbe dunque di un obolo, come peraltro confermerebbe un diametro di appena 17 mm.

(H) Wirdum, 26 dicembre 2014 – inizio 2015 (dep.: seconda metà degli anni '50 del IX sec.)

Il 26 dicembre 2014 un gruppo di tre giovani detectoristi rinvennero un gruppo di monete caroline su un piccolo tumulo a sud-est di Wirdum. I detectoristi ritornarono nelle settimane successive presso il sito, recuperando in totale 97 monete in argento.

I materiali furono consegnati al Fries Museum di Leeuwarden per la pulitura e per le fotografie. Durante le operazioni uno di questi esemplari è andato disperso.

Probabilmente le monete erano all'interno di un sacchetto di lino a trama fitta, come suggerito dalle impressioni osservate sopra alcune delle monete.

Composizione:

- 11 denari AR di Ludovico il Pio (814-840);
- 83 denari AR di Lotario I (840-855);
- 2 denari AR di Carlo il Grosso (840-877).

La maggior parte delle monete di Lotario I provengono dalla zecca di Dorestad, in prevalenza della serie col tempio tetrastilo, con 33 di esse del tipo con scritta DOR | ESTA | TVS su tre righe.

Notate tre monete con tempio tetrastilo di Lotario provenienti da Aquisgrana, con caratteristiche in precedenza sconosciute (D/ +IOTAMVS IMPIIPAT; R/ AQVISCPAN PALACII).

Le monete furono rinvenute insieme ad altri oggetti metallici, tra cui alcune monete romane, suggerendo la frequentazione del sito in epoca romana e carolingia.

PALESTINIAN TERRITORY, OCCUPIED

(H) Qabatiya, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

A hoard of 420 silver coins from the early Ottoman Period, was found in Qabatiya, near Jenin. This large cache of coins was found in a cave northwest of Qabatiya in 1999, alongside the road, during the removal of a limestone slope to build a house. The work stopped when the first coins appeared and an excavation was done by the Department of Antiquities and Cultural Heritage. The coins, weighing altogether nearly 8 kg, were hidden in two jars in the cave that was also used for animals.

The process of publishing the hoard was done under the auspices of the Department of Antiquities, within the joint Palestinian-Dutch archaeological project at Khirbet Bal'ama, financed by the Representation of the Kingdom of the Netherlands to the Palestinian Authority. Surprisingly the hoard shows an early connection between Palestine and the Netherlands, because 316 of the coins are Dutch lion-dollars; the others are from Spain and some are from Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and France. For that reason the Dutch numismatist Arent Pol studied the hoard and the directors of the Khirbet Bal'ama project studied its archaeological and historical context.

The coins date from between c. 1535-1612 and were hidden in 1612/1613. But how did they reach Qabatiya and what was the value of the hoard at that time? In the early Ottoman Empire only small coins of silver and gold were used. But in Europe large silver coins were common, especially since much silver came from Spanish America. Merchants from Europe traded with the east Mediterranean region and through this also with the Far East, and used these coins. The coins had a high percentage of silver (with some copper) and were called reals (in Spain), or taler (in Germany), from which "dollar" and also the Dutch daalder were derived. The northern provinces of the Netherlands, revolting against the Spanish king, needed funding and had the same kind of coins minted since 1575, but with a lower silver content (75% instead of 85-90%). This was called leeuwendaalder (lion-dollar) because of the standing lion on one side. These were spread all over the world by European and especially Dutch tradesmen and also reached the Near East. There, their value was accepted like that of other European silver coins, having about the same weight (27gr) and size (40mm in diameter), which made them very popular also in Europe, prompting imitations and even fakes.

Merchant were also active in the Levant, but there are clear indications that the owner probably was a local person, hiding the hoard at a place where he could easily reach it again. The value of the hoard for the owner may be imagined from what we know about taxes and other income information documented in the Ottoman tax-census records of that time. The hoard would have a value equal to two times the yearly tax levied from the population of Qabatiya (ca 500 inhabitants), which was one third of their produce per year. Or the amount of money that could be earned by a local peasant during 30 years, or even 50 years, in an agriculturally less rich area.

Among the coins, 4 italians:

- tallero AR, Ferdinando I de Medici (1595-1608), mint of Pisa (CNI 11, p. 324 n. 10);

(H) Zalewo, autunno 1571 (dep.: prima metà del XIV sec. (?))

In 1571, a monetary hoard of 169 florins (florentinische Gultgulden) was discovered in a small East Prussian town. The local authorities and prince Albrecht Frederick Hohenzollern were informed about the discovery of the coins that were supposed to be hidden "in the old wall". As a result of an investigation carried out by the Hauptmann of Przemmark (Preussisch Mark) Hans Rauter it turned out that the finder was an unnamed bricklayer from Saalfeld, who donated some of the coins to a man named Bartel Andreasen, and also pledged some of the coins to other people because he needed cash. In total, as Hauptmann Rauter stated in his report of December 20, 1572, he managed to gain a total of 147 coins and send them to the prince to Königsberg.

(H) Zalewo, 1991 (dep.: post 1335)

In 1991 a hoard of about 200-220 florins was discovered also in Zalewo. It was originally hidden in the basement of one of the tenement houses in the northern part of the town. According to official information, it was discovered during the construction of garages on the escarpment, onto which in the 1970s the rubble that remained after cleaning up the city center destroyed during the war was pushed. A slightly different moment and circumstances of the discovery were preserved in the still living memory of witnesses. A group of teenagers, who were looking for fishing worms in the ground on a slope near garages, came across the coins. The finds were at a shallow depth, in moist soil, which was brought here by a bulldozer from the area where there is now a multi-family block and a boiler room – ul. Żeromskiego 18. Information about discovered coins spread quite quickly, which initiated the process of intensive searches carried out by groups of young people equipped with shovels.

De Benetti (2019a, p. 302; 2024) identifies 73 florins AV of the mint of Florence and 67 imitations FLORENTIA of the prototype with the same legend:

Cons.: For several years, these florins were collected by museum services and in the amount of 102 they were included in the collection of the Museum of Warmia and Mazury in Olsztyn (as of 2019).

On the basis of the data collected by DE BENETTI (2019a, p. 307; 2024, pp. 314-315), it was possible to survey 151 coins from the hoard, as well as two specimens probably belonging to it, for a total of 153 coins. Of these, 101 are kept at the Muzeum Warmii i Mazur in Olsztyn, 10 are in the Zamek Królewski Muzeum in Warsaw, 40 in private collections and documented by photographs, 2 documented by photographs, no. 2 specimens have appeared in the years since their discovery on the antiques market in Poland, without indication of provenance but with identity of dies with specimens found in the hoard.

ROMANIA

(SF) Alba Iuli, Brîndușei Street, dal 2004 (dep.: XI secolo)

Beginning with 2004 and until now, the picture of the funerary inventory from the necropolis from Alba Iulia – Brîndușei Street was completed with numerous Arpadian denarii chronologically spanned between Stephen I (1000-1038) and Solomon (1063-1074).

Denarii recuperated from the graves had the following anatomical positions: 1.) mandible's area; 2.) in the mouth; 3.) skull's area; 4.) under skull and 5.) on the chest. The most numerous pieces recuperated from graves had as issuer Stephen I and may be totally placed in the H1 Kovács type (12 pieces).

The only type attested in the discoveries from Brîndușei Street has on the obverse the legend † STEPHANVS REX, and on the reverse † REGIA CIVITAS (H1 Kovács). Emissions from king Peter (1038-1041; 1044-1046) were recovered from M. 67, M. 93 and M. 152. The pieces have on the obverse the legend † PETRVS REX, and on the reverse † PANNONIA and may be placed in the H6 Kovács type.

Monetary emissions from king Aba Samuel (1041-1044) were evidenced in graves 216 and 217, one being placed in the mouth and the other near the skull (H7 Kovács). The pieces that had as issuer Andrew I (1046-1060) frame in H8 Kovács type.

A silver Arpadian denarius issued by king Béla I (1048 – 1060) was recovered from M. 141 (child), from near the mouth (H12 Kovács).

The two Solomon pieces (1063 – 1074) may be framed in the H 14b Kovács (?) and 17 type. From our observations results that Stephen I denarii appear in association with Peter I (M. 93) or with Andrew I (M. 137, M. 225) emissions. As far as the other artefacts are concerned, there was noticed that type 29 appears only in association with Andrew I (M. 200, M. 231) emissions. 25 Giesler rings are in connection with Stephen I and Peter I emissions. Types 1b, 27 and torque from intertwined metal strands and hair rings with s- shaped ends appear in connection with Stephen I. Types 3, 30 Giesler, knife and hair rings with s- shaped ends appear with Stephen I and Andrew I emissions. Bela I and Solomon emissions have in association only hair rings with s-shaped ends. In three cases appear also perforated emissions of Stephen I, Peter I and Aba Samuel (M. 93, M.217, M. 225).

(H) Beciu-Șotânga, spring 1944 (dep.: post 1599)

The fragment of the hoard discovered in Beciu-Șotânga has 42 coins, issued between 1517 and 1599, a temple earring and two pairs of earrings. The denominations included in the hoard are Hungarian dinars, Polish, Lithuania and Prussian pólgroszes, groszes and trojaki, big grosze, ort and Ottoman akçe. The oldest coins from the hoard of Beciu-Șotânga are Hungarian dinars during the reign of Louis II as King of Hungary and the most recent coins are Polish trojaki of 1599. The composition of the hoard may be a closer reflection of what was in circulation, at the end of the reign of Michael the Brave, in Oltenia Danube area.

(SF) Constanța, district Viile Noi, 1927-29 (dep.: 5th century B.C – 13th century A.D.)

203 ancient and byzantine coins, all of base metal, discovered in the district “Viile Noi” of Constanța, during the years 1927-1929. They arrived into the private collection P. Popovăț, being later purchased by the Romanian Numismatic Society. As in other known cases, although the coins have been offered for purchase as isolated findings, the structure of the batch shows that they could resulted from more places of the mentioned area and the current distribution is likely due to a selection. Hypothetically, numerous good preserved Roman coins and certain homogenous groups of pieces (as the latest antoninianii or some nummii) appear to come from graves, quite plausible given that in the “Viile Noi” area two Roman necropolis have been reported.

This would explain why many coins are base metal, if included in this category exemplaries of billon, silver plated billon or a bronze cast imitation about imperial denarii. But in case of the (well represented) isolated ones, which are usually found in association with some silver pieces, the exclusiveness of the bronze undoubtedly reveals a certain selection in the private collection.

The batch is really varied, comprising many issues extremely rare in the currency of Tomis and Dobrudja, and some pieces even inedited. The period represented is very wide, ranging from the 5th Century B.C. to the 13th Century A.D. The coins are distributed as follows: 18 Greek coins (six “autonomous” and 12 provincial issues), 171 Roman coins (27 ex. of the 1st-3rd centuries A.D. and 144 ex. from the period 294-423/5 A.D.) and 14 Byzantine coins (seven pieces dated in the 6th Century A.D, five late folles from the 11th Century A.D. and two billon “Latin imitations” issued after 1204).

The most of the Greek issues come from the Moesia Inferior zone, from where the provincial ones of 4 assaria are prevailing, but are also described some rare coins of Punic Sicily, Attica, Mysia, Bithynia and Egypt. A special mention concerns an unprecedented variant of an “autonomous” coin of Tomis (nr. 4). For the 1st-3rd centuries the most numerous imperial bronze denomination is the as; the antoninianii of the Claudius Gothicus-Probus period come in the majority from Rome, Siscia and Cyzicus. The late Roman currency is well represented mainly for the first half of the 4th Century A.D., in accordance with the general statistics for Tomis, which gives a considerable additional information. As rarities for Dobrudja we mention the issues of Carthage and Lugdunum (nr. 51, 138), a rare type of Diocletianus (nr. 46), a coin of Treveri with corrupt legend (nr. 62), a piece of ½ follis from Rome (nr. 55), a rare posthumous nummus of Constantius I (nr. 67) and another one of Constantine, with a unusual location of the workshop mark (nr. 132), respectively a maiorina of Decentius (nr. 149). The other late Roman issues (after 354 A.D.) and the Byzantine ones do not reflect the natural structure of the Dobrudjan currency, being clearly selected, but they are significantly enriching the previous statistics.

(SF) Dărmănești, cemetery of Piatra-Neamț, 2012 (dep.: early decades of the 15th century)

During the preventive archaeological excavations held in the medieval cemetery of Piatra-Neamț, Dărmănești quarter (Neamț County) in 2012, six coins were discovered, within four graves (G 4, G 6, G 22 and G 26). All the pieces belong to the Moldavian ruler Alexander the Good (Alexander I Mușat, 1400-1432). Some of them (nos. 1-3) date at the beginning of his reign, while others (nos. 4-6) were minted later, after his monetary reform. Based on these findings, the authors try to make observations about the coin functions in funerary practices throughout Moldova in medieval times. The coins herein are the most recent findings within the site and they establish its chronological upper limit in the early decades of the 15th century. Perhaps, during the time of Alexander the Good, or even later, Dărmănești village was relocated and the cemetery was abandoned.

(H) Desa, n.s. (dep.: post 1720)

The fragment of the hoard discovered in Desa is formed of 18 coins issued between 1513 and 1720, a bracelet and a pair of earrings. The denominations are Lithuanian pól groszes, Schweidnitz pól groszes, Polish trojaki, Polish dreipólker, Ragusa groseti and Ottoman paras. The oldest coins from the hoard of Desa are pól groszes during the reign of Sigismund I as Grand Duke of Lithuania and Louis II as King of Bohemia and the most recent coin is a grosetto from Ragusa, issued in 1720. The composition of the hoard may be a closer reflection of what was in circulation at the end of the reign of Constantin Brâncoveanu, in the Oltenia – Danube area. (H) Feldioara, medieval cemetery, n.s. (dep.: n.s.)

The case of the medieval cemetery from Feldioara (Braşov County) is unique in the colonized space of German guests from Transylvania because of the coins used during the funeral ritual. The cemetery was in use for a limited period of time, starting with the end of Geza II's reign until the establishment of the Teutonic knights here (1211). Although we do not have the full picture as to the reasons why the coins were found in the medieval burial tombs in Feldioara as the information coming from archaeological research has not been exhaustive in this respect, some general features of the phenomenon could be traced. These general features could be observed from the behavioral sequence of the 122 tombs examined during the two archaeological campaigns of 1990-1995, 1998-1999 and 2006. In the tombs uncovered, there were found 132 individuals accompanied by few objects, only 14 thereof with coins. From the beginning, we can notice that only a small percentage of them, i.e. 10.60%, were buried with coins on them. This phenomenon is specific not only to Feldioara cemetery, but also to the whole colonization area.

In the cemetery area, there were found 29 coins, grouped according to the issuing state as follows: 2 dating from the Roman Republic, 17 from the Roman Empire, 8 from Hungary and 2 from the Habsburg Empire. 18 of them were discovered in funeral context: 2 from the Roman Republic, 10 from the Roman Empire, 6 from Hungary. The 2 Roman Republican denars were issued by S. Afranius Q. Pomponius Musa, and the 10 Imperial Roman coins were discovered in clear funeral contexts and were put into circulation in the following way: Septimius Severus – 4 denars (Iulia Domna – 1, Caracalla – 1, Geta – 1), Caracalla – 1, Elagabalus – 2 denars (Iulia Mamaea – 1) and Severus Alexander – 2 denars (Iulia Mamaea – 1) and 1 sesterce.

PURECE 2013 considers both the Roman Republican coins and most of the Imperial Roman coins discovered in funeral contexts as part of a hoard. Between the 1st century BC and the 1st century AD we can see an important demographic growth and an increasing presence of the Roman coins in the area next to Feldioara. That was the time when treasures like those from Ilieni (Covasna County), Sfântu Gheorghe II, Fotoş (Covasna County) were hidden. They are made up of both coins issued during the mid-2nd century BC and the first half of the 1st century BC. Such a hoard was offered to the medieval inhabitants of Feldioara, hence the 2 republican denars mentioned above.

It is highly probable that most of the Roman Imperial coins discovered in funeral contexts were part of a hoard because denars from the Severian dynasty appear frequently in coin deposits of Roman Dacia. The problems that the province was confronted with towards the mid-3rd century resulted in great treasures being hidden almost all over the territory of the province. The abundance of Roman Imperial coins in the tombs from Feldioara could come from the discovery of one of these hoards.

(H) Ghighișeni, n.s. (ante 1957) (dep.: c. 1602, or later)

The hoard was found in the southeastern part of the region of Bihor county, within the limits of Ghighișeni village (Comm. of Rieni), and in 1957 becomes part of Criș County Museum's collection in Oradea. In 1973, 4,035 coins issued in Hungary, Transylvania, Poland, Lithuania, Prussia, Silesia (Schweidnitz, Liegnitz-Brieg, Teschen), Austria (Tyrol) and Bohemia, during the 15th and 17th century, were inventoried. The hoard raises a few concerns related to its make-up and the accurate establishing of a terminus post quem of the coins concealment. Analyzing the content one will notice that aside a compact group of coins issued during the 15th-16th centuries, there are also 4 coins (parvi) dating from the time of Sigismund of Luxemburg reign and 5 coins from the 17th century: 2 denars struck by Mathia II (1618) and Ferdinand II (1631 or 1635), 2 dreipölkers issued in 1624 by Sigismund III and Georg Wilhelm, and a coin of 3 kreuzers struck in 1661 for Tyrol by archduke Ferdinand Charles. Since TOMA 2009 has no information available related to the circumstances of the finding of the hoard, and based on some remarks made while inventorying other hoards kept in museum's collection, the A. decided to eliminate the coins attributed to Sigismund of Luxemburg, as well as all the 17th century coins and to consider the denars issued in 1602 by Rudolf II, as King of Hungary, as the latest entries.

(H) Vișoara, 1942 (dep.: 60-55 BC)

The Vișoara hoard from Teleorman County was discovered in 1942 in the area of settlement, on the bank of the Călmățui River, at Pârlita point, by two locals. The hoard, initially composed of 280 silver coins, was found in a clay pot, and it was divided between the two. During the first half of the following year, the police was able to retrieve 135 pieces of the hoard which subsequently entered the collection of the Coin Room of the Romanian Academy. The 135 coins that were retrieved from the hoard are categorized as follows: 122 tetradrachms struck in Macedonia Prima and 13 pieces from Thasos (8 pieces with the letter "M" and 5 pieces with the privy mark "MH"). From the analysis of the monetary hoards that were hidden in different moments of the 1st century BC, we can deduce that Vișoara hoard was brought to the north of the Danube region in a period before king Burebista's expeditions to the West, between 80-60 BC. This hypothesis is also supported by the Șieu-Odorhei hoard in Bistrița-Năsăud County that also contained Macedonian tetradrachms with the later privy mark "AP", slightly barbarized, with a clear degradation of the die. The latter was hidden during king Burebista's expedition against the western Celts, between 60-55 BC.

(H) Pimenovo, 2011 (dep.: end 2nd – beginning 3rd century AD)

Hoard, with one hundred and eighty-four denarii and some elements of a silver belt set. These denarii were minted during the reigns of nine emperors: Vespasian, Domitian, Nerva, Trajan, Hadrian, Antoninus Pius, Marcus Aurelius, Commodus and Didius Julianus; in addition, two barbarian imitations of denarii are included in the set of coins. All the denarii are considerably worn, which indicates that they were in circulation for a long period of time. The chronological structure of the hoard makes it a Type D hoard in accordance with A. Dymowski's typology – this type of hoard is the most widespread among deposits on the territory of Barbaricum. The belt set consists of one massive, silver buckle for a sword belt and two buckles for a girdle. The find also contains eighty-four silver belt plaits. This belt set, dating to the latter half of the 5th century AD (phase D2 of the Great Migration Period), is a girdle for bladed weaponry, and looks like a set from the Volnikovka "hoard," which was found in this area. The hoard from Pimenovo probably reflects cultural processes that occurred after the final phase of Chernyakhiv Culture.

SCOTLAND

(H) Catherinefield, Dumfries, 2007-08 (dep.: 1363 – c.1365, or post 1371)

In 2007 a group of metal-detectorists working in a field at Catherinefield Farm, Dumfries, began to unearth a scatter of hammered silver coins. These had been spread across an area about 100 m x 50 m, but it rapidly became clear that they belonged to a hoard disturbed by ploughing. By the end of 2007 a total of 145 coins had been recovered, and a further eleven were found in the early part of 2008, but despite some excavation in the area where coins had been found in the greatest concentration and at the greatest depth, no undisturbed residue was located. Neither was there any definite evidence of a container, although one foot from a bronze tripod bowl was recovered. In total, 156 AR English, Scottish and Continental.

The coins were catalogued by the N. Holmes at the National Museum of Scotland and were claimed as Treasure Trove and allocated to Dumfries Museum. It remains possible that more coins will eventually be recovered if the detectorists return to the field after further ploughing takes place, but this is not expected to happen in the near future, and the number and identity of those already available for study are sufficient to allow some analysis of the hoard to be carried out, even though we have no idea what proportion of it has so far been recovered.

Cons.: Dumfries Museum.

Notizia del ritrovamento, poco prima del marzo 2016, di un fiorino AV della zecca di Firenze nei pressi di Grantshouse, una decina di chilometri a ovest di Coldingham e una ventina a nord-ovest di Berwick-on-Tweed.

La moneta ha un peso di 3.42 g e presenta un segno di zecca descritto nel Libro della Zecca come cuiusdam crucis cum quattuor punctis circum circa crucem (LdZ, p. 9; CNF, pp. 19-20 nn. 208-213, 215). Sulla base dello stile complessivo e dell'evidenza dei ripostigli, oggi è possibile datare questo segno al 1270-85 (DE BENETTI 2019a, pp. 43-44, 127, 66 n. 30, 131-132 n. 30).

(H) Bíňa, 2011 (dep.: 13th century)

Hungarian and Austrian pfennigs, important for dating the whole set. The Hungarian denarii were minted in the period from Andrew II (1235-1270) to Ladislaus IV (1271-1290). The hoard is exceptional mainly because we between the reign of do not know any other find with a similar composition on the territory of Slovakia from the second half of the thirteenth century; in addition to this, Andrew II denarii only appear here sporadically. They occur mainly as one-off finds in housing estates and burial sites. It is interesting to note that almost all the types of Andrew II denarii are represented here, and there is no obvious increased concentration of any other type.

The exact location of the find is situated to the north of the current village of Bíňa, where the medieval village of Leánd was spread, as mentioned in documents from the thirteenth century. Perhaps it is no coincidence that the oldest document on the no longer extant village is was 1270, so probably from the time when the hoard was hidden. However, the village might be older, as attested by the existence of a church dated to the end of the eleventh century, and finds of coins on the site of the vanished village dated to the end of the 11th to 13th centuries. At this time, Bíňa and its surroundings were governed by the important Hont-Poznan family, who were some of the richest nobles on the territory of present-day Slovakia at the time when the hoard was hidden.

(SiF) Čataj, 2002 (dep.: n.s.)

In 2002, a solidus struck under Anastasius I (491-518) in Thessalonica was found near the village of Čataj. Besides this coin, the settlement in this region is also supported by the remains of necropolis from Čataj and isolated grave in nearby village Cífer. There are only twelve other finds of these coins from Carpathian Basin territory. The majority of them (approximately two thirds) are from Gepids territory. The solidus could have been brought to this region via the warriors, the trade or as a payment for Barbarian kings. After the breakdown of Hun empire, the East Roman kings paid various sums of money for Gepids, Ostrogoths and Svebs in Carpathian Basin.

(SiF) in the area between the villages Blatná and Šenkvice, 2014 (dep.: 1st century BC)

In 2014, an interesting Celtic coin was discovered in the area between the villages Blatná and Šenkvice in Southwestern Slovakia, near to the road connecting both villages and a water basin. The Pełczyska type coins belong to relatively rare golden Boian coins that have been named after the Pełczyska village situated approximately 55 km northeasterly of Cracow. It was an intensively inhabited locality in the La Tène horizons LT C1- LT D2. Besides of its super-regional significance, the discovered 1/8-stater also contributes to knowledge of the Celtic settlement in southwestern Slovakia. The area between the villages Blatné and Šenkvice was intensively settled and other interesting Celtic coins were discovered here, as well as other archaeological material. The coins originate from a longer period limited by the horizons LT C2 – LT D2, to which the discovered 1/8-stater also belongs. From the earlier period, the following coins were discovered here: 1/24-stater of the Athena Alkidemos type, two silver coins of the Roseldorf/Němčice type, tetradrachma or drachma of the lyre/triskeles type. In addition, there was also found an interesting hybrid republican coin, which, however, is not inevitably connected with the Celtic settlement. Other coins discovered here are younger, from 1st century BC. The presence of the Celts at Šenkvice is also documented by archaeological finds represented first of all by the surface collection of settlement character finds. Besides the glass artifacts and bracelets, there was found ceramics in form of pots with so-called club-shaped lips, that originate from the youngest horizon of the Celtic settlement in southwestern Slovakia.

(H) Šurice, Novohrad, maggio 1966 (dep.: 1603-04)

In May 1966 the Tódors from Šurice near Fil'akovo found a cc. 30 cm tall vesse with silver coins during the digging of their garden. It had a shape of jug made of white clay, decorated with red stripes. The founders gave the hoard to the City Museum in Fil'akovo (Ftilek) – Mestské múzeum vo Fil'akove. However, it did not have an expert for cleaning and for scientific identification of the coins. Thus the treasure was handed to the Slovak National Museum (Slovenské národném múzeum) in Bratislava. The coins were analysed by the head of the Numismatic Department, PhDr. Jozef Hlinka, CSc. The find had been stored here till 1992. During 1970's the museum in Fil'akovo was transformed into the museum of Novohrad and was moved to Lučenca (Losonc). In 1992 the Novohrad museum – Novohradské múzeum in Lučenca asked the Slovak National Museum to return the treasure. In this year Dr. Hlinka unexpectedly died and thus the find was returned only in 1993. In 2003 the treasure was borrowed for a new and detailed working up. It was done by Mgr. Marek Budaj and PhDr. Ján Hunka, CSc. in 2004. At present the text of the book is under preparation. Only a little information on the hoard from Šurice has been known so far given by Dr. Hlinka in "Coin finds in Slovakia" vol. 3, (Nálezy III. p. 70. no. 246). He wrote that the hoard contains roughly 3,000 coins from the 16th-17th centuries minted in the area of Hungary, Bohemia, Poland and Prussia.

As a result of the new analyses of the hoard it contains 5,461 coins. Roughly 80 % is represented by Hungarian denarii from the reign of Louis II up to Rudolf II from the years 1517-1603 (4,369 coins). Two "obols" issued by Rudolf II in 1590 and 1602 appeared also among the coins. Apart from denarii minted in Kőrmöcbánya (Kremnica) 11 rare denarii were also found from the Kassa (Košice, 1577), Nagybánya (Baia Mare, 9 denarii in 1554-1555 and 1582) and Visegrád (1526) mints. In the hoard imitations of the denarii from Kőrmöcbánya, forgeries coined on the silver-plated small flans as well as denari with wrong dating (1565, 1571-1572, 1579) were also found. The latest denarii from the year 1603 suggest the time when the treasure was buried. The rest of the treasure consists of coins from Central Europe. There were 669 Polish coins – Cracowian halfgroats from the reign of Casimir Jagello till Sigismund I and 3-groats of Stephen Báthory and Sigismund III (from the mints in Bydgoszcz, Cracow, Lublin, Malbork, Oikusz, Poznan, Riga, and Wschow). A hitherto unknown imitation of the Cracowian 3-groat from 1602 was also found. There were even 193 Czech double- and single-sided coins ("fillérs") from the end of the 15th century up to 1597. They were the coins from the kings Wladislaw II up to Rudolf II. Such coins are frequent in the finds from Slovakia (they substituted the missing local currency coins). The find contained also coins from Prussia, Silesia and Lithuania, e.g. groats of Albrecht from Hohenzollern (1530-1546), Torunian groats of Sigismund I the Old (1579-1585). The find contains two kinds of coins from Silesia – 77 halfgroats of Louis II from Schweidnitz and groats of Fridrich II, duke of Lignitz-Wolau (1541-1545). Also the groat of the dukedom Glogau from 1506 is very rare (exceptional among Slovakian finds). Also Lithuanian 3-groats of Stephen Bathory and Sigismund II (18 pieces, 1581-1596) are quite rare. The Moldavian denarius of Alexander IV minted in Suceava in 1558 is absolutely exceptional (it appeared in Slovakia for the first time). It is surprising that the treasure contained very few coins from Germany. In particular, there were three coins the Göttingen "Mariengroschen" from 1550, the Nördlingen shilling of Maximilian I from 1498 and an unknown pfennig from the 16th century. The small number of German coins refers to the fact that its late owner had trade contact much rather in the Czech-Hungarian-Polish area than in the German-Austrian one.

The treasure was probably buried in 1603, perhaps in 1604. The original owner of the coins was probably a merchant who was trading in present day Slovakia and in the neighbouring countries. Central region of present day Slovakia (Gemer and Novohrad) played an important role in the international trade. It connected the territory of present day Hungary with Silesia and Poland. There were exported raw materials from Hungary (ores containing precious and coloured metals), animals (cattle, horses, sheep), agricultural products (such as wine), handicraft products (canvas, products made of precious metals and iron). From the neighbouring countries were imported things that could not be produced locally. Foreign coins from the 16th and 17th centuries came into this area also due to the fact that wars were permanent in which soldiers from foreign armies (Austrian, Czech, Moravian, and Silesian armies) also took part. After 1576 there were many battles with Turks who after 1530 were relatively often invading southern parts of present day Slovakia. The treasure from Šurice was hidden due to the 15 years long war of the emperor Rudolf II and the sultans Murad III, Mehmed III and Ahmed I (1593-1606). Military clashes between the emperor's and the Turkish armies did not end in unequivocal victories. With varying success they seized and lost some important centres (Eger, Divény, Drégely, Fülek, Gömör, Hatvan, Heves, Kékkő, Nógrád, Palota, and Szabadka). During the spring of 1599 Turks sacked and destroyed dozens of weakly fortified towns and villages in Gömör (Gemer) and in Nógrád (Novohrad). Many of them were not re-inhabited. In 1600 the aristocrat and military leader Stephen Bocskay from Transylvania started an anti-Habsburg rebellion. His armies were active in the Central and Southern territories of present day Slovakia, Moravia, and Austria. He seized several important fortresses (Fülek, Szécsény and Korpona). Therefore Rudolf II was forced to peace negotiations with him in Vienna on 23 June 1606. On 11 September 1606 he signed peace also with the Turkish sultan near the mouth of the river Zsitva (Žiava). 15 years long war was undoubtedly one of the strongest impulses for hiding the hoard. The value of the coin hoard was 8500-8600 denarii, that is 90 Hungarian talers, in the years 1590-1603. For this sum of money e.g. five horses or twenty-five cows, or 150 kilograms of pork or beef meat, or else 7500 loaves of bread or 5000 rolls or buns could be bought. It was the value of 5 "korces" of wheat, 860 days of manual labour, 430 days of labour of a mason assistant or 690 days of labour of a carpenter assistant. Since the owner did not come back to his coins, it is obvious that he either died or fled. He was not the only one who was afraid of losing money or life. In the area between Nitra (Nyitra) and Rimavská Sobota (Rimaszombat) at least 15 coin hoards were buried. They contained not only local and foreign "ducats" and "talers", but also coins of intermediate and low values. They were found in Ondrejovce, Vrbovce nad Rimavicou and in an unknown locality from Western Slovakia (they were buried probably in 1593), in Pača and Zbrojníky (1595), in Barca near Rimavská Sobota a Kapince (1597), Svätuška (1598), Komjatice (1599), Krupina and Rapovce (they were buried at the end of 16th century) and in Barca (1600), Bzovská Lehôtka (1603), Babinec near Rimavská Sobota (1604), Modrý Kameň (1607).

Numismatic and historical importance of the find from Šurice: 1. It is one of the largest coin hoard found in Slovakia buried in the period of the "taler" currency; 2. Unlike other finds it remained complete. It is the largest survived treasure in Slovakia. 3. It is an exceptional proof of social conditions in the late Gömör (Gemer) and Nógrád (Novohrad) at the turn of the 16th and 17th centuries (Šurice is situated on the border of these regions). There are known only a few historical data about this village. In the years 1427-1548 there were only from 11 to 20 inhabited "portas". The village inhabitants were threatened by Turks and by other enemies. Their number was reduced to one fourth. In 1599 there were found only 8 "portas" and only 11 houses were inhabited. There were no more than 60 people living in this village. The Šurice treasure is one of very few sources proving that despite the suffering of local inhabitants the life in the village continued and in the milieu where the majority of inhabitants were represented by serfs there were also a few people with bigger wealth.

(H) tra Čataj e Boldrog, 2009 (dep.: 1334-36)

In 2009, three Hungarian grossi and one Prague grossus were found between Čataj and Boldrog (Senec district, Slovakia). The hoard was buried in 1334-1336 very likely, and it represents a very important illustration of the common circulation of coins of both types in Hungary. It is a very interesting phenomenon, because production of the grossi in Hungary also started in order to eliminate the Prague grossi from circulation. The grossi were struck in Hungary in 1329-1338, and later on, also after 1345. The ratio was approximately 8 Hungarian grossi to 7 Prague grossi.

(H) Hrpelje-Kozina/Erpelle-Cosina, 1886 (dep.: XIII sec.)

Ripostiglio scoperto nel 1886 durante i lavori di costruzione della ferrovia fra Trieste ed Erpelle-Cosina (Hrpelje-Kozina), venuto alla luce fra alcune rocce.

Secondo la descrizione – sommaria – dell'epoca, era composto interamente da monete d'argento:

- denari di Bertoldo, zecca di Aquileia;
- denari Ulrico de' Portis, zecca di Trieste;
- grossi dei dogi Pietro Ziani e Jacopo Tiepolo, zecca di Venezia.

Nonostante le ricerche fatte in loco all'epoca da persone autorevoli, non si sa nulla sulla natura del ripostiglio e sulla quantità precisa di monete rinvenute. Alcuni operai sostennero che non fossero nemmeno un centinaio, mentre altri parlarono di qualche migliaio. Dato l'esiguo numero di pezzi giunti presso l'attuale Museo d'Antichità "J.J. Winckelmann", in PUSCHI 1886 si propende per prestare fede solo alla prima asserzione.

I materiali sarebbero stati scoperti in un luogo prossimo a quello dove nell'ottobre 1898 sarebbe poi stato rinvenuto un altro ripostiglio di monete del XIII sec. (v. ritrovamento n. 9725).

Cons.: In larga parte dispero. Alcuni pezzi a Trieste, Museo d'Antichità "J.J. Winckelmann", all'epoca della scoperta Civico Museo di Storia ed Arte di Trieste.

Cinque monete furono portate al Civico Museo dalla Direzione Generale delle Ferrovie dello Stato e quindici pezzi dal prof. Giovanni Perhauz. All'infuori di tre pezzi spezzati, tutti gli altri erano ben conservati, quindi per CAMMAROTA 2018 potrebbero essere stati trovati dagli scopritori in un vaso d'argilla. In PUSCHI 1886 non viene specificato quali siano le monete donate dall'uno e dall'altro, ma in CAMMAROTA 2018, p. 205 si asserisce di essere riusciti a differenziare alcuni pezzi di entrambi i donatori.

Le monete presenti non erano né inventariate né riposte nei monetieri del Civico Museo, ma in due bustine di carta, conservate in una scatola metallica, presente nella parte sottostante al monetiere bizantino. Altre monete del tesoretto, invece, furono inventariate e collocate proprio all'interno del monetiere bizantino.

Circa un anno dopo la scoperta, il 25 gennaio 1887 un certo G. Vettach donò al Civico Museo un ulteriore denaro di Ulrico de' Portis. Non è certo che questo pezzo appartenga al primo ripostiglio, perché fu portato successivamente in Museo e non è dato sapere il luogo di rinvenimento, e potrebbe quindi appartenere a un diverso ripostiglio.

(H) Hrpelje-Kozina/Erpelle-Cosina, ottobre 1898 (dep.: XIII sec.)

Ripostiglio scoperto nell'ottobre del 1898 dal "villico" Martino Dobrilla, dimorante ad Erpelle (Hrpelje) n. 16, in una spaccatura fra le rocce. Le tradizioni orali del paese di Hrpelje/Erpelle riferiscono che forse, invece che in una spaccatura fra le rocce, queste monete erano state rinvenute in una grotta.

Sarebbe stato composto principalmente da monete della zecca di Trieste (120 denari di Bertoldo e 29 di Ulrico de' Portis), ma vi sarebbero stati anche alcuni (quanti?) esemplari della zecca di Aquileia.

I materiali sarebbero stati scoperti in un luogo prossimo a quello dove nel 1886 fu rinvenuto un altro ripostiglio di monete del XIII sec. (v. ritrovamento n. 9724).

Cons.: In parte dispero. Alcuni pezzi a Trieste, Museo d'Antichità "J.J. Winckelmann", all'epoca della scoperta Civico Museo di Storia ed Arte di Trieste.

Il Civico Museo acquistò 145 di questi pezzi l'1 novembre 1898 da Gregorio Bencich. All'infuori di pochi pezzi, la maggior parte delle monete erano in buone condizioni e moltissime sembravano appena uscite dalla zecca. L'8 febbraio 1899 vennero inviati in dono al prof. Filippo Zamboni di Vienna un denaro triestino ed altro di Aquileia derivanti da questo ripostiglio.

Alcuni pezzi di questo tesoretto, solamente denari triestini di Ulrico de' Portis, furono inventariati dal personale del Civico Museo e riposti nei cassetti del monetiere bizantino.

Durante nuove ricerche presso il Museo è stato possibile riconoscere alcuni materiali di questo ripostiglio (76 monete del patriarca Bertoldo) che sembravano essere andati perduti, conservati in una vecchia scatola di sigari in legno (CAMMAROTA 2018).

Cons.: Trieste, Museo d'Antichità "J.J. Winckelmann", all'epoca della scoperta Civico Museo di Storia ed Arte di Trieste.

Il totale di monete presenti al Museo di Trieste sarebbe dovuto essere di 9 d'oro e di 5.213 d'argento. Una nota in matita in una lettera del prof. Sticotti, direttore del Museo all'epoca della scoperta dei materiali, probabilmente posteriore alla redazione della lettera, premette di supporre che in una prima fase il tesoretto sarebbe rimasto unito, ma che successivamente alcune monete siano state mandate al Museo Archeologico Nazionale di Aquileia (forse perché ritenute "doppie").

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: necropolis / cemetery

(H) Maribor, 1931 (dep.: post 1329)

Ripostiglio, con c. 100 AV e c. 6 AR, rinvenuto nel settembre 1931 durante lavori in una casa nella piazza centrale della città. Le monete furono rinvenute tra i resti di ossa bruciate.

Segnalati 47 (o 48) fiorini AV con legenda FLORENTIA, 1 ducato di Venezia del doge Giovanni Soranzo (1312-1328), 1 fiorino del Regno di Boemia (1310-1346).

De Benetti (2019a, p. 302; 2024) riconosce 16 fiorini della zecca di Firenze:

- zecca di Firenze, periodo dei maestri di zecca prevalentemente conosciuti (dal 1303/II)

- 1312/II (chiavistello): 1 es.
- 1314/I (botte): 1 es.
- 1315/II (sferza): 1 es.
- 1318/II (sole): 1 es.
- 1319/II (due fiori): 1 es.
- 1320/I (gallo): 1 es.
- 1321/II (testa di leone): 1 es.
- 1322/II (monte con foglia di fico sopra): 2 es.
- 1324/I (riccio): 1 es.
- 1325/I (due mazze di ferro decussate): 1 es.
- 1326/II (vomere): 1 es.
- 1327/I (piccone a due punte): 1 es.
- 1328/I (agnello pasquale): 1 es.
- 1328/II (chiocciola): 1 es.

- 1326-1332 (grappolo con foglia; possibile segno cedro con due foglie del 1330/I): 1 es.
Sono inoltre conservati altri due fiorini con segni forbice (ca. 1291-1299) e balestra (1305/II), entrambi non verificati. Tra i segni documentati poco dopo la scoperta, non più verificabili, il più recente è quello “testa di bue” del 1329/II669.
- Cons.: In gran parte disperso. 16 fiorini di Firenze sono conservati presso il Pokrajinski Muzej di Maribor (MIRNIK 1981) indica 24 es., ma attualmente sono sedici), altri 2 presso il Museo Nazionale di Lubiana.

SPAIN

(H) 46 Cuna, Sevilla/Siviglia, 1972 (dep.: between 552 and 555)

A hoard of 77 solidi and tremisses was found by accident in 1972 in a central street in Seville. During the construction of a building at 46 Cuna a small pot of coins fell out of a wall. The workers divided up the 77 coins among themselves – the original number was 78 but one of the coins was lost – but suspicions were aroused when somebody tried to sell them at a very popular antique market in the city known as ‘El Jueves’. The case was brought to court but only resolved some years later. The find lacks a precise archaeological context, but we know that the hoard was found near one of the Guadalquivir’s old riverbanks, for until the tenth century, the river ran right through the centre of what is today the modern city.

(H) Barcelona/Barcellona, Parque de la Ciudadela, 2006 (dep.: c. 1714)

En el año 2006 mientras se realizaban los trabajos arqueológicos en el Parque de la Ciudadela (Barcelona, España), fue encontrado un conjunto monetario de 576 piezas de cobre. En una primera documentación se identificaron monedas emitidas desde el 1614 hasta el 1711, siendo el grueso del hallazgo acuñado durante los años de la Guerra de Sucesión en Barcelona (1707-1714). Las circunstancias de la ocultación de un conjunto monetario son en ocasiones difíciles de interpretar, pero en este caso todo apuntaba a que quien escondió las monedas lo hizo debido a los enfrentamientos en los últimos días de la guerra de Sucesión, tal vez durante los últimos momentos del asedio de Barcelona.

(SF) Empúries/Emporiae, insula 30, n.s. (dep.: last quarter of the 3rd century)

44 coins unearthed in the strata that record the last stages of occupation and abandonment of Insula 30 in the Roman city of Emporiae. In this Insula we can distinguish between a sector occupied by the public baths and an area of tabernae, the destruction and abandonment of which is thought to date to the last quarter of the 3rd century. The composition of this important assemblage of coins reveals the nature of the coin mass used by the inhabitants of Emporiae in the city's final phases, which were marked by a serious deficiency in the replenishment of cash coinage.

(H) Empúries/Emporiae, insula 30, july 2016 (dep.: c. 74-73 BC)

During the excavations carried out in July 2016 with the students of the 70th Empúries Archaeological Course, a hoard of 200 denarii, the newest of which dates from 74-73 BC, was found in the Insula 30 of the Roman city of Emporiae. The treasure, which was in a ceramic pot, was buried at a layer located at the far South of this sector and could be related to the first stages of occupation of the insula.

Coins from an urban excavation carried out in 1985 in Calle del Mar, Valencia, specifically on what was then building plot 19. The coins constitute an interesting hoard, associated with the abandonment of the Roman house where it was found. The hoard was probably deposited in the second half of the 3rd century AD, when the sestertius was the most important coin in circulation, although the presence of the antoninianus in commercial contexts emphasizes its significance, as shown by the presence of one in this find.

(H) Frenkendorf, loc. Horn, 2020 (dep.: 822/3-40)

Christian Lauper, un volontario presso l'Archäologie del Baselland, si è imbattuto in diversi denari dell'era carolingia durante il suo lavoro esplorativo nella remota area di Horn, a ovest di Frenkendorf. Le monete d'argento erano sparse in un raggio di circa 20 metri nel suolo della foresta. Il sito non aveva caratteristiche particolari (es. collina, conca o grossa pietra), che avrebbero potuto essere usate come punto di riferimento all'epoca. Al fine di chiarire se esistessero reperti archeologici in situ nel terreno, l'Archäologie del Baselland ha effettuato un sondaggio nel luogo con la maggiore densità di reperti su un'area di 3 × 3 metri. Ne sono venute alla luce altre monete, ma nessuna traccia di altri elementi di rilevanza archeologica come fosse, trincee o resti di strade, solo un sottosuolo leggero e vuoto sotto lo strato di humus della foresta. Complessivamente 12 AR (alcuni in frammento) di Ludovico il Pio della serie con tempio tetrastilo e legenda XPISTIANA RELIGIO: 8 o 9 attribuibili alla zecca di Venezia, 2 a Milano, 1 indeterminato.

La diffusione delle monete su un'area più ampia può essere spiegata col trasferimento o la levigatura del terreno nel corso dei lavori forestali e con la diffusione della vegetazione, che avrebbe causato uno spostamento delle monete dalla loro posizione iniziale e il loro danneggiamento. L'area del ritrovamento è un altopiano a metà strada tra le valli Ergolz e Birstal. È ipotizzabile che qui nel IX secolo corresse un sentiero di montagna, lungo il quale furono perse o depositate le monete.

(H) Basel/Basilea, loc. Saint-Louis, 1883 (dep.: 100 a.C.)

Mit der vorliegenden Arbeit wird der 1883 bei Basel entdeckte keltische Goldfund von Saint-Louis aus der Zeit kurz vor 100 v. Chr. in den grösseren Zusammenhang ähnlich zusammengesetzter keltischer Hortfunde gestellt, im ersten Teil mit der nachredigierten Fassung eines Artikels von 1982 und im zweiten Teil mit den wichtigsten inzwischen erfolgten weiteren Forschungen sowie Überlegungen dazu.

Dieser Fundkomplex aus Ringschmuck und Münzen bleibt ein archäologischer Schlüsselfund in dreierlei Hinsicht. Erstens als bedeutender Hortfund nahe der grossen keltischen Siedlung Basel-Gasfabrik, zweitens für Horte mit ortsfremden Münzen vom Typ Regenbogenschüsselchen und Muschelstateren und drittens für die Kombination von Torques mit Münzen in Depotfunden. Deren sakrale Bedeutung wird heute weitgehend akzeptiert. Unklarer ist der Hintergrund des Zustandekommens und der Niederlegung von grösseren Mengen von ortsfremden Münzen vor allem aus Bayern und Böhmen, wie dies auch in anderen Hortfunden am südlichen Oberrhein festzustellen ist.

Karel Castellin versuchte 1961 dieses Dilemma mit der Definition einer „Basler Gruppe“ von Muschelstatere zu lösen, die heute infolge der festgestellten Stempelkoppelungen überholt ist. Andres Furger erklärte 1982 dasselbe Phänomen als bewusste Selektion solcher Goldmünzen, mit ihren in religiösem Zusammenhang gedeuteten Symbolen, im Sinne von Opfermünzen, Dabei wurde die Kombination mit Ringschmuck, vor allem Torques, als wichtiges Argument angeführt. Diese Erklärung wurde untermauert durch literarische und bildliche Belege für die Bedeutung des Torques als göttliches Attribut.

Michael Nick konnte 2005/06 den Bogen dank entscheidender Neufunde der letzten Jahrzehnte weiter schlagen. Er bestätigte den sakralen Charakter der Depotfunde von ortsfremden Münzen vom Typus Muschelstater und Regenbogenschüsselchen in Kombination mit Torques und stellte eine neue These auf für die Hortfunde ohne Torques. Michael Nick plädierte für „fliessende Grenzen“ zwischen sakralen und profanen Bereichen und für eine weniger strikte Grenzziehung zwischen beiden. Damit kommt er auf die Idee einer Mischform von Münzhorten als „Deponierungen in der Obhut der Götter“, bei der die gehorteten Werte zu profanen Zwecken wieder gehoben werden konnten.

Einen entscheidenden Fortschritt brachten die von Bernward Ziehaus neu festgestellten Stempelkoppelungen von Münzen zwischen weit entfernt liegenden, aber sehr ähnlich zusammengesetzten Hortfunden vor allem zwischen dem südlichen Oberrhein, Süddeutschland und Böhmen. Michael Nick leitete daraus ab, dass die Horte beziehungsweise, die Personen oder Gruppen, die diese niederlegten, miteinander in Beziehung standen.

Im letzten Teil wird auf das merkwürdige Fehlen von Pilipperstateren in sakralen oder semisakralen Horten am Rheinknie und damit auch im Goldfund von Saint-Louis hingewiesen. „Glatten“ Münzen wie den Regenbogenschüsselchen oder Muschelstateren kamen zwischen bestimmten Gruppen wohl eine spezielle Bedeutung im Rahmen religiöser Vorstellungen zu.

In einem Zwischenkapitel wird die Frage gestellt, woher der Reichtum der Bewohner der keltischen Siedlung am Rheinknie kam, zu dem auch Goldfunde wie die hier behandelten Ringe gehörten. Eine Antwort darauf gibt der Charakter der Siedlung Basel-Gasfabrik am Rhein mit vermutlichem Hafen als Handels- und Umschlagplatz von teuren Importgütern wie Wein aus Italien und im Gegenzug dazu vielleicht von Sklaven.

Ebenfalls im zweiten Teil wird noch einmal die nicht leicht zu entwirrende Entdeckungsgeschichte des Fundes von Saint-Louis aufgerollt, nachdem ein deutscher Forscher um 1990 den Vorschlag gemacht hatte, diesen Hort dem damals neu entdeckten Oppidum Kegelriss bei Freiburg im Breisgau aufgrund von in Archivalien des frühen 20. Jahrhunderts erwähnten Goldfunden unbekannter Zeitstellung zuzuordnen. Zur Klärung dieser Frage werden hier erstmals die

Argumente pro und contra Kegelriss und Saint-Louis differenziert diskutiert.

Einerseits erweisen sich die wenigen bisher angeführten Belege und Argumente für die Umlplatzierung als vage und andererseits kann darauf hingewiesen werden, dass mehrere Forscher die Lokalisierung des Fundes von Saint-Louis am Rheinufer unterhalb Basels mit eigenen Nachforschungen glaubhaft untermauern konnten. Fazit: Der alternative Fundortvorschlag konnte bis heute nicht belegt werden und erfolgte demnach vorschnell.

Der Goldfund von Saint-Louis bei Basel bleibt ein wichtiges Zeugnis der Präsenz der Kelten im 2. und 1. Jahrhundert vor Christus am Basler Rheinknie. Er stammt aus der unmittelbaren Nachbarschaft der so genannten Siedlung Basel-Gasfabrik unter dem Novartis-Campus und damit der best untersuchten keltischen Grosssiedlung der Schweiz.

(H) Vully-le-Bas, sul Mont-Vully, nei pressi di Jorressens, 16 marzo 1832 (dep.: post 1447)

Il 16 marzo 1832, Jacques Chautems scoprì nel suo campo di Jorressens su Mont-Vully (comune di Vully-le-Bas, FR) un vaso di terracotta contenente circa 1.800 monete medievali.

Gli archivi offrono informazioni incomplete e contraddittorie sul tesoro, che rende difficile specificare il numero esatto di monete e monete tipi monetari che conteneva. Il Journal du Canton de Fribourg del 27 aprile 1832, prima menzione del ritrovamento, parla di 1.000 bratteati (petites pièces laminées) per 800 monete di diverse specie. Nel settembre dello stesso anno, Rodolphe de Dompierre, uno dei curatori di antichità nel cantone di Vaud, stimò la composizione all'80% di bratteati al 20% di altre monete AR+MI.

Possibili monete presenti (dalla ricostruzione in GEISER, EL SHERBINY, RAEMY TOURNELLE 2002, pp. 22-23):

- area nord-alpina (Francia/Savoia/Fiandre)
 - Lausanne, Evêché, XIVE s., denier;
 - Savoie, Comté, Aimon le Pacifique (1329-1343), Saint-Maurice, denier;
 - Vaud, Baronnie, Louis I-II, Nyon, 1285-1349, denier;
 - France, royaume, Philippe III, V, V ou VI, XIVE s. (et non pas Bourgogne), gros tournois;
 - Provence, Comté, Robert d'Anjou, 1309-1343, Avignon, sol coronat;
 - Brabant ou Flandres, sous les ducs de Bourgogne, XVe s., prob. double gros;
- area italiana
 - Venezia, Pietro, Bartolomeo o Giovanni Gradenigo, XIV sec., grosso AR (1 es.);
 - Firenze, XV sec., fiorino (AR?; 1 es.);
 - Milano, Repubblica Ambrosiana, 1447-1450, grosso AR (1 es.);
- bratteate delle zecche di Basilea, Zurigo, Thiengen, Zofingue, Lindau, Ueberlingen, San Gallo, Strasburgo (tra i 36 e i 41 es.).

Cons.: In larga parte disperso.

Il prefetto di Morat e il curatore di antichità del cantone di Vaud comprarono alcuni tipi rappresentativi di tesoro. La descrizione di questi materiali è pubblicata in parte nel Journal of the Canton of Fribourg (più 7 esemplari acquistati dal prefetto di Morat) e in parte nei manoscritti successivi del Cabinet des Medailles Vaudois di Losanna (41 esemplari acquistati da Dompierre). Dodici altre monete furono acquistate dal giudice di pace di Cudrefin (VD), un certo Richard, e sono descritti nel catalogo Caspari del Museo di Avenches, ma solo 9 sono attualmente identificabili. Non è noto il nome di altri acquirenti.

Ritrovamento di AV+AR durante lavori edili in un edificio prospiciente la chiesa.

La prima notizia (VOGT 1936) indica 4 AV (di cui tre fiorini di Firenze ed un fiorino del regno di Boemia) e venticinque monete d'argento. Studi successivi (KLEIN 2004) indicano invece 6 AV (di cui cinque fiorini di Firenze ed un fiorino del regno di Boemia) e 27 AR.

De Benetti (2019a, p. 302) riconosce 2 fiorini AV della zecca di Firenze:

- periodo dei maestri di zecca prevalentemente conosciuti (dal 1303/II)

• 1310/I (giglio): 1 es.

• 1318/I (simbolo degli Acciaiuoli: acciarino tra due punti): 1 es.

È inoltre documentato un fiorino del 1327/I (non verificato).

(D) Zillis (Zillis-Reichen), scavi 1991-95 (dep.: I-IV e prima metà del XIII sec.)

Durante le campagne di scavo condotte tra il 1991 e il 1995 all'interno e davanti alla grotta di Zillis furono rinvenute non meno di 647 monete. Si tratta di esemplari di età romana imperiale (con un forte addensamento nella seconda metà del IV sec. d.C., apparentemente non posteriori al 403 d.C.), con la sola eccezione di due denari terzoli della zecca di Milano.

Dalle fotografie proposte in EBNÖTHER, FLÜCKIGER, PETER 2021, p. 82, un esemplare sarebbe da datare al 1170-1200 (n. 12), il secondo (n. 11) ai primi decenni del XIII sec. (datazione non possibile con maggiore accuratezza a causa del livello di usura dei materiali).

SOLOTHURN

(D) Balsthal, anni '30 del XX secolo (dep.: n.s.)

Deposito scoperto negli anni '30 del XX secolo ad ovest della chiesa antica di Balsthal. In origine esso comprendeva almeno 150-160 quinari celtici, di cui 17 reperibili in collezioni, e un oggetto in argento massiccio descritto come un "corno di cervo", oggi andato perduto. Il tesoro di Balsthal entra a far parte della categoria dei depositi religiosi celtici, che si distinguono proprio per la presenza comune di monete e di oggetti di lusso.

ST. GALLEN

(H) Oberriet, 1941 (dep.: c. 271 d.C.)

At present 1.361 coins are known to exist which stem from the coin find in Oberriet. 72 % of the coins from the older find of 1941 are still accessible, and descriptions of the missing coins exist. Renewed excavations in November 2006 revealed an occupation layer and produced fibulae and other objects as well as coins. The hoard appears to consist of an earlier and a later part. It was buried in about 271 A.D.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(SF) Airolo, chiesa parrocchiale dei santi Nazario e Celso, 1995 (dep.: n.s.)

Reperti singoli, deposito: 313 monete medievali, 30 monete moderne, 2 altri oggetti.

Da lavori di demolizione all'interno della cripta, gruppo di 114 MI assemblati insieme a decorazioni metalliche di una cassetta di legno, probabilmente deposti per ragioni votive. Le monete comprendevano principalmente denari, mezzi denari, bagattini, alcune trilline e quattrini provenienti principalmente da zecche del Piemonte e dell'Italia settentrionale (ma notate altre monete italiane e straniere) principalmente databili al terzo quarto del XV secolo.

Nel complesso notati:

- Asti, 53 denari imperiali (emissioni anonime, post 1447);
- Casale Monferrato, 6 denari (Giovanni IV, 1445-64);
- Genova, 2 denari minuti (fino a Carlo VII, 1458-61);
- Milano, 2 denari Gian Galeazzo Visconti, 1378/85-1402; 1 denaro Filippo Maria Visconti, 1412-47; 1 denaro e 4 trilline Galeazzo Maria Sforza, 1468-76;
- Venezia, 12 bagattini (Francesco Foscari, 1423-57);
- Savoia, obolo di bianchetto (Carlo I, 1482-90);
- Fano, denaro piccolo (Innocenzo VIII, 1484-92);
- altre monete delle zecche di Cremona, Lucca (post 1479), Macerata, Pesaro, Roma, Siena, Napoli, Sicilia, Atene, Normandia, Francia, Friburgo (Svizzera), Zurigo, Schaffausen, Pfalz-Mosbach.

(uns) Mendrisio, loc. Ligornetto, necropoli, n.s. (ante 1872) (dep.: n.s.)

In una lettera che il prof. Alessandro Brambilla scrisse al sig. Henzen, segretario dell'Istituto Prussiano di Roma, a proposito di una necropoli scoperta a Cantello, fraz. Ligurno, nel 1872 (v. ritrovamento n. 9990) si riporta: A Ligurnetto, paesello della Svizzera, dopo Stabio, fu in vari tempi scoperto buon numero di tumoli simili a quelli di Ligurno; ma su questi non si hanno dati positivi, e degli oggetti trovati la Società del Museo Patrio non ne possiede alcuno, perchè furono messi in luce prima che questa si costituisse. Soltanto si sa che in quelle tombe era buona copia di monete di bronzo, d'argento e talune d'oro: ora si stanno facendo le opportune ricerche per avere su tale necropoli più chiare ed importanti cognizioni.

(H) Finges/Pfynwal, tra Loèche e Sierre, 1908 (dep.: c. 1410 (per SACCOCCI 1998b; post 1400; per MEC 12, p. 692: prima metà XV sec.))

Ripostiglio, con almeno 106 AV, 490 AR e 2 MI ritrovato casualmente durante gli scavi per la realizzazione di un canale non lontano da Sierre, costituito principalmente da monete dell'Italia settentrionale, della Francia meridionale, del Rhineland e dell'Ungheria

Composizione:

- Milano, 4 ducati (1 Galeazzo II e Bernabò Visconti, 1354-78; 1 Galeazzo II Visconti, 1354-78; 1 Bernabò Visconti, 1354-85; 1 Gian Galeazzo, 1378-1402); 20 grossi ambrosini minori (1 Enrico VII di Lussemburgo, 1310-13; 16 Ludovico IV il Bavaro, 1314-46, conati tra il 1326 e il 1330; 3 Ludovico IV e Azzone Visconti, 1329-30); 332 grossi pegioni (292 Galeazzo II e Bernabò Visconti, 1354-78; 35 Bernabò Visconti, 1354-85; 5 Gian Galeazzo Visconti, 1385-1402); 2 sesini (1 Galeazzo II e Bernabò Visconti, 1354-78; 1 Gian Galeazzo Visconti, 1385-1402);
- Pavia, 51 grossi pegioni (48 Galeazzo II Visconti, 1359-78; 3 Gian Galeazzo, 1378-1402);
- Genova, 26 genovini (2 con IQDP, tipo Desimoni nn. 168 e 180; 17 Simone Boccanegra 1339-44 e 1356-63; 3 Gabriele Adorno, 1363-70; 2 Nicola Guarco, 1378-83; 1 Leonardo Montaldo, 1383-84; 1 Carlo VI Francia, 1396-1409);
- Venezia, 40 ducati (4 Francesco Dandolo, 1329-39; 7 Andrea Dandolo, 1343-54; 1 Giovanni Dolfino, 1356-61; 5 Lorenzo Celsi, 1361-65; 2 Marco Corner, 1365-68; 8 Andrea Contarini, 1368-82; 8 Antonio Venier, 1382-1400; 5 Michele Steno, 1400-13); 3 grossi (1 Ranieri Zeno, 1253-68; 1 Pietro Gradenigo, 1289-1311; 1 Giovanni Soranzo, 1312-28);
- Modena, 2 grossi (XIII secolo);
- Bologna, 2 bolognini d'oro e 2 grossi (1230-1300);
- Firenze, 4 (?) fiorini dal 1336 al XIV secolo;
- Roma, 1 ducato (Senato Romano, 1350-1489);
- Savoia, 3 mezzi grossi (Amedeo VIII, 1391-1434);
- monete feudali e reali francesi dal 1226-1270 al 1422;
- monete di varie zecche tedesche dal 1353 al 1382;
- 1 goldengulden attribuito a Alberto II d'Austria (1339-58);
- monete di zecche dei Paesi Bassi emesse dal 1292 al 1393.
- 1 sesino per Pietro conte di Ginevra (1374-91);
- 2 denari per Amedeo VI o VII di Saint-Maurice (Valais, 1343-91).

A queste vanno aggiunte alcune altre monete analoghe probabilmente provenienti dallo stesso ripostiglio e acquistate dal rivenditore Clerici a Milano.

(P) Zermatt (Bezirk Visp), Theodul-Pass / Colle del Teodulo, 1984-94 (dep.: ante 1610)

Nel 1984 furono scoperti da privati presso il Colle del Teodulo, a circa 3.000 metri di quota, i resti di un cadavere umano che era rimasto rinchiuso nel ghiacciaio. Fino all'inizio degli anni '90 del XX secolo vennero raccolti ossa umane, armi, monete, resti di mulo, gioielli in argento e svariati pezzi di vetro, legno, tessuto, metallo e cuoio venuti alla luce a seguito dello scioglimento dei ghiacci nella parte superiore del ghiacciaio del Teodulo. La localizzazione in uno spazio ristretto e una datazione dei materiali sostanzialmente omogenea consentono di porre in relazione il nucleo principale di questi oggetti con un singolo evento sfortunato, che ebbe come teatro il ghiacciaio a cavallo dei secoli XVI e XVII, come dimostrano le 184 monete di una borsa, la maggior parte delle quali data alla seconda metà XVI secolo. Le armi scoperte vicino al corpo suggeriscono che fosse un soldato o un mercenario. Nove pezzi d'argento sono di grosso modulo (ducaton), conati quasi tutti a Milano. Le altre monete sono esemplari a basso tenore di argento prodotti in zecche dell'area piemontese-savoiarda. Nel ritrovamento si osserva una rilevante presenza di contraffazione di tipi milanesi e di Savoia. Monete provenienti dal nord delle Alpi non costituiscono che una piccola parte del ritrovamento.

(SF) La Tour-de-Peilz, 1756 (dep.: n.s.)

DE MOLIN 1911, pp. 277-278: Au XVIII^e siècle, en 1756, on découvrit à La Tour-de-Peilz plusieurs tombes dans lesquelles se trouvaient des squelettes. La plupart avaient entre les dents des monnaies de cuivre doré de forme octogone et taillées en biseau. Ce sont des falsifications de monnaies espagnoles, connues sous le nom de «monnaies de gallion», parce qu'on les frappait tant bien que mal sur le vaisseau pendant la traversée. Les bords en biseau sont dus à la lime de l'ajusteur, qui, avant la frappe, enlevait ce qu'il pouvait y avoir en excès dans le poids de l'or. Cette manière de punir les faux-monnayeurs, de leur mettre entre les dents la preuve de leur crime, après les avoir pendus et leur avoir coupé le poignet droit, n'était pas en usage seulement dans nos pays. Ces pièces, d'or ou d'argent, ne sont pas rares chez nous à cause de la proximité de la Franche-Comté, pays espagnol. Il s'en est trouvé surtout dans les environs de Sainte-Croix, à Vuiteboeuf et jusqu'en Valais, à Martigny, où j'ai eu l'occasion récemment d'acquérir une assez grosse trouvaille de ces pièces plus curieuses que belles. Heureusement qu'elles voisinaient avec quelques bonnes pièces de l'évêché de Sion.

(H) Vulruz, inizi del XIX o del XX secolo (?) (dep.: c. 1380 (per MEC 12) o c. 1385 (per MARTIN 1971))

Ripostiglio con 17 monete. Composizione:

- per MARTIN 1971

- 3 denari AR, vescovado di Losanna, ante 1375;
- 1 denaro AR, Amedeo III conte di Ginevra, zecca di Annecy, c. 1360-1362;
- 2 viennesi MI (impropriamente definiti bianchetti), Amedeo VI di Savoia (1343-1383), zecca di Avigliana (?);
- 3 quarti MI anonimi, attribuiti ad Amedeo VI di Savoia (1343-1383), zecca di Avigliana (?);
- 2 mezzi grossi AR, Amedeo VI di Savoia (1343-1383), zecca di Pinerolo o Avigliana (?);
- 1 quarto MI, Amedeo III d'Acaia (1367-1407), zecca di Pinerolo, c. 1369-1377;
- 1 mezzo grosso AR, Giovanni II Paleologo (III di Monferrato), zecca di Chivasso, c. 1378-1381;
- 1 pegione AR, Galeazzo II Visconti (1359-1378), zecca di Pavia;
- 1 sesino MI, Galeazzo II e Bernabò Visconti co-signori (1354-1378), zecca di Milano;
- 1 sesino MI, Galeazzo II Visconti, zecca di Milano;
- 1 sesino MI, Bernabò Visconti (1354-1378); zecca di Milano;

- per MEC 12, p. 698

- Chivasso, 1 mezzo grosso (Giovanni III Paleologo, 1378-81);
- Milano, 2 sesini (1 Bernabò e Galeazzo II Visconti, 1354-78; 1 Bernabò solo; entrambi con puntini e anelli);
- Pavia, 1 grosso pegione (con rosette) e 1 sesino (con puntini e anelli), entrambi a nome di Galeazzo II Visconti, c. 1360-78;
- Pinerolo, 1 quarto (Amedeo III di Savoia-Acaja, 1367-1402);
- Savoia, 2 mezzi grossi, 3 quarti e 2 bianchetti (Amedeo VI, 1343-83);
- Ginevra, 1 denier comitale (emissione del 1360-62);
- Losanna, 3 deniers (emissione ante 1375).

Grazie a questo ripostiglio è stato possibile assegnare ad Amedeo VI alcune monete databili a prima del 1381 e fino ad allora di incerta attribuzione.

Le attribuzioni delle monete sabaude alle zecche proposte in MARTIN 1971 appaiono opinabili, e richiedono dunque nuove valutazioni.

(H) unknown, n.s. (dep.: early XIV century)

An apparent hoard of 691 Venetian silver grossi and 393 Mamluk silver dirham fragments is discussed. 640 of the Venetian coins were of the second type of Antonio Venier struck between 1394 and 1400, and it was possible to work out the sequence of punches used to make the dies and establish a chronology for the issue. The introduction of the bearded doge variety is dated to 1397, after a de facto weight reduction officially recognised in 1399.

Nature of the site at the time of concealment or loss: ecclesiastical building (church, monastery, chapel,

(H) Batman, n.s. (ante January 2018 (probable in 2017)) (dep.: post 321 BC)

In January 2018 a Turkish collector informed the researches of a small hoard of 15 Alexander the Great tetradrachms (none in the name of Philip III), found by a farmer on the surface of private land on the outskirts of Batman in south-east Turkey, probably in 2017. No container was recorded; if there had been one, it must have been of perishable material, like a leather or cloth bag.

The state of preservation of the pieces is good, although many show some wear. Some of the tetradrachms showed their original dark patina at the time when they were photographed and weighed. Some are half-cleaned, others completely cleaned, since the finder wanted to sell the coins quickly.

MARTÍNEZ CHICO, GONZÁLEZ GARCÍA 2018 suggest below that the hoard could be related to the demobilized soldiers of Craterus and/or the First War of the Diadochi (321 BC). Alexander hoards from Anatolia of the late fourth century BC are of particular interest because of their scarcity and historical importance. Despite the difficulties in information retrieval, the Turkish collector said that the hoard was complete. This cannot be guaranteed, and the group could perhaps be only a part of the total found. All the coins were sold and their whereabouts cannot be traced.

Cons.: Dispersed.

monnaies ont été découvertes dans leur contexte strati-graphique. Parmi ces 344 monnaies, ont été recensé 158 monnaies grecques et 64 monnaies frappées sous l'Empire romain, dont 27 sont des monnaies provinciales et 37 des monnaies impériales. Pour l'époque byzantine, ont été identifié seulement deux monnaies. 120 monnaies restent indéterminées à cause de leur état de conservation.

(H) Denizli, n.s. (ante 1963) (dep.: c. 230-210 BC)

Hellenistic hoard found in Denizli (Turkey). Most of the coins are drachms of Alexander the Great (Lampsacus: 24; Abydus: 15; Magensia: 18; Sardis: 10; "Colophon": 36; Teos: 3; Mylasa: 2; Miletus: 5; Side: 2; uncertain: 12).

The study of the weights (along with those of other similar hoards as "Armenak" and Cavalla) strongly suggests a burial date late in the 3rd c. BC (c. 230-210 BC – a fact confirmed by the presence of 2 overstrikes: Byzantium and Chalkedon).

(H) Emet, n.s. (ante 1981) (dep.: beginning 14th century)

Hoard in the Kütahya Museum consisting of Venetian silver grosso coins represented by a total of 48 pieces.

The silver Venetian grossi were acquired by the museum by "purchase" in 1981. Even though researchers approach the coins acquired by museums through purchase with suspicion, these coins are considered a part of a hoard due to the patina on them and as they are dated to sequential periods. In addition, the holes drilled into the coins (maybe when converted to jewellery later?) are considered as the proof of the group belonging to a hoard. Even though the subsequently drilled holes on the coins makes historical interpretation harder, this group of 48 grossi was equal in value to 2 gold ducats in the Venetian system, suggesting a monetary sum.

The group of pierced coins in the Kutahya Museum comprises 48 specimens of the Venetian silver grosso denomination. There is 1 coin minted in the reign of doge Francesco Dandolo (1329-39), 1 of Andrea Dandolo (1343-54), 2 of Andrea Contarini (1368-82), 38 of Antonio Venier (1382-1400), and 1 of Michele Steno (1400-13). There is also 1 imitation in the name of Francesco Dandolo, 1 in the name of Andrea Contarini, and 3 in the name of Antonio Venier.

(H) Ephesus/Efeso, 2016 (dep.: c. 523-530)

In 2016 a hoard, deposited in early Byzantine times, was discovered during excavations on the upper Agora. In all probability, the coins were originally placed in a small bag made of organic material. They were discovered in the space between two wall facings of the southern wall of the south stoa. Since the find circumstances are unambiguous, there is no doubt that the hoard was deposited from above and, therefore, the colonnade must have been cleared away and the bulk of the building material removed by this point.

The present parcel of 160 coins is thus of great interest, on the one hand because of its archaeological relevance, and on the other hand because it represents an almost archetypical hoard from the early sixth century.

Compositions:

- Constantius II (337-61): 2 (1.25%);
- Early Theodosian (383-95): 3 (1.87%);
- Honorius or Theodosius II (408-23): 1 (0.63%);
- Theodosius II or Valentinian III (425-50): 1 (0.63%);
- Marcian (450-7): 1 (0.63%);
- Aelia Zenonis (475-6): 1 (0.63%);
- Zeno, second reign (476-91): 7 (4.37%);
- Anastasius I (491-518): 31 (19.37%);
- Theoderic (493-526): 1 (0.63%);
- Thrasamund (496-523): 6 (3.75%);
- Hilderic (523-30): 2 (1.25%);
- Uncertain ruler 104 (65.00%).

The 65% of coins which could not be attributed to a ruler were heavily corroded.

Only one coin (no. 17, the 40 nummi piece) shows clear traces of the mint signature. One fifth of the coins can be attributed to a specific mint.

Mints represented in the hoard:

- Antioch: 1 (0.63%);
- Carthage: 8 (5.00%);
- Constantinople: 14 (8.75%);
- Cyzicus: 3 (1.87%);
- Nicomedia: 7 (4.37%);
- Rome: 1 (0.63%);
- Uncertain mint: 126 (78.75%).

In the case of the Eastern Roman and early Byzantine minimi, these attributions rest entirely on stylistic or typological criteria, sometimes based on tiny parts of the image, which is all that can be seen.

The hoard is of great importance for the settlement history, because we can now assume that the upper Agora of Ephesus had lost its original function by the 520s, and that consequently the removal of stone material from the public buildings was permitted.

The excavations were conducted by a project financed by the DFG (the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft) under the direction of Prof. Dirk Steuernagel (University of Regensburg). The archaeological field work was directed by the Austrian Archaeological Institute.

A hoard of 6th century solidi and fractions was found in 1994 in Gökler, Turkey, during illegal prospections with a metal detector. The hoard includes seven die-linked solidi of Justinian, three solidi of Justin II, five solidi of Tiberius II and thirty-six solidi, semisses, and tremisses of Maurice, many of them die-linked. The most interesting coins in the hoard are two 23-carat light-weight solidi of Maurice. The hoard was probably concealed in the last decade of the 6th century.

(SF) Küçükçekmece Lake Basin, scavi 2010-12 (dep.: n.s.)

During the excavation seasons of 2010-12 at Küçükçekmece Lake Basin (10 km west of Istanbul), sixty coins and a Byzantine weight were found. Most of the coins date to the Byzantine and Ottoman periods; only ten coins date to the pre-Byzantine period, more specifically the Roman Imperial Period (mostly Late Roman, 4th-5th centuries). Six coins were joined together and very corroded; it was impossible to make a clear identification of them, as no cleaning process has been carried out upon them. The only identifiable coin was of Arcadius, a bronze coin (AE3) with a reverse type of Victory crowning Emperor.

Among the finds: principality of Achaia, denier tournois MI, Isabelle of Villehardouin (1297-1301) mint of Clarentza, 1299-1391.

(H) Pamphylia, 1966 (?) (dep.: c. 270 d.C.)

72 bronze coins in the collection of John Mossop, which was placed on deposit at the Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge, in 1990. They are identified by a note on Mossop's original tickets saying 'Perge hoard, Dec. '66' or similar. A dusty green-brown patina is present on all coins, confirming that they are all part of one assemblage. It is clear that Mossop travelled widely in Turkey, and many of his tickets record coins purchased in Istanbul, Antalya, Alanya and elsewhere; however, it is not clear whether this hoard was purchased in Perge, or whether the label refers instead to the predominance of coins of that city in the group.

Sixty-four of the coins were issued by the city of Perge, seven by the other cities of Pamphylia, and one by Selge in Pisidia. The earliest coin is of Caracalla, the latest of Aurelian, giving a terminus post quem of AD 270. It would appear that the hoard was deposited when the debasement of the Roman imperial silver gave a much greater value to the large civic bronzes of the third century.

(SF) Sardis/Sardi, excavations 1988-2002 (dep.: V sec. a.C.)

Two Archaic coins were discovered in excavations of the western fortification of Lydian Sardis in the summer of 2002. The coins, one gold and one silver, are Lydian 12th staters with the confronting foreparts of a lion and bull on the obverse and a square incuse punch on the reverse, the type of coins that are commonly referred to today as “croeseids”. They come from under and around a cobbled pavement belonging to the fortification. The pavement and the coins under it were sealed by destruction debris when the fortification was demolished, an event that can be confidently assigned to the capture of Sardis by Cyrus the Great of Persia in the 540s B.C. A third coin, although not recognized as such at the time, was found in 1988 in the destruction debris itself with the skeleton of a young man, probably a casualty of the battle. Upon cleaning, this coin proved to be a croeseid silver 24th stater. The discovery of these coins from a secure context offers a new and much-needed fixed point in the chronology of the Archaic coinage of Asia Minor.

UKRAINE

(H) Kamenets-Podol'skyj, nearby, 2011 (dep.: 13th century)

The hoard was accidentally found in 2011, near the town of Kamenets-Podol'skyj, Ukraine. Now it is being kept in a private collection in Moscow. The hoard consists of 297 fragments of concave billon coins. Its total weight is 95.17 g. Weight of the fragments ranges from 0.06 g to 0.78 g. Roughly, two thirds of all of the coins form a group of weight ranging from 0.21 g to 0.40 g. The diagram shows a normal distribution: arithmetic mean is 0.32 g, median is 0.31 g. This does clearly show an al marco count: one thousand fragments weighs around ca. 310-320 g, i.e. the Byzantine libra of the 13th century. Remedium around 65 per cent. Thus, the hoard consists of minor counting and monetary units. Metal content of fragments corresponds to the norm of the first half of the 13th century.

Amongst the fragments, it turned possible to attribute about 110 specimens of the following typological groups: coins of the Empire of Thessalonica and probably Nicaean Empire, so called «Bulgarian» imitations and coins of the Latin states of Constantinople and Thessalonica. The composition of the hoard is typical to Balkans region. In the middle of the 13th century the town of Kamenets-Podol'skyj was at the intersection of trade routes. In the Southwest Rus' finds of coins, like those whose fragments were found in the hoard, are quite common.

(SF) Koshary, n.s. (dep.: V-IV sec. a.C.)

ast Istrian 'wheel coin' found at the Koshary site. The site is located on the northern shore of the Black Sea on the right bank of the Tiligulskii Liman and consists of a settlement, a sacral zone around an open air altar (eschara) and a necropolis. The settlement existed between the end of the 5th and the middle of the 3rd centuries BC. Among other artifacts, 55 coins have been found at the site during regular archaeological excavations. Apart from a bronze coin of Tyras and the discussed Istrian piece, all the other coins found at Koshary are Olbian. The 'wheel coin' was discovered in a dugout located in the southern part of the sacral area around the eschara. The cast 'wheel coins' were produced in the 5th-4th centuries BC in Istros and were in circulation in a wide area covering a great part of the western and northwestern Black Sea shore. The find at Koshary, when combined with other finds in Luzanivka and Ochakov, marks a trade route between Istros, Nikonion and Olbia. As it was found in the eschara area, one can suppose that the Istrian coin was not used as currency, but possessed a sacral nature instead.

(H) Simferopol, in the suburbs, uncertain, probably in the late 2009 – early 2010 (dep.: mid 15th century)

In the suburbs of Simferopol city (Crimea) a buried treasure of Moldavian coins was found under indefinite circumstances, probably in the late 2009 – early 2010. The treasure included 1200 of half groats from Alexander I (1400-1432).

A lot of 379 specimens of the half groats has been examined in DERGACIOVA 2012. This lot consisted of some species of the half groats from the second part of the reign of Alexander I, imitations and fakes. Our preliminary conclusion is that the hoard was formed in the second part of the reign of Alexander I – probably first year/years of the reign of Ilias I (1409/1415-1432/1433).

(H) Stizhok, spring 2011 (dep.: end of 15th – beginning of 16th century)

In the spring of 2011, a clay pot was found in a field nearby the village Stizhok (Shumsk district, Ternopil' region, Ukraine). The pot contained about 2,500 silver coins struck in the Golden Horde, Crimean Khanate, Caffa, Principalities of Wallachia and Moldavia, and Lithuania. The significant part of oriental coins bears the Tartar, Moldavian and Lithuanian countermarks. Most likely, the treasure was hidden during the Tartar military expansion at the end of 15th and beginning of 16th centuries.
